*Confession (In Unison) O Thou God of holy love, we acknowledge that at the beginning of this year our lives do not stand before Thee as a book unwritten. Much that we shall do has been spelled out already, even before the year has begun. Inscribed deep within are old habits and familiar behavior patterns. We know that these in large part will write for us the history of this coming year. Cause us to be aware of thy forgiving grace, and when we have written a life page full of the errors of our misdeeds, help us to acknowledge ourselves for what we are, and to seek thy love; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

"Give Me A Light"

Scripture: Mark 8:34-38

(Illustration of "Give Me A Light" in poem by M.L. HASKINS)

There may be some of you who have looked at this sermon title and ~~xxxxxxxx~~ ~~xxxxxxx~~ decided you know where the idea originated. But if you have come to the conclusion it started with a commercial on TV you are wrong.
Long before Madison Avenue dreamed up the commercial a writer identified only as M. L. Haskins wrote the lines:

And I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year:
Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown."

For the past few days we have heard the phrase "Happy New Year." Happiness is the wish of everyone. But happiness is an elusive sort of element which escapes us many times. All sorts of comparisons have been made as to what true happiness really consists of. One of these has been defined by the operator of a large earth moving piece of machinery.

(Illustration of earth grader with bumper stickers on it)

All of us are familiar with the delays entailed by detours on roads being constructed or reconstructed. On the front and back of a large road grader the operator knowing the anxiety these delays always cause, had placed a sign. Those signs declare: "The road to happiness is almost always under construction."

W^e all know this to be true. So is there anyway to really have a Happy New Year? Yes there is. To the person who asks "Give me a Light that I may tread safely into the unknown" the answer is to be found in three things a popular ~~lectur~~ lecturer of a few years ago gave. All three of them are found in our Scripture this morning. ~~Thexfixtxenexxxxxselfxfixtxelivexwithx~~ ~~xxxxorderxtoxlivexwithxxxxselfxxxxxmustxhavexxxxxenexxxxxextenentxxxxor~~ ~~livexxxxxxcannotxhavexthisxxxxentententxifxwe~~

Those three things are: "A self fit to live with, a faith fit to live by, and a work fit to live for." A SELF FIT TO LIVE WITH, A FAITH FIT TO LIVE BY,
AND A WORK FIT TO LIVE FOR.

Jesus said in the 34th verse, "Whosoever will come after Me." That means anyone. You are a "Whosoever" that God wants as part of His kingdom. As I look at life as it is lived in today's world I cannot possibly imagine how anyone can live apart from God. To what do you cling when all around ~~ix~~ are the horrible events which take place each day: Death, destruction, war, famine, disease, all of these things can't help but make anyone question the reason for living and life. The answer to a "Self fit to live with" can only be found in a personal relationship with God which is only possible through Jesus Christ. Only Jesus Christ can change ~~xx~~ you. He majors in changing men and women in this life and for all eternity.

Then secondly, if you have received Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior you should be about the task of building a "Faith to live by." Many people start out on the Christian life only to become bogged down in a short period of and to fall by the wayside defeated. We need to keep going on. That is why we should read the Bible everyday. But not only should we read it, we should heed it. We need to form a relationship with God through prayer. Do you pray often? Do you pray about all of your problems and cares? Do you pray when you are happy? Do you pray just to tell God how much He means to you? Are you seeking to grow by attending church as often as possible? If you can answer yes then you are building a "Faith to live by."

The third element of happiness is "A work fit to live for." It isn't enough to just go through the motions of life, there must be more. It's not enough to just eat and sleep and go to work, and do the cycle all over again. These things are all important, but there must be more.

Jesus said, "Whosoever will come after Me," and that means, "Follow Me." If This means making Him first in our lives. It means putting aside our very personal look at our lives and getting involved in His work. His disciples gave up their jobs to follow Him. They gave up fishing and tax collecting. It doesn't mean we must give up our occupations to serve Him, but it does mean giving up serving ourselves to serving Him.

Perhaps this next year looms ahead as just another of the same old years. But it needn't be that. It can become altogether new and different ~~because~~ if we make the necessary changes. How can we follow Jesus?

First we must volunteer. He said, "Whosoever will come after Me, let him deny himself."

Jesus was saying that we must turn our backs on our selfish wills. We all know how we like to pamper ourselves and look after all of our personal whims. To deny ourselves is to begin looking toward what we can do to make others happy instead of ourselves. It means placing the welfare of others above our own welfare. Too much of the modern day philosophy of life is "Me first." This is in direct conflict with what the Christian philosophy should be. Jesus said the man who denies himself must, "Take up his cross." In other words, discipleship has a price which must be paid. To be a follower of Jesus Christ is not free with luxury and ease. It means commitment. How much are we willing to commit to Him? A work that's fit to live for is a work that is involved in the Christian life. To take up the cross means to bear the burdens of life which are a part of our lives. Jesus told what that cross bearing entailed when He added, "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for My sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it."

The secret of life is to lose our lives in the Lord.

(Illustration of member of church finding money & giving it back)

A minister tells of a member of his church traveling by plane on business. At the end of the flight he reached into the rack above his head for his coat and his hand ~~landed~~ landed on a package with a rubber band around it.

He picked that package up and discovered it was a stack of 100 dollar bills. Not only that, but there was another stack next to it. Altogether the money amounted to $20,000 dollars. Almost everyone was off the plane so he asked the stewardess at the door to call the pilot. The pilot came to him and he showed him the money. He asked, "What do I do with this?" The pilot said, "I've never had this problem before, we better turn it in at the terminal. They did this and while they were at the terminal managers desk, a man was ushered into the office. He said he had left some money on the plane. They asked him to ~~xxxxxx~~ describe it and he told them exactly what the money was and where it was so they gave it to him. He walked away and never even said thanks.

That Christian man got into a cab and he said it was like Satan got in with him. On that cab ride he was confronted with why he had done such a stupid thing. When it seemed like Satan said to him, "You sir, are a fool for giving up that money," he began to think of what Jesus had said about saving his life and losing it. And he answered out loud to the devil, "Yes, but look what I've got." The cabbie thinking he was being held up and the passenger had a gun asked, "What did you say buddy?" The passenger said, "Oh nothing, I was just talking to the devil." And the cabbie was watching that guy the rest of the way in the rear view mirror.

When the world and Satan have you convinced that you are missing out on something, just remember to say, "Look what I've got in Jesus Christ." That's the important thing. The world and all that is in it will pass away. But God's Word will always remain.

Jesus ~~added His~~ added, "For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall ~~xx~~ a man give in exchange for his soul?"

Man has always sought to hang onto the things of this life and this world. But all of this one day shall pass on to others. The Emperor Charlemagne wanted to be remember as a ruling monarch.

(Illustration of Charlemagne buried in sitting position)

On his death Charlemagne decreed that his body be placed ~~xxxxx~~ upon a throne. The crown was to be placed on his head, his mantle on his shoulders, his sword at his side and the Bible opened on his knees with his hands resting on it. About 180 years after his death his tomb was opened and the skeleton of Charlemagne was discovered dismembered and in various positions. The skull was still wearing the crown and a bony finger was pointing to a verse of Scripture, "For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?"

For everyone seeking a Happy New Year, it can only come from a walk with Jesus Christ. Do you seek a light for this year?

Haskins wrote: And I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year:
"Give me a light that I may tread safely into the unknown."

And he replied:

"Go out into the darkness and put thine hand into the Hand of God. That shall be to thee better than any light - and safer than a known way."

God invited you to begin this year with your hand in His.

Scripture: Numbers 27:15-23 N.A.S.B.

In the next few weeks leading up to the beginning of Lent we are going to look at an Old Testament saint who was next in line to the number one man of God and that man was Joshua.

(Illustration of Chesty Puller in Korea when surrounded)

During the Korean War, Chesty Puller the Marine officer known for his toughness and fighting character was told that he and his troops were completely surrounded. He remarked, "The enemy is in front, the enemy behind, and the enemy on both flanks. Good. They'll never get away from me."

That is an expression of confidence, but it is confidence based on preparation. Our Scripture this morning speaks of this preparation.

Joshua was born in Egypt. His father and mother were slaves along with all of the children of Israel who had fallen victim to the Pharaoh who came to power and didn't know of Joseph as we are told in Exodus chapter one. The young life of Joshua was probably influenced by his father coming home physically drained and exhausted from the hard labor enforced upon him by the harsh Egyptian taskmasters. Like any and all of the Israelites Joshua could have lost his life many times. But God saw fit to preserve his life. He remembered one night in particular when his life and the lives of all the people of Israel were preserved by the intervention of God. That night saw the first-born of the Egyptians all die, but God "passed over" the people of Israel because they had been forewarned to paint their doorposts with the blood of a sacrificial lamb. And according to Scripture, Joshua was the eldest son in his family, and the first-born.

But Joshua saw firsthand the courage of Moses as he went ~~xxx~~ into the presence of Pharaoh each time to announce the plagues which God would send upon the Egyptians because of Pharaoh's hardened heart. And he saw Moses lead the people to the edge of the Red Sea, wave his rod over the water and the water parted; then when everyone was safely on the other side, wave his rod again and the waters returned to normal drowning the Egyptians who were pursuing the Israelites. All of this had convinced Joshua that God was THE God, the True God and there was no other. And so it is that we read of Joshua becoming Moses' right hand man. Scripture tells us in Numbers 11 that Joshua was an attendant of Moses from his youth. It was from his experience of attending Moses that Joshua drew close to God. He was with Moses during the year at Mt. Sinai and it was Joshua who went completely up the mountain away from all of the others when Moses talked face to face with God. But we know that Joshua didn't share that complete experience because in the 1st verse of this Scripture we read, "Moreover, he shall stand before Eleazar the priest, who shall inquire of him by the judgement of the Urim before the Lord."

The distinction here is that Moses didn't need to come to God through a priest which meant that he had direct access to God. But Joshua had to come to God not only through the priest Eleazar, but that priest was to use the spiritual die to seek God's will for Joshua.

Following this, Joshua was sent out as one of the 12 spies to spy out the land before them. Because of his faithfulness along with that of Caleb, these two men were the only Israelites over the age of 20 who were permitted to enter the promised land. All of the others, including Moses and Aaron died in the wilderness. It was after the spying incident that Moses changed the name of Joshua. Prior to this his name was "Yoshea," or "Yehoa." That name meant simply "Salvation." But his name to Joshua gave him the name, "God is Salvation," and this is the same as ~~Jesus~~ the name Jesus. This meant that he was set apart at this point to be the Lord's servant; he was to be the means of showing forth God's Salvation, God's deliverance.

Moses knew that ~~the~~ time ~~was~~ was running out for him. God had spoken to him and told him of future events. So Moses speaks to God and we read, "Say the Lord, ~~xxx~~ the God of the children of ~~xxx~~ all flesh, appoint a man over the congregation, who will go out and come in before them, and who will lead them out and bring them in, that the congregation of the Lord may not be like sheep which have no shepherd." verses 16-17.

But God had this man prepared understanding in the winter whether Moses completely knew this or not. And God answered Moses, "Take Joshua the son of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit, and lay your hand on him; and have him stand before Eleazar the priest and before all the congregation; and commission him in their sight."

God says, "Here is your man. His name is Joshua and he is filled with My Holy Spirit." ~~xxxxxxx~~ Here was the model. "A model" not only ~~for~~ as a leader, but "A model" for the people to follow and emulate. That's what it takes for men and women whom God will use; it is people "in whom is the Spirit," God's Holy Spirit. But that doesn't just happen overnight. It takes preparation. What about you? Where are you in the process of demonstrating your commitment to the Lord and His work?

(Illustration of gardener having abilities to use, but "He won't.")

A man was looking for a gardener and received a letter of recommendation from a good friend of his telling of the excellent abilities of a man named John. He wrote, "John has an excellent knowledge of gardening. He knows about the chemistry of the soil. He knows just what and when to plant. He knows how to cultivate the finest flowers to make a garden of beauty." When the man read the letter he said, "Ay, that is just the man I want."

But then he noticed three words at the bottom of the page which ruined everything. The words were, "But he won't."

How many of us are perhaps just like that? We know what God wants from us; we know what His will is; and we know what we could and should be doing. But there are three little words in our lives that keep us from doing and being what God wants us to be. Those words are, "But we won't."

Being prepared is one thing, but demonstration that is another.

(Illustration of Helen Hayes and her first Thanksgiving turkey) one year ago Helen Hayes, the actress tells of making her first Thanksgiving dinner. She told her husband Charles MacArthur and her son James that she didn't know how it would turn out. She said that if it wasn't right, "I don't want anyone to say a word. We'll just get up from the table, without comment, and go down to the hotel for dinner."

She went into the kitchen and when she entered the dining room bearing the turkey, she found her husband and son seated at the table wearing their hats and coats.

That's how God wants us to use the preparation we ~~xxxx~~ should have been about in our lives as Christians; to be ready to report for duty when He calls. And He does call us, everyday of our lives to live for Him. We may not be answering the summons, but the call comes and we should always be ready just as Joshua was.

With Joshua as our model we also see that he was not involved in the here and now of life, taking care of his creature comforts and his own personal needs. What about you? Are you concerned with the here and now in which you live to the exclusion of all else? Are you concerned about business success, or material accomplishments to the neglect of spiritual living?

(Illustration of man lifeless daughter and fainting wife)

A young father watched as his small daughter fell over the fence while climbing it and lay perfectly still as though dead. He rushed out of the house and scooped up her lifeless body and started running to the hospital a few blocks down the street. As he dashed past his wife who was hanging up clothes in the yard and she saw the lifeless form of her daughter in his arms she fainted. Someone asked him afterwards ~~xxxxxx~~ how he handled the situation. "There he was carrying his daughter in his arms and then his wife fainted. "What did you do," he was asked. "What could I do," he answered. "I hollered, Get up woman, this is no time to faint."

This is no time for us to faint from what we should be doing. Whatever preparation God has granted us must be put into practice. Yet, too many people neglect to do so. They are ~~xxxx~~ for the pilgrimage of life.

(Illustration of Mike Manzas preparations for his death)

A man named Mike Manzas began to make preparations for his death about two years before he died. First, he went on and bought a cemetery plot. He went out weekly and visited the place where he would be buried. He planted grass on it and on Memorial Day he put flowers on the grave site. He said, "I want to see flowers now because I won't see them after I'm gone." A little later he went to a funeral parlor and said he wanted to buy a casket. Every time he passed the funeral home, he stopped in to look at the casket. He would stand beside it and say, "That's where I'm going to live someday."

One day he invited all of his family members to his house for dinner.

After eating his meal, Mike began to pass out the material possessions he had in his house. Then he handed his nephew his will and ~~xxxxxx~~ as he did this he dropped over dead of heart failure.

Mike Manzas had made every provision for his body, but none for his soul.

Mike Manzas is no different than many, many other people. The here and now is what is taken care of, but the things of God are sadly neglected. Jesus said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all of these things shall be added unto you."

This is what Joshua was about in his life which set him apart as "A Model" for the Lord's use and work. Will you accept the challenge God directs to you? ~~God gives us~~ ~~God has given us~~ to begin with prepared to serve Him. [^] ~~WHAT WILL WE DO WITH WHAT GOD HAS GIVEN US?~~ Jesus was brought to the Lord in the presence of Eleazar the priest and this Scripture ends with the words, "When he laid his hands on him and commissioned him, just as the Lord had spoken through Moses."

Will you present yourself before the Lord and let Him commission you for His use:

Scripture: Joshua 1:1-11

(Illustration of athlete seeking entrance to college and ID of his coach)
A young man who was a good football player but a poor student was being sought after by all of the major colleges. One of those colleges wanting desperately to have him on their football team, but knowing of his scholastic weakness, determined that they would make ~~it~~ the entrance requirement easier for him. The Dean of Admissions said to him, "Now young man, if you can answer just one question correctly we will admit you. Tell me please, how much is six plus six? The boy thought about it for some time and then he answered, "Thirteen. The college officials sat looking at each other and shaking their heads and the coach spoke up and said, "Aw, dear, let him in, he only misse^d it by two."

Success in life is often spelled by great achievements in ~~sports~~ a certain area. But if those who are considered successes in the spiritual realm are measured with the worldly measurements, they must be considered as failures. One of those spiritual giants is the man Joshua. Last week we looked at how Joshua had prepared himself for the task which was suddenly thrust upon him. This week we are going to look at God's call to Joshua and why he succeeded in answering that call.

~~xxxxxx~~ We read that following the death of Moses, God spoke to Joshua and He said, (read verses 2 through 5).

Picture Joshua being told all of this. Sure, he had been the understudy of Moses; sure, he had been prepped in Israel over the role of leader of the Israelites. But don't think for a moment that he wasn't scared. He had seen this great leader and how he had handled the situation the people of Israel encountered. Moses had brought them across the Red Sea; he had received from God the law; he had listened to the murmurings of the people and had talked to God about their rebellion and their needs. All of these things had made Moses the revered leader and man that he was. Now, Joshua was being asked to step into his shoes and take over the reins of leadership. What if he failed. What if he couldn't handle the people and their needs? Picture yourself in a similar situation. What would you do if you were suddenly confronted by the Board of Directors and told that you had succeeded a popular and successful leader? But God understood the fears Joshua would have and He answered him not once, but four times in this chapter. In the 6th verse He says, (read this); in the 7th verse He says, (read this); in the 8th verse He says, (read this); and in the 10th verse He repeats, (read this). God was assuring and reassuring Joshua that he could handle the job because God Himself would be with him.

Then we learn how God spells out the conditions for success as recorded in verses 7 through 8. Here we find 5 direct commands from God for Joshua to be successful. In the 7th verse we first read, "Only be strong and very courageous; be careful to do according to all the law which Moses my servant commanded you."

Then second: "Do not turn from it to the right or to the left."

third: verse 8, "This book of the law shall not depart from your mouth!"

fourth: "but you shall meditate on it day and night."

and fifth: "so that you may be careful to do according to all that is written in it."

God told him if he did these things he would have success.

Now from what Joshua was instructed to do and then what he actually was able to do because he listened to God, we can see some similarities for our lives. The underlying theme of this chapter is the phrase "Be strong and courageous." God related this to Joshua in the 6th verse, the 7th verse, the 8th verse, and the 18th verse closes the chapter with the words, "Only be strong and courageous."

God knew Joshua. He knew all about him and he knew his spiritual status.

God understood that Joshua needed help to be "strong and courageous." And just as God knew Joshua, so He knows each one of us. The psalmist David wrote in the 103rd Psalm, "For He knoweth our frame." God knows all about us. He understands our fears, our weaknesses, our anxieties, our emotional problems. And just as we see that He led Joshua through the turbid and situations that he faced, so He will do for us. God is reaching out to each of us to help us, to reassure us, just as He did for Joshua. The complete proof of that guidance God revealed in Jesus Christ. The author of Hebrews reassures us of this in the 4th chapter, verses 14 through 16, (read these).

The second similarity we see in Joshua's life which can be compared to ours is that God wants us to be obedient to His word. The 5 commands which God gave to Joshua were all based upon His word. Joshua was to follow the law, but the law was not to depart from his mouth, and he was to meditate on it day and night. That meant he was to first of all live it; then talk about it and tell it; and then he was to be in constant search within it. We too should be absorbed in God's word. The apostle Peter tells us something which we should all be able to do. In his 1st letter, chapter 3, verse 15 he says, "But sanctify Christ as Lord in your hearts, always being ready to make a defense to everyone who asks you to give an account for the hope that is in you, yet with gentleness and reverence."

How can we give an account, or answer people if we are unfamiliar with God's word? People tell me this all the time about what "someone has said," or, what "someone has asked them." And when I ask what did you say to them?

invariably the answer is, "Well, I didn't know what to say." God gives us answers, but those answers are to be found only in His word. We cannot help people who speak to us of spiritual matters if we give them secular answers.

Spiritual matters deserve spiritual answers and secular matters deserve spiritual answers also. The problems of this life and of this world are caused mainly because life is sought to be lived in the secular without a thought for the spiritual. Our lives everyday should be a spiritual experience and we see that we are involved in a battle against powers and principalities, we are going to be frustrated. God wants us to live on the spiritual plane and to stop lowering ourselves to the secular in order to please people and have everyone like us. Joshua took the people where God wanted them to go; he taught them what God wanted taught; and he let the chips fall where they may. If we are to be God's people, it is time we began to read and meditate on His Word to arm ourselves for the fight of life.

(Illustration of Bible believers in Ireland)

A few years before World War II began in Europe, a man who distributed Bibles was in ~~xxxxxx~~ eastern Ireland and he gave a Bible to a poor villager there. The man read it, was converted and passed it on to others. Through that one Bible two hundred more became believers. When that Bible distributor, Michael Willester returned to that village in 1942, the group gathered to worship. Mr. Willester suggested that in the service perhaps some of them could recite verses of Scripture. There seemed to be some confusion at this point. One man arose and said, "perhaps we have misunderstood you. Did you mean verses, or chapters?" Mr. Willester asked, "You mean to say there are people here who can recite chapters of the Bible?" And that was precisely the case. Fifteen of them had memorized Matthew and Luke and half of Genesis. One had memorized the Gospels. Between them the two hundred knew almost the whole Bible by heart. That one Bible had been passed from family to family and brought to church each Sunday, so that its pages were badly readable.

And yet, how many of us own two or three Bibles and hardly open them and we still can't get everyone to bring their Bibles on Sunday morning.

Then we see that God was faithful to all that He had told Joshua. The promise God made to Joshua on found in the 8th verse, (read this), is the summation of all that God did in Joshua's life. God never left him nor deserted him. We have a similar promise from Jesus that tells us, "He [I] am with you always even unto the end of the world."

That's a promise of faithfulness that is only asking us to be "strong and courageous as we live our lives. . . . that we follow Him."

(Illustration of little girl confused and asking if God should show thru)

One Sunday on their way home from church, a little girl turned to her mother and said, "Mummy, the preacher's sermon this morning confused me."

The mother asked, "Oh, why is that?"

The little girl replied, "Well, he said that God is bigger than we are. Is that true?"

The mother replied, "Yes, that's true honey."

And he also said that God lives in us. Is that true Mummy?"

Again the mother replied, "Yes."

"Well," said the little girl, "If God is bigger than us, and He lives in us, wouldn't He show through?"

Here is the truth from the mouth of a babe. God should show through us. He showed through the life of Joshua because Joshua took advantage of the "available help" from God. And that is what God wants us to do. We can only be strong and courageous with God's help and direction. Let's begin to let Him show through us.

"How to Succeed"

Scripture: Joshua 2:1-14

Most people are interested to a certain degree in their lineage. Last Christ was I met a man who ~~xxxxxx~~ is originally from Massachusetts and can trace his family back to the Mayflower.

A woman was tedious of ~~fixxxxxxxx~~ making up her family tree. She hired an expert in this field to do the research. The expert did his work and gave her the copy of the family tree. She looked it over and said, "By this is an impressive piece of work. I especially like how you gave technical titles which describe the occupations of many of them. For instance, this uncle, you wrote, 'He occupied the chair of applied electricity at one of our better known public institutions.' Just where did he teach?" The expert replied, "He didn't teach madam, he was electrocuted in prison."

This is perhaps a farfetched example of how people try to embellish the truth when it comes to the family tree or our roots and where we came from. But let's look at how God handles this situation. In the Gospel of Matthew, the very first chapter, starting at the first verse and reading through the 6th verse, we read, (read this portion of Scripture). A special note are the 5th and 6th verses. Notice: it tells us, "And to Salmon was born Boaz by Rahab; and to Boaz was born Obed by Ruth; and to Obed, Jesse; and to Jesse was born David the king. And to David was born Solomon by her who had been the wife of Uriah."

Now just what is it that God is pointing out here? In this genealogy of Jesus Christ, the Savior of the world we are looking at the list of His earthly ancestors and we find first of all three women listed. This was never done before. All genealogical lists only contained the names of males, never females. But to make it more dishonorable we not only see three women listed, ~~xxxx~~ but each of them are trashed in one way or another. Rahab, was a prostitute; Ruth was a foreigner and therefore looked down upon as a foreigner; and the "ex-wife of Uriah" was an adulteress. So we discover that God doesn't gloss over the truth. He pictures these ancestors of Jesus just as they are with their faults and all. This then sets the scene for the events which took place in the life of Joshua in the 2nd chapter of our Scripture from Joshua.

Our story opens in the 1st verse where we read: "Then Joshua the son of Nun sent two men as spies secretly from Shittim."

Now why did he only send two? It's a good possibility that Joshua remembered well the lesson of the 12 spies of which he was one and how he and Caleb were the only two who came back with a positive report. The other ten had been so negative they infected all of Israel with a pessimistic outlook which did irreparable harm to the morale of all of them. So this time when he was in command there were only two. Their mission was to, "Go, view the land, especially Jericho."

It is then we read that immediately they went to "the house of a harlot whose name was Rahab, and lodged there."

Here in this idolatrous, immoral city of Jericho was a believer in God and she herself was a prostitute, but she had come to know and believe in the One true God. From all of this and from what subsequently follows we see that God is no respecter of persons. It is God's will that all people be saved from their sins. Jesus, speaking to Nicodemus in the 3rd chapter of the Gospel of John says, "For God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved."

God ~~xxxxxxx~~ can take anyone at any point in their life and redeem them just as He did Rahab. Rahab and all of her family were spared when Jericho was destroyed because she ~~xxx~~ recognized and came to know God as the only true God of the universe. All that she had been was washed away. Isaiah says, "Though your sins are like scarlet they shall become white as wool." That's quite a feat, making red white. But God is in the business of sin first salvation. Actually, God takes sin, which is black and covers it with Red which is the Blood of Jesus Christ and it comes out white.

The King of Jericho must have had a fantastic network of intelligence agents. He knew that some men had entered her house; He knew they had come from Israel and he knew they were there on a mission of spying. So he sent his men to capture them, but Rahab had hidden them and she lied to the men of Jericho concerning where they were. We know that lying is not what he should do, but her background in this wicked and immoral city was such that she did this as a means to protect the men. Rahab could have persuaded the men to leave the city and to take her with them. Instead, she hid them, and when it was safe she let them down the wall on a rope. There are several ~~hidden~~ inside factors which are not evident on the surface in this story. The first one is that Rahab must have been living a changed life for quite sometime before the two spies arrived on the scene. We read in the 6th verse, "But she had brought them up to the roof and hidden them in the stalks of flax which she had laid in order on the roof."

Rahab had been gathering flax. This took time and was laborious work. To have enough flax on that roof to cover two men meant that ~~xxxx~~ she had been gathering it for quite some time, so she couldn't have been practicing her trade of prostitution. By the very fact that she gathered flax, meant that she was making cloth and this also took time. But consider the fact that she had enough rope to let the men down the wall and most walls around cities were at least 30 feet high. That meant a rope of at least 30 feet in length. But the ropes served another purpose and were woven not for the ordinary usage of rope. Remember the rope was of flax, and flax was used for cloth. In ancient times, to get dye it was extracted from ~~xxxxxx~~ rocks boiled for this purpose. It was difficult if not impossible to transport liquid dye in those days. So when dye was being boiled out of rocks, a piece of rope was put into the dye to absorb it. Cloth makers would buy a piece of this dyed rope to dye their cloth with. Water would be boiled, a piece of dyed rope would be placed into the water and the color from the rope would transfer to the cloth. Then the cloth would be washed in the water, the dyed cloth.

To have a long rope made of flax is an indication that Rahab was into making cloth on a rather large scale. The so called "thread" in verse 18 was this scarlet, or red rope on which the two spies were let down over the wall. A thread would not be seen from the ground 30 feet below a window. But a rope would.

But in this scripture we also see the faith of Rahab. In the 9th verse we read that Rahab says, "I know that the Lord has given you the land." There is no "I think," or "Maybe" it is strictly "I KNOW." Completely positive which expresses a complete faith in God. In the book of Hebrews 11:31 we read, "By faith Rahab the harlot did not perish along with those who were disobedient, after she had welcomed the spies in peace."

By faith, Rahab the prostitute not only was forgiven but didn't die along with all of the other residents of Jericho. But why did Rahab have this faith? I believe we need to go back to the 9th through the 11th verses to find the answer. Rahab told the two spies, (read verses 9 through 11). Rahab had faith because she had heard of what God had done. She knew that God really cared for His people. She declared, ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ "For the Lord your God, He is God in heaven above and on earth beneath."

He was not some abstract piece of wood or stone. He was real and He cared about His chosen people and she wanted to be a part of that crowd. Do you know personally that God cares about you? Do you honestly know it for a fact? You should know it, because He does and He proves it over and over again.

Illustration of smoke alarm going off - it was an impending fire at church! Tracey Daniels reported in "Widerest" magazine about a strange incident which happened in the life of her family when she was 16. She said that one winter night ~~xxxx~~ they were awakened in the middle of the night by an unexpected sound at 3:00 A.M. Her Dad dashed down the hall sniffing the air, then back to bed. When he came back upstairs he said, "I don't understand it." He went back in the bedroom and back to bed. Tracey couldn't get back to sleep and she got up, went into her parent's rooms and asked ~~if~~ her Dad if he had checked the whole house. He assured her he had and then her mother exclaimed, "The coffee pot, I think I left it on at the church." Her Dad got into his clothes and dashed out of the house to drive down to the church. About 10 minutes later he returned and reported, "Now I understand. The pot was on - burned empty and beginning to smoke." About a half hour earlier what had wakened them was the smoke alarm in their smoke free house.

God proves His care by showing people something as strange as a smoke alarm going off in a house to warn of an impending fire in their local church. He doesn't always show His care in such dramatic fashion. But He does show it as He did in the lives of the Israelites, which prompted a woman to believe and have faith that there was room in God's mercy for her. This is the entire message of scripture and particularly as revealed in Jesus Christ.

"His Word"

Scripture: Joshua 3:1-17

If you were to give a name which typifies for you what God is, what would that name be?

Your answer is dependent upon how ~~xxx~~ and what you conceive God to be.

There are many people who do not truly understand God who refer to Him as a bully. Did you ever hear Him called that? He is named a "bully" because of the Old Testament where He was operative in the lives of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Moses, Joshua and many such as these. The reasoning behind this thinking is that God ran roughshod not only over those who did not submit to Him, but destroyed anyone who stood in His way. His way was right and He was not willing to listen to anyone else's viewpoint on life.

It seems to me that if there would have been organizations available then such as we have now, the American Civil Liberties Union would have sued God for violation of Civil Liberties.

(Illustration of old lady with aches and pains)

An elderly lady who had many aches and pains, some real and some imaginary, was told by her family that they had taken her to the doctor's, had her examined for everything possible. ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ "Then told her, 'We've done all we can for you. You'll just have to trust us for the rest.'" Visibly shaken by this remark she replied, "Well, dear, that is close to that!"

All people live like this and will only think of surrendering all to God at the end.

(Illustration of Lora Malm and book on Hitler)

Before World War II Lora Malm wrote a book exposing Hitler and his plotters for what they were. The book was confiscated in the German mail system as it was on its way to an American publisher. She fled to England, wrote the book again from memory and sent copies of it to Heinrich Himmler, the Nazi hangman. He took vengeance by imprisoning seven of the author's anti-Nazi friends. Miss Malm went back to Germany in 1943 and offered her life for the freedom of her friends. Himmler offered to enter a whole prison if she would write a book to make Hitler swear good. In refusing she said, "I am willing to forfeit my life, but not my beliefs."

In this human illustration we can see a small measure of all that God is completely. No one who has ever ~~xxx~~ read and understood the Bible can ever question the absolute integrity of God.

Our Scripture this morning points this out in several ways. Joshua had been chosen by God to be the leader of the people of Israel. Spies had been sent out to Jericho in preparation for the conquest of that immoral and evil city. Those spies had returned and reported to Joshua and now he was ready to lead the people on the march to that future battle. In our Scripture Joshua and the people have come to the edge of the River Jordan and they have loitered there in preparation to cross. This river provided a vast obstacle for them. They didn't have bridges, or boats, or any other means to cross this vast and wild stream. We are told in the 15th verse of this chapter, "The Jordan overflows all its banks ~~xxxxxx~~ all the days of harvest."

Even though God had assured Joshua and the people of Israel that He would deliver the crosses into their hands, ~~thxxx~~ the Israelites faced as great a challenge at this point as Moses faced when seeking to cross the Red Sea.

Joshua and Caleb were the only two of this vast army of people who had seen the miracle God had performed there. Joshua was now in charge and was trusting God for another miracle. Can you picture these people as they saw the rushing river before them. This stream was probably as wide as a football field, but the water at flood time reaches a speed of 15 miles per hour. The River drops approximately 1000 feet in its descent from the Sea of Galilee to the Dead Sea. All of these people except Joshua and Balak had only heard stories of what God had done at the Red Sea and now they were faced with a mixture of fear and anticipation. Could God act again?

Joshua himself must have viewed this situation with mixed emotions. What would happen if God did nothing? What would the people do? What would his image be with these people if nothing happened? But Joshua's faith overruled his fears. That is why we read in the 4th verse, "And Joshua spoke to the people, 'Consecrate yourselves, for tomorrow the Lord will do wonders among you.'" ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~

And God did indeed act in this situation. Which shows that God honors faith.

(Illustration of elderly woman, never, bigger car & parking it)
An elderly lady traded in her compact car and bought a large luxury sedan. She drove down this street and when she came to a parking place she pulled beside the car parked in front of that spot, put it in reverse and started to pull in. The space she was pulling in appeared as though she wouldn't get her new car into it. So she cut the wheel sharply and started to back in she saw two policemen staring at her. Flustered, she backed in, startled eyes the car up and pulled forward, making it on the very first try. With a sense of accomplishment she got out of the car and walked to the parking meter. Standing next to it was one of the policemen. Back to her surprise he put a coin in the meter. When he was walking away, he responded to her bewilderment with just two words, "Blessed are they who have not seen and yet believed."

God always honors faith, but He doesn't expect us to take blind leaps of faith. Joshua knew what to expect of God because he had seen what God had done in the past. Therefore, he knew what God could do and he trusted Him to do it.

The second lesson we learn from this scripture is the lesson ~~xx~~ surrounding the conversation God has with Joshua and what Joshua does about it. In the 7th & 8th verses God gives Joshua instructions. (read these verses).

Joshua then begins to tell the people what we read in the 9th through the 11th verses, (read these verses).

But notice! God says, "This day I will begin to exalt you in the sight of all Israel."

and just what does Joshua do? The ordinary reaction would ~~xx~~ have been for Joshua to assemble the people of Israel and to have said, "My people, I want to show you something really spectacular. Keep your eyes on the Jordan River and watch what God is going to do through me." Joshua didn't have the modern communication systems we have today and for this we can probably be thankful. Can you picture what it would have been like. CBS, ABC, NBC and all other networks would have had camera crews there, with men and women to interview Joshua and the leaders of the Israelites; Joshua would have had reporters on and reading from one end; would have stood for all the world to see and with outstretched arms would have drastically pulled every ounce of drama out of this scene. But fortunately for the world, God chose to do this in a very simple time among very simple and unsophisticated people. And God ~~xxx~~ us did not exalt himself as he would have. He sought to let God have the glory. He said, "Come here, and hear the words of the Lord your God," vs 9a. "There was no, "Now hear what Joshua is going to do and what I have to say." He ended his remarks with the words, "Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all these earth is crossing over ahead of you into the Jordan." Joshua knew that it was not right to exalt himself and that God was the one to be exalted. And the lesson taught in this instance is that God honors those who honor Him. The proof in this instance and in every instance for that matter is that God does as He says He will do when it is ~~is~~ Him that is lifted up and glorified and not any human being. In Isaiah 42:8 God says, "I am the Lord, that is My name; I will not give My glory to another. I cannot exalt myself and expect God to honor that."

The third lesson from this passage is seen in what God did. We read in the 14th through the 15th verses, (read those). Picture if you will what was taking place here. Biblical scholars tell us the city of Jericho was located as much as 10 miles back up the Jordan valley. What effect did this have? In the 17th verse we read, (read this verse). Picture in your minds, the eyes of many of the Canaanites looking on this scene. Many of them saw the waters backed up for this long, long stretch. Many saw the Israelites begin to cross this River and walk through it. Can you imagine the effect it must have had on these people? For those who would picture God as being a bully, the lesson here is that God always did, and always will seek to reach out to lost humanity. His message was loud and clear to all of these heathen people. He was saying, "See, what I can do and how this proves that I am the only True God." No matter the circumstances wheteher it be in theses ancient times or in our modern times, God is still standing outside of the hearts and lives of mankind seeking entrance into those lives. He wants all sorts of opportunities so that man doesn't perish, but have everlasting life.

Last November Billy Graham held a Crusade in Tallahassee Florida. I just read of the results of that Crusade. Two rather insignificant items struck my eye. I read, "It was a 21-year-old fireman who told his counselor, 'My grandfather was the only one I could talk to.' In months and my grandfather became a Christian. The day I had decided to talk ~~xxxxx~~ with him about what his decision for Christ meant to him, he died." Talk to ~~xxxxx~~ down his cheeks, that young fireman gave his own life to Christ. It was a 13 year-old man who came forward to accept Christ, saying, 'I've been a street person and a drunk, but I have peace and assurance now. I'm a child of the Lord.' The next day the police called his counselor to say that this man had been found dead and the only identification he had in his pocket was the inviter's card with the counselor's name on it."

The integrity of God shows through in the ordinary everyday circumstances of life. In this lesson we see that God was issuing another opportunity for Samaritans to repent and turn to Him. From the God we created He showed them with ^{THAT HE} ~~THAT HE~~ miracles ^{THAT HE} ~~THAT HE~~ was saying to the world, "Look is coming. Repent turn from your false gods and your wicked ways and live and worship Me. God continues even today to reach out to a sin-sick and dying world to repent and turn to Him. But man's pride keeps him locked into his own little self-sufficient world. Many people belong to a local church and are called Christians. But it is merely a name because they ~~xxxxx~~ may know all about Jesus Christ, but do not know Him personally. Do you have that personal relationship with Him? Can you honestly say that you know Him as your Lord and Savior? The invitation is always extended from the Lord to come to Him while it is still day, for the night comes when no man can work. If you don't know Him accept what He offers today.

"The Five Terror Men"

scripture: colusa 5:1-5

Illustration of ad in ~~xxxxxxx~~ Pullman, Ashington Herald for police:
I read recently of an ad which appeared in the Pullman, Ashington Herald.
The ad read: "Wanted: State trooper applicants. Applicants must be six feet tall with a high school education, or 5' 11" with two years of college."
Evidently the shorter you are the more education you need. Oh well so much for that theory.

Young people who go to college and excel at sports are given letters to be worn which signify the sport in which they have excelled. Those who excel in three sports are commonly referred to as ~~xxx~~ "a three letter man." Today, we are going to look at what we might call, "The Five Letter Man."

(Illustration of intercollegiate meeting) Various speakers to tell of school is an intercollegiate meeting representatives of various colleges and universities were scheduled to tell of the qualities and virtues of their respective schools. The speaker from Yale said he would speak on the letters of the name which stand for Youth, Ambition, Liberty and Enlightenment.
He spent fifteen minutes on each of the words. As he went to sit down, a delegate tried to slip out of the room but was stopped at the door.
"Why are you leaving before the meeting is over?" he was asked.
"Well," replied the young delegate, "xxxxxxxxxxxxx fifteen xxxxxx minutes of each of the letters spelling Yale and I have no more time."
The next speaker is from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology."

XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX With this background information we can now read 75 minutes or an hour and fifteen minutes speaking on "The Five Letter Day."

Joshua and the people of Israel had now crossed the Jordan River and they were encamped just outside of Jericho. So it is we read in the first verses of our scripture, "Now Jericho was tightly shut because of the sons of Israel: no one went out and no one came in."

The truth of the matter is that the people were scared silly. They had heard of the Flood and Noah's ark and stood in the way of the people. They heard of the sea being parted, of how the Jordan River had stopped flowing; they knew that two cities from these people had been in their midst and had suddenly disappeared. And now here they were just outside of their town. But as we tried to show last week your perspective on this situation is determined how you perceive God is all of this. Think back to the time when Abraham was visited by the angel of God and how Abraham had pleaded with the angel to spare Sodom and Gomorrah if just 10 righteous people could be found there. God had promised that He would not destroy those cities. God tried to show each and every society which was heathen and pagan that He would destroy that if they didn't repent and turn to Him. They all had their chances, but they didn't take them.

xxx The people of Jericho had not only heard of these Israelites, they now knew them to be just outside their gates. God gave Joshua his orders concerning what he was to do. He told him, "In 7 you shall march around the city all the men of war circling the city once. You shall do so for six days." verse 3.

In the next verse God tells them, "Also seven priests shall carry seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark."

Imagine what must have been going through the minds of the people of Jericho as they watched the strange proceedings day after day for six days. Soldiers were marching around the city. In the middle of the procession priests of God were carrying the ark of the covenant and others blew rams' horns. While this took place, not a word was spoken by any of the Israelites. They would march once around the city and then go back to their camp. No attempt was made to storm the walls, or break down the gates. Just a march once ~~more~~ around the city and that was all. It must have been ~~very~~ weird.

Then God gave them the instructions also, "Then on the seventh day you shall march around the city seven times, and the priests shall blow the trumpets, and it shall be that when they blow a long blast with the rams' horn, and when you hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the wall of the city will fall down flat, and the people will go up every man straight ahead."

The people inside the walls of Jericho saw the people of Israel march around their walls once each day. But then on the seventh day, something strange happened. They marched around the walls once, but instead of going back to their camp, they marched around it a second time. Then a third, and a fourth and then a fifth, and then a sixth. When would this marching stop. And then on the seventh time around the priests blew the trumpets, and for the first time, the voices of the people were heard and they all shouted at once. And while they were shouting the walls surrounding the city suddenly collapsed and crumbled to nothing. The people were so startled they didn't know what to do and it was only a short period of time and the Israelites had conquered the city.

All sorts of theories have been raised about the fall of the wall from an earthquake to poor construction. Let us just raise one possible theory from a military standpoint. When I was in the army and we were on a march, we generally marched in step. But whenever we approached a bridge, we were stopped from marching and just walked across the bridge. Then when everyone was on the other side, we began to march again. The theory is that with every one in step, a vibration would be caused and this could conceivably collapse the bridge. It is possible that the people marching around the city in step seven times caused a vibration that collapsed those walls when they all shouted. But whatever took place, it was another of God's miracles. But we need to see in these incursions which the people of Israel had with these different nations, God was permitting Israel to convey to those nations the existence of God. They were in a sense acting as missionaries. It is from this that we see Joshua and the people of Israel were "live letter men." It is also from this that every congregation of the church of Jesus Christ needs to see itself and its individual members as "live letter men."

better people that God wants us to be.

First Joshua and the people of Israel were in the dimension of "being." The lesson which Jesus had for every believer was that he would truly "be" a disciple and serve Him. "Being" is the first essential all of us must have if we are going to be of value to the Church of Jesus Christ. Joshua and the people there were not wanted there to be.

The second letter is that of "doing." They were willing to "do" where God wanted them without excuses or reservations. God desires this from us as well. Are we willing to "do" where He wants us to go or are we merely giving lip service to His call, or worse yet, just making time.

The third letter is that of "sending." Not every Christian is compelled or required to be sent out of their hometown. But each of us is required to be sent into our neighborhoods where we are to spread the message of Jesus Christ. This also involves our being willing to "send" others from our midst to carry out the work of the Gospel.

The fourth letter is that of "giving." Financially supporting those who are preaching and teaching and striving to spread the word. How many of us are actually giving sacrificially? How many of us are actually giving to the Lord that which rightfully belongs to Him? Joshua and the people of Israel were willing to sacrifice all that they had in the service of the Lord. Even their very lives if necessary. But God performed miracles in their midst which didn't require the giving of their lives. God can perform miracles in our midst if we let Him. But we circumvent those miracles by our selfish attitudes toward what we should give to Him and the work of His kingdom church. The last of the five letters is that of "praying." Joshua and the people sought the Lord for direction in their lives in the wilderness. How much prayer do we actually put forth for this congregation? How much do we pray for the unsaved of the world, of our community, or of our families. How many of the five letters do we possess in our lives.

(Illustration of baroness in Kenya)

I read an interesting story about a baroness who lived in Nairobi, Kenya, Africa. It was intriguing because Ralph Bartlow the missionary we help to support will be going back there. This baroness was a Christian and she had a young national as her houseboy. After three months he asked the baroness to give him a letter of reference to a friendly uncle who lived some miles away. The baroness not wishing to lose her houseboy just when he had gotten used to the routine offered to give him a raise. He told her it wasn't the money. He explained that he had decided to work for a Christian for three months then to work for a Muslim for three months and then decide what he wanted to be. He told her her worked for her for three months to see how she acted. The baroness said that she was ashamed as she recalled her shortcomings in her dealings with the boy. She exclaimed, "My didn't you tell me this at the beginning."

The baroness is like thousands of others who claim to be Christians. Their lives do not reflect the Christ they supposedly believe to because they are unaware that there are people watching them. But don't be fooled. There are many people outside of this building who I not come in here, but they see each of you who do and they observe what you are like during the week. Your commitment, or lack of it may well have been the determining factor in bringing ~~into the church~~ people into the church, or keeping them out of it. Think of it. Am I going for God. Am I going for God. Am I sending ~~anyone~~ on behalf of God. Am I truly ~~representing~~ and am I praying to God. How many of the Five Letters do I possess. Can anyone look at me and say that I am God's Five Letter person.

All children 7 and up are welcome.
Come Join the fun.
- * March 25, 1998 -Ash Wednesday Communion Service - - 7p.m.

1. The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the cold. It was a sharp, biting cold that seemed to seep into my bones. I had heard that the weather in the mountains was unpredictable, but this was something else entirely.

2. As I walked down the path, I noticed the trees. They were tall and thin, their branches reaching out like skeletal fingers. The leaves were a mix of green and yellow, suggesting it might be autumn. I had never seen trees like these before.

3. The path itself was a mix of dirt and gravel, well-trodden but still uneven. I had to be careful not to slip. The ground felt soft underfoot, almost like a carpet of needles. I had heard that the forest was beautiful, but I didn't realize it would be so... unique.

4. As I continued, I noticed the air. It was thick and heavy, almost like a blanket. I had heard that the air was crisp and clear, but this was different. It felt like I was walking through a giant's foot.

5. The sun was low in the sky, casting a warm glow over the landscape. The mountains in the distance were a mix of brown and grey, their peaks shrouded in mist. I had heard that the views were spectacular, but I didn't realize it would be so... dramatic.

6. I noticed the sound of the water. It was a soft, steady trickle, almost like a lullaby. I had heard that the water was clear and cold, but I didn't realize it would be so... soothing.

7. The path led me to a small clearing. In the center was a large, ancient-looking tree. Its trunk was thick and gnarled, with a hollowed-out section in the middle. I had heard that there were old legends about this tree, but I didn't realize it would be so... mysterious.

8. As I stood there, I noticed the silence. It was a deep, profound silence that seemed to encompass everything. I had heard that the forest was full of life, but I didn't realize it would be so... still.

9. The path led me to a small stream. The water was crystal clear, and I could see the bottom. The rocks were smooth and rounded, and the water flowed over them with a gentle hum. I had heard that the water was cold and refreshing, but I didn't realize it would be so... pure.

10. As I walked away, I noticed the change in the landscape. The mountains were now closer, and the trees were more dense. The air felt different, more alive. I had heard that the journey was a test, but I didn't realize it would be so... transformative.

Scripture: Joshua 8:40-45

(Illustration of man only in church twice, (third time will be burial)

A man proudly said to another man, "I've only gone to church two times in my life. The first time they sprinkled water on me, the second time they sprinkled rice."

Another man overhearing this conversation said, "And the third time they'll sprinkle dirt."

There are many who only see the church as a place to receive what the church has to offer. Someone has said that is to be "latched, latched, and mis-patched."

In the eyes of man the church may be many different things, and some of those ideas may be right and some may be wrong. But just what is the church to Christ?

(Illustration of church moved miraculously in North Carolina.)

There is a church building in New Quarter, North Carolina that was built on another site in 1894. But ever before it was built, the congregation had their eyes on a certain piece of property but were unable to buy it because the owner would not sell to the church. So the congregation was forced to build the church on an alternative site. As they did, but they still looked longingly at the other site down the road. Two years after the building was completed, on October 17, 1936, a violent storm hit that area. Felling rain, driving wind and a rising tide confined and that church building was lifted off its foundation and lifted into the air xxx as though it were a scrap of paper. It was airborne for a distance of 200 feet and landed on the exact spot on the plot of ground on which the members wished to build it in the first place. The owners of the property voiced no objections and the church was permitted to stand on that property. They changed the name of the church from Methodist to the Church of Providence.

Who is responsible for this miracle? We can say: No one can for certain, but one thing we do know and that is that God tells us in His word of places which were set apart for His worship.

Joshua and the people of Israel were at this place in their pilgrimage to and through the promised land.

Our scripture for this morning tells us of a contrast which actually begins with the 26th verse of this chapter. There we read, "And he hanged the king of Ai on a tree until evening; and at sunset his servants gave the command and they took his body down from the tree, and threw it at the entrance of the city gate, and raised over it a great heap of stones that stands to this day."

A heap of stones was erected on the grave of a heathen king, executed by the Israelites, led by Joshua. When Joshua and his people march many miles north and they stop at Mt. Bal and we read, "When Joshua built an altar to the Lord, the God of Israel, in Mount Bal."

And the completion of the contrast is that the next story recorded after the defeat and execution and burial of the king of Ai is to erect a heap of stones for the worship of Almighty God. The heathen king has been disposed of and this symbolizes the futility of worshipping the false gods of these Canaanites.

and now Joshua raises up a heap of stones to symbolize the blessings and protection that come from worshipping the One True God, the God of Israel. As we had been told by God as we read in the first chapter that he was to not just be the leader of these Israelites, his job entailed being the spiritual leader as well. Because of this we read, "Then Joshua built an altar to the Lord, the God of Israel, in Mount Ebal, just as Moses the servant of the Lord had commanded the sons of Israel, as it is written in the book of the law of Moses, an altar of uncut stones, on which no man has wielded an iron tool; and they offered burnt offerings on it to the Lord, and sacrificed peace offerings." verses 30-31

Then we read, (read verses 32-35), all of this was done according to instructions given by Moses ^{as commanded by God} before they had even reached the promised land. The stones Joshua wrote on were probably not the stones of the altar. Instead, they were probably stone pillars erected on which Joshua covered with lime and then in a black ink, wrote the law. He didn't write all of the law but we are not completely certain just what he did write. In all likelihood he wrote that which Moses gave to him in the way of blessings and curses. These instructions were given in the 28th chapter of Deuteronomy and we read from verse 1 through 4, (read these verses).

So we see the importance of the reading the blessings and curses as it is stated in verse 1, (read this). We can see from this that it was important that the women needed to hear these things so they could teach them to the little children. Women may not have had a prominent part in the leadership of the people of Israel, but Joshua knew the importance of having them know what they were to teach the children. It was the women as is the normal rule of society to instruct and teach the children. And no matter how women of today may strive to reverse their roles, God intended for the woman to have the responsibility to teach and instruct the children in their early and formative years.

He further instructed by Moses about this event of which we have just covered in the 13th through the 14th verses, (read these). ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ ~~xxxxxxxx~~ The Israelites were encamped in a valley between the two mountains. Half of the tribes were at the foot of Mt. Ebal, and half of them were at the foot of Mt. Gerizim. The Levitical priests were in between with the ark of the covenant.

Moses further instructed, (read verse 14). Evidently, Joshua was to read a statement from the law. The priests were to repeat it in unison. In this manner, their voices carried to all the people and also to any of the Canaanites who were close by.

After each statement, Moses instructed that all of the people were to answer, Amen." Can you imagine the impact this had on the Canaanites who lived near by? This was another one of those things which had to be told and retold to all peoples and nations in the area. God gave instructions through Moses for this event which was now taking place in the lives of Joshua and the people of Israel. In those instructions were xx 12 actually guidelines concerning their ethics and morality. And in order to have all of this take place, Joshua and the people had to take time to worship God. This place between it, that on the North and 15. Jerizim on the North took on the aspect of Holy Ground. In this incident we should all see the need for us to take time away from the common everyday things of life to seek and know the will of God. Joshua and the people of Israel paused in their everyday lives to get refreshed by coming into the presence of God. This is why God ordained the Church of Jesus Christ. It is for people to come together, and jointly to learn from one another; to lean on one another for support if necessary and to praise our wonderful heavenly Father for all that He is sharing with us in our lives. The author of the New Testament book of Hebrews tells us the true meaning of worship in the 11th chapter, verses, 19 through 25, (read those). So you see, if there are those who stay away because they get mad at the preacher, or don't like this or that, they are hurting the work of Christ by their actions. We come together to worship God, not get involved in personality clashes, or sit and wait and refuse to enter in the worship.

A second reason for worship is to read and study God's Word. The service of worship should be rooted and grounded in God's Word. It isn't the wisdom of the preacher, or the singing of the choir, or anything else done by humans in the worship service. It is God's Word that should be lifted up to understand what His will is for our lives. It Worship involves the giving of ourselves completely to God and it isn't based on a specific timetable where the hymns are only two verses long, and the sermon doesn't go beyond noon. It is a time in which with limited structure we seek to let the Holy Spirit move among us and direct us to the Throne of Grace.

(Illustration of little girl and two bricks to build the church)

A large church needed a new building. Everyone agreed to that, but wherever they began to plan to build, the members got into all sorts of disagreements about how and what to build. The preacher didn't know what to do about this and so he declared they needed a day of prayer. A date was set, but as it was often the case, very few people came. At one very devout woman went and took her five year-old girl because she didn't have a better offer. As they prayed the little girl began to understand that it was about building a new church. When they went home the little girl asked all kinds of questions. The next morning her mother looked for her, but she was not in her room. So she went outside she noticed fresh tracks across the lawn in the morning dew and she followed them. The tracks led across the lawn to the preacher's house down the street. There in the front yard was a little girl with her toy wheelbarrow, and in it were two bricks she had picked up at home and brought to him to start the new church. She was talking to the preacher who stood there with tears streaming down his cheeks at the complete trust of a little girl. The next Sunday he told of this in church.

and God touched the hearts of those people. Many's two bricks were multiplied and grew into a beautiful new church building.

That is what God wants from each of us. A total commitment to Him. Sunday morning is the "house that refreshes" or it should be for every one who seeks to worship Him.

This morning have you truly worshipped Him? Have you felt His presence?

The invitation is extended to come and render thanks for what He has done and given to you; to meditate quietly and silently on His and His love; or perhaps to seek a deeper and closer relationship with Him.

"Believe and Love"

Scripture: Joshua 24:14-19

(Illustration of Whistler, and overcoming handicap)

There was a young man whose ambition in life was to be a soldier. He ~~xxx~~ received an appointment to the military academy at West Point. At the end of the first year he flunked chemistry. But he was allowed to come back the second year. But he flunked chemistry again and was dropped from the school. He went back home. At this point in life many lose all hope and give up, but not this young man. He began to think of what he could do. He dabbled in the arts and discovered that he had a talent for drawing. So he began to experiment with different colors and discovered he could mix colors and paints also. Utilizing the two talents together he became a very famous artist and we know his name as James Whistler, best known for the portrait of a woman on her rocker, called "Whistler's Mother."

Perhaps the best known fact of life is that our lives are shaped by the ~~xxxxx~~ situations and people who are around us. Many sociologists would ~~xxxxx~~ have us believe that environment is responsible for the crime and criminals. But there are many examples of those who have been raised in poor circumstances who have risen to greatness in history. And we have many evidences ^{THAT} characterizing a relationship with new and modern housing ~~doesn't~~ doesn't necessarily change the people who live in those developments.

But one of the saddest elements of life is to read or hear of war who have risen to be used of God yet misdirected in their later years. Men like David and Solomon and even Moses the mighty leader of the people of Israel. But one man who remained steadfast all of his life was the man we have been looking at. That man was Joshua. This doesn't mean that Joshua was a perfect example. Joshua made his share of mistakes. He became discouraged; he lost sight of his faith from time to time and he must have wondered just where all of his leading would end. But he was God's man and he pointed his people to Him, and his example points us to God today as well.

Joshua had reached the end of his life and before he died at the age of 110, he shared two messages with the people as recorded in chapters 23 and 24 of his book.

First, Joshua gives the people a short range perspective which looks at what God had done in the recent past. Thirteen times in the 23rd chapter Joshua tells of what "The Lord your God," has done for them. He begins reading the 23rd chapter with the words, "Now it came about after many days, when the Lord had given rest to Israel from all of their enemies on every side, and Joshua was old, advanced in years, that Joshua called for all of Israel, for their elders and their heads and their judges and their officers, and said to them, 'I am old, advanced in years.'" vsa 1-2.

And then he begins to recount all of the things of the "Lord Your God."

(Read 2a, 2b, 3a, 5b, 8, 9a, 10, 11, 15a, 16b, 14b, ~~15x16~~).

Then in the 15th and 16th verses Joshua warns, (read these verses). To sum all of this up, Joshua has reminded Israel that "the Lord their God" brought them into this promised land and gave them victory after victory. His message to them is to believe that this is the One, the True, the Only God. And just as he has given them the victories they enjoyed, so he will bring upon them the curses as promised when Moses spoke the words of God as recorded in the book of the Law, Deuteronomy.

This message is the same message we need for our day and for our lives. When the hostile Paul ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ and Silas were being held in prison and the earthquake happened at midnight, the Roman jailer thinking that the prisoners had escaped was ready to commit suicide but was stopped by Paul. He then asked, "What must I do to be saved?" Paul answered, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house."

The message for all of life is to believe on Jesus; to accept the salvation which He so freely gives. Jesus is God's final and ultimate answer to life. The people of Israel ~~WERE~~ searching for meaning and purpose to life in the confused and confusing world in which they lived. All mankind down through the centuries have looked for the answer to life. Those who have found it in Jesus have known the satisfaction that knowledge can bring. If you are still searching and seeking meaning for your life, you will only find it in the Lord Jesus Christ.

But then Joshua gave a second and final address to the people as recorded in the 11th chapter of Joshua. This is a long-range perspective. For this final message was given in a more dramatic place. We read in the first verse, "Then Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel to Shechem, and called for the elders of Israel and for their heads and their judges and their officers; and they presented themselves before God."

It was here at this spot of Mt. Gerizim on Mt. Ebal that Joshua had built an altar to the Lord; it was here that he had erected ~~THE~~ tall pillars and had written the law on them and delivered them to the people. But it was here in this very place that Abraham first received the promise that God would give Israel the land of Canaan. And it was also here that Abraham demonstrated his rejection of all other heathen and false gods by building an altar to God, the only True God. And it was also here that Jacob on his return from Mesopotamia cleansed and purified his household from false gods by burning all of the idols and also building an altar to God.

So it is that Joshua now recounts what God had done through their ancestors and then Joshua calls upon the people to come to the Lord and we read in the 14th verse, (read this).

They are reminded by Joshua, "And if it is disagreeable in your sight to serve the Lord, choose for yourselves today whom you will serve: whether the gods ~~xxxxxx~~ which your fathers served which were beyond the river, or the gods of the Amorites in whose land you are living."

There was the choice. It was either/or. Either choose the One True God, or choose the false gods of the people they were living among. They had to make the choice and no one could do it for them.

Then Joshua made his famous declaration that stands forth for all time and eternity in which he said, "But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

Probably with firm conviction, and an upraised voice Joshua shouted to the people so there was no misinterpretation of where he stood; nor of whom he would serve, "But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Here is the most dramatic testimony in all of Scripture. It is in ~~this~~ this statement that we find that Joshua loved God with all of his heart and soul, and he was calling these people to love God in the same way. And that is still the message that we need to take out and stand on today. How will we serve? Will it be God? Or will it be the gods of materialism, or the god of intellectualism? There is nothing wrong with having material goods, because we need them; nor is it wrong to use our intellect, because God wants us to do that. But the danger is always there that these things begin to take precedence over our love of God and we slip back into loving the things of this world.

It took courage for Joshua to stand before these people and make this declaration. There were those among them who were leaning toward the heathen gods of their neighbors. After all, there wasn't as much commitment being asked in serving them. But to pledge allegiance to this Almighty God, meant a full commitment.

(Illustration: Barnhouse in California and Broken Driver)

A few years ago, Dr. Donald Barnhouse the pastor then of the 12th Street Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia was in California preaching. He saw an accident take place in which a car careened down the street and crashed into another car. The driver was ~~xxxx~~ obviously drunk and was pushed from behind the wheel by his companion who took his place. When the police arrived the man behind the wheel complained bitterly that the other driver was at fault. At this Dr. Barnhouse told where he was when the accident occurred, told how the drivers had changed places and that the other driver was doing nothing wrong when crashed into by the drunk. At this the crowd began to get noisy and started asking why this man had a right to interfere in all of this. "Why was he interfering in this?" they wanted to know. Dr. Barnhouse answered that it was his duty to do so and that he would gladly travel from Philadelphia to testify against this driver and his friend. As he returned to his car people actually cursed him for what he had done. For whatever reasons these people were willing to stand up for the wrong, rather than the right. And Dr. Barnhouse said that a Christian must be willing to stand up for what is right; must be willing to lose a few dollars pay to testify; or to do anything necessary to see that the right prevails.

That is the call that is issued again and again to us, "Choose you this day whom you will serve."

In our society today there is the very prevalent idea of not getting involved in life no matter who is being hurt, or even cases of people being killed and no one gets involved. Nor it has come the very bad attitude about life.

(Illustration of Jayne Hless and conversation with woman who hopes that she never is a grandmother)

A woman named Jayne Hless tells of talking to a lady in church at the end of the service. The woman began talking about her grown children to which Jayne asked her about her grandchildren. The woman checked her with the answer "I don't have any, and I'm sure that I don't want any." Then she stated, "This wicked world is unfit for rearing children," ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~

Jayne asked her, "Do you really mean what you are saying. And what would happen to our Christian witness and influence if our Christian couples cease to bear children?" The woman said she hadn't thought about that and walked away.

Jayne said she thought of her grandchildren and how she had heard her four-year-old granddaughter tell a neighbor boy, "My mother has to spank me when I'm naughty. If she doesn't spank me, God will spank her." She smiled to think what this other woman is missing. But last spring she also thought of that lady when her daughter called on the phone and informed her that another granddaughter Emily had something to tell her. Emily took the phone from her mother and said, "Guess what Grandma? I asked Jesus into my heart last night."

That's what this life is all about. We have the choice of seeing the world around us kneeling to the gods of this world, or of seeing to give them the choice between the gods and the true God, through Jesus Christ. Choose you this day what you will serve is what we need to say to the world. And then we should be able to answer loud and clear, "Not so for me, and my house, we will serve the Lord." Can you say that to the world? If you can't I invite you to receive what God has to offer to this world in the person of Jesus Christ.

"Cross- words: Forsaken

Scripture: Matthew 26:47-56

Text: Matthew 26:55b

During the next weeks we will be looking at words which are found in Scripture in the narratives surrounding the passion of our Savior Jesus Christ. They are not necessarily words from the cross, but are words which ultimately end at the cross.

If we were working a crossword puzzle our word for this evening would be an eight letter word meaning abandoned, or deserted.

Jesus was in the Garden of Gethsemane with His disciples. He had come here to pray. He had just shared with them what has come to be known as "The Last Supper." After they had sung a hymn together we are told they went to the Mount of Olives. Then they arrived there He spoke to them and gave them the message Matthew records in ~~the~~ His Gospel starting at the 41st verse, (read verses 41 through 45). His prediction was that all of them would forsake Him and Peter always being very vocal denied he would do this, ~~xxxxxxx~~ ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ and Matthew added, "likewise also said all the disciples." They had pledged their allegiance and to this Jesus made no reply.

So they were now in the Garden and Jesus instructed the other eight disciples to sit nearby while He went further on to pray. And He took Peter and James, and John with Him. To them He gave the charge to "arry ye here, and watch with Me," verse 46b.

Three times He went away to pray and each time He came back the disciples were found asleep. And while He was speaking to His disciples after coming back the third time, a multitude of people surrounded Him. Jesus accepted His arrest in the midst of which Peter lashed out with his sword and cut off the ear of the servant of the high priest. But Jesus rebuked him and reminded him that Scripture must be fulfilled concerning the salvation of mankind.

Jesus spoke to the crowd and said, "He who comes out ~~xxxxxxxxxx~~ as against a thief with swords and staves for to take Me: I am fully with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on Me."

They had all kinds of opportunities to arrest Jesus while He was out in public. But it seemed as though they didn't want His arrest to take place publicly because the citizens may have revolted. It was much easier to arrest Him privately with no one around to witness this. At least, without any who would violently oppose His arrest.

Matthew tells us, "But all of this was done that the Scripture of the prophet might be fulfilled," verse 56a

Then follows the startling irony of all of this and Matthew concludes this verse by stating, "Then all the disciples forsook Him, and fled," verse 56b.

After all of the times they had been with him, it would seem that at His most crucial moment in His ministry, they would have stayed with him.

But those disciples were merely playing out very human lives and regardless of how we might view this in our minds and say that we would have stuck with him and defended him, would we? How many of us would really put our lives on the line in a similar situation? Think of the experiences of your life and think of the times when you have forsaken Jesus. We do it when we have a conversation with someone and we should inject spiritual knowledge or advice into the conversation; or we should stand up and be counted as wanting to stand for the right, and we remain silent; or we deliberately continue in the old sin life even when we know it is absolutely wrong. And is it that we forsake Christ?

In the first place, we forsake Christ through fear. Isn't it always easier to go along with the crowd and not make waves? It's a well known fact that everyone wants to be liked and loved. No one wants to be a minority in a majority. The disciples knew they were outnumbered. They also knew that if they chose to not let Jesus be arrested, they might lose not only their freedom, but possibly their lives. So they just blended into the landscape with the rest of the people there. And when Jesus looked around, He was standing all alone. If you've ever stood all alone on a certain issue apart from the crowd, then you may well have experienced the feeling that our Lord felt as He looked around searching for His friends.

Then we forsake Christ through weariness. The hardest thing in our Christian walk is to continually take a stand for the things that are right. After a period of time it just seems as though there isn't much use in standing up against the crowd. So we grow tired and weary, and the best known cure is to walk away from it all and thus we forsake Jesus Christ and His cause. A classic example of this was the original men who worked at framing the Declaration of Independence. All of them were men who ^{had} much to lose by their actions, and every one of them did lose homes and property and ^{no} ~~wealth~~ ^{HEALTH} even though they knew this could be the end result.

The third reason for forsaking Christ is one which almost anyone has gone through who has stood for him in this life. That reason comes about when a person has successfully lost something for the Lord. Look at Peter and James and John how they had been chosen by Jesus to go up to the Mount and to share in the revelation of His glory. They were in the spiritual presence of Moses and Elijah and the glorified Jesus. What a tremendous experience. One we can rightly call a mountaintop experience. But when they returned to the valley, they forsake Jesus by being led by Satan. The danger always is to get filled with a sense of our own absolute abilities as though God could not get along without us. And it is at this point that God lets us see just how much He really needs us. It is at this point that Satan sets the trap for us.

and we find ourselves forsaking it once again.

Jesus gave His disciples the watchword for these occasions when He told His disciples to "Watch." We are to "Watch" lest we continue to forsake Him.

If we "Watch" our lives and our living we will have that boldness that stood out in the lives of the disciples. Think of Peter the man who was all mouth. He always had something to say but was never able to back up what he said.

But at Pentecost the Holy Spirit came into his life and he was the boldest most fearless disciple there ever was. Paul also gives us this watchword in a slightly different way. In his letter to the Corinthian Church, the first letter chapter 13, verse 13, he says, "Therefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

(Illustration of Greek soldier and disease that made him brave)

There is an old Greek story of a soldier who had a disease that was very painful and was likely to take his life at any time. Because of this he exhibited a bravery that no other Greek soldier possessed. He was always in the very front of every battle. He courted death because if ~~xxx~~ he were killed, death would end his pain. He was very brave. His General, Antiochus, admired this soldier's bravery and he sought out a physician who could treat his disease. He found one and this doctor cured the soldier. From that time on, this soldier was no longer in the front. He avoided all danger in order to preserve his life. While he had a terrible painful disease he fought well. But when he was cured, his health and his comfort came first.

Can you see why Jesus was saying "Watch." We must look to our lives and look at what it is that motivates us. Is it our love for our Savior. Or is it merely that the grandstand play that makes us look good for the moment, and then we forsake Him.

I believe a part of what Jesus was saying to His disciples with the word "Watch" was actually, "Look at yourself." He was saying, "Take a serious look at yourself and see if you truly are 'He and will not forsake Me.'" An anonymous writer penned a few lines entitled, "I see myself." This is what he wrote:

One day I looked at my self,
In the self that Christ can see;
I saw the person I am today
And the one I ought to be.

I saw how little I really pray,
How little I really do;
I saw the influence of my life—
How little of it was true!

I saw the bundle of faults and fears
I ought to lay on the shelf;
I had given a little bit to God,
But I hadn't given myself.

I came from seeing myself,
With the right made up to be
The sort of person that Christ can use
With a heart He may always see.

What does the Lord see in our hearts when He looks. May it never be said of us, as Matthew wrote, "for all the disciples forsook him and fled."

"Cross-roads: Invy"

Scripture: Matthew 23:15-17

Text: Matthew 27:14

words are the tools we use to express ourselves. According to the Oxford English Dictionary, the 500 most used words in the English language each has an average of 23 different meanings. The word "bound" for instance has 73 distinctly different meanings.

one of the person who is not native born who must learn English. The president of Miller College in Wisconsin talks of explaining some of the English idioms to two Chinese students who knew back English. They passed a store selling clothing where a sign proclaimed, "suits 20 up." The president then one of them asked what that meant he explained that all suits in that store were 20 dollars and on more. With explanations like this one he thought he was doing quite well, until they passed a used car lot and the one fellow said to the other, "look at those cars, how can they be so cheap?" The sign read, "used cars, 20 down."

There are in Scripture many words that stand out or lend themselves to further illustration. In the course of this series

Today we are looking at the word "flaxy," as found in our scripture for this morning. Jesus was on trial before Pilate and Pilate knew that the charge against him was flaxy, ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ so he wanted to free Jesus. The religious leaders who brought Jesus before Pilate accused him of being an insurrectionist, or plotting against Rome and setting himself above the emperor. This would have made him guilty of treason. But Pilate decided that their thin plot offered to release a prisoner was the people's choice. The choice was between Barabbas and Jesus. Pilate and the people knew that Barabbas was a real insurrectionist. In his entire career he had been guilty of murder as well. So, in place of the pseudo-insurrectionist, Jesus Christ, Pilate gave them the choice of a real live one. His thinking naturally was that they would not dream of letting this criminal go free. The question of what Pilate knew is contained in the 18th verse and there we read, "or he know that for envy they had delivered him."

"For envy they had delivered him." That was it that made them envious? Their envy began when they heard and saw that was happening through out Palestine. They saw him heal the blind and the lame, cleanse the lepers and unclean, ~~raise the dead to life~~ raise the dead to life, raise the value of women and children in the nation, perform miracles with water, and bread and fish. With all of those things they were so blinded to who and what he was that with all of their learning, all of their religiosity, all of their concern for the minute ritual of worship of God, all of their prayers on their lips that they were the praiseworthy fulfillment of the prophecies concerning ~~xxxxx~~ the redemption of the Jewish. Isaiah had prophesied in the third chapter of his prophecy, "For He shall grow up before us as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground; he hath no form nor comeliness; we after we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him." Is. 54:2.

and so he was brought to trial because these people "envied" him. And it is interesting to note that two of the best writers of the Hebrew wisdom literature wrote against this very thing. (Read the examples of David and Solomon, pages 40 & 41 in back of "Murmurs" their reference). Here was a religious leader doing good and not evil and they were envious of him. But their envy was based not on what he was doing that was evil, but because he was doing those things they would have liked to do to earn the plaudits of the crowd. Jesus was merely another person in a long string of biblical characters who received evil because they did good.

The Bible starts off by telling us that Abel was murdered because of his brother's envy; Jacob won't lose his father's presence acting a lie through envy; Joseph was sold as a slave; Moses was abused by Aaron and Miriam and Korah, Dathan and Abiram; Saul sought to kill David; Daniel was thrown into the lions den; all of these were caused by envy and that doesn't exhaust the list.

Envy blinds the mind and poisons the heart. This is what happened to all of those recorded in scripture who envied others. In the case of Jesus, these religious leaders were so blinded and poisoned that the only solution was to eliminate Jesus entirely. They believed that if he were dead, their nation would be rid of his plans which had descended upon them. Unwittingly they were acting out God's plan which had to come to pass. And isn't it tragic that they believed, wrongly, that they were doing God a favor? That is the horrible effect envy can have on anyone.

But as we look at this example from scripture we need to include ourselves as those who can crucify Christ anew. The very first created beings, angels, some of whom were filled with envy, were cast out of heaven because of it and they became demons. Envy can enter into any relationship, into any person. And it can and does enter into the church and church-people.

(Illustration of W. F. Laver, Purpoor, and Morgan.)

Just before the beginning of the 20th century, there were three very good ministers and ministries side by side in London, England. The ministers were, Charles Purpoor, often called the "Prince of Preachers", W. F. Laver, and F. W. Morgan.

Purpoor never tells of a time when W. F. Laver was preaching in America and he found it very easy to gain for his success. But, he said, when he came home and took a church next to him it was something different. The old idea in me was inclined to envy and jealousy. My church gave a reception for him, and I acknowledged ~~it was a great success~~ if it were not necessary for me to preach Sunday evenings I would dearly love to go and hear him myself. Well, that made me feel right toward him. But see how the dear Lord helped me out of my difficulty. There was Charles Purpoor preaching wonderfully on the other side of me. He and Mr. Morgan were so popular, and drew such crowds, that our church couldn't accommodate them, and we had all we could accommodate."

But don't we all fight this evil monster called envy? Think of people you have known who have perhaps been promoted ahead of you; or people who didn't have the job as well as you do and they have received the promotion. What do we say. How do we feel toward them? "The normal reaction is one of envy and if left to fester, it grows into hatred. Can we not understand then that Pilate was aware of this and sought to give the people a choice between a true criminal and Jesus? But what did his efforts produce? The cry of "Crucify him," rang out because they wanted to get rid of the source of their envy. And if we had the opportunity to get rid of the object of our envy we too would and could cry out, "Crucify him." In other words, "Get him out of my sight, or away with him."

As Christians then, we must seek and know the remedy for envy. Sarah, who wrote the 1st Lesson shares his experience of envy and he tells us in the 2nd through the 3rd verses, (read these). He then goes on to relate the lives of these people, (read verses 4 through 12). The evil and wicked act as they see fit and sponsor, so Sarah is envious of them and he says in the 14th and 15th verses, (read these). But the answer lies in his discovery as he relates in verses 17 and 18, (read these). It is only in coming into God's presence that Sarah knew he could overcome envy.

(Illustration of Leonardo da Vinci's envy of Michelangelo)

The counselors of Florence who, Leonardo da Vinci, then Italy's most celebrated artist, to submit sketches for the decorations of the great hall at Florence. He of the counselors had heard of a young and little known artist who had done great work. His name was Michelangelo and he was asked to submit sketches too. The sketches of Leonardo were superb and showed his genius, but when the counselors saw Michelangelo's sketches there was a spontaneous expression of enthusiasm. Leonardo was crushed. He also heard that one of the counselors had said to him, "He was nothing old. He never got over the selection of Michelangelo over himself and the remaining years of his life were clouded with his envious feelings toward Michelangelo."

God doesn't want this for any of us. Sarah is dealing with his envy, came to the place where he could exclaim, (read verses 25 and 26).

There is only one remedy for envy or God has shown us through Jesus. ~~xxxxxx~~ He taught us, "I want you to be converted and become as little children, ye shall not enter the kingdom of heaven."

Like little trusting children, we must change our natures and come to the Lord for His forgiveness and cleansing. Are you free of the envy in this life? ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ which you may have for someone? Does the very thought, or sight of a certain someone cause your blood to boil? Jesus wants us to turn all of that over to Him and let it go in our lives. If you would like to do that, I invite you to come forward and invite Him into your heart today. Accept the free gift of forgiveness and salvation which He so freely offers to each of us.

"Cross-Words: Transferral"

Scripture: Matthew 27:19-25

Text: Matthew 27:25

(Illustration of Chinese and Jewish man in restaurant)

A Chinese man and a Jewish man were eating lunch in the same restaurant. Suddenly, the Jewish man got up, went over to the table of the Chinese man and punched him in the mouth knocking him off his chair. "What was that for?" demanded the Chinese man as he rubbed his jaw. "That was for Pearl Harbor," the Jewish man answered. "Pearl Harbor? I had nothing to do with Pearl Harbor. That was the Japanese who did that," the Chinese man replied. "Japanese, Chinese, Taiwanese, they're all the same to me," The Jewish man answered and went back to his table.

A short time later the Chinese man got up from his seat, walked across the restaurant and smacked the Jewish man in the mouth knocking him off his chair. "What was that for?" the Jewish man demanded. "That's for the Titanic," the Chinese man answered. The Jewish man said, "I didn't have anything to do with the Titanic." Whereupon the Chinese man answered, "Goldberg, Feinberg, Iceberg, they're all the same to me," something

Here is an example of "Transferral." Transferral is to shift from one person or object to another. This is exactly what our Scripture at this point is pointing out ~~xx~~ to us.

Jesus was on trial before Pilate. He had given the people the ultimatum of choosing Jesus or Barabbas to be released and set free. At that point Pilate sat down upon his judgement seat. It was while seated on this judgement seat that Pilate handed down his verdicts of guilt or innocence.

The people knew that Pilate's action at this point would be the release of one of the two prisoners. It would be either Jesus, or Barabbas. Matthew tells us that the Jewish leaders intent on the death of Jesus, persuaded the crowd to demand the release of Barabbas. So then, Pilate asks the question, "Whether of the twain will ye that I ~~xx~~ release unto you?" verse 21a. They answered, "Barabbas," verse 21b.

Having the answer he sought, Pilate now must ask the inevitable question, "What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?" verse 22a.

The crowd all answered, "Let Him be crucified," verse 22b. The crowd was merely echoing what they had been prompted to do. It has always been a known fact that with a few loudmouths standing around the fringes of a crowd, that crowd can be incited to act without thinking. This is what was being done by these religious leaders to dispose of Jesus. Please note however, this is not to indict all Jewish people from that time to this for the crucifixion of Jesus. The same analogy holds for transferring the guilt of Pearl Harbor to the present day Japanese. It was the Jewish leaders of that day who incited any and all present at this trial to demand the death of Jesus.

But all mankind stands guilty of demanding that death because it is sin versus salvation which was on trial. Evil against good, man against God.

So it was that a probably very surprised and misunderstanding Pilate asks the question, "Why, what evil hath He done?", verse 23a.

But this question only aroused the crowd more. They had assembled to see blood spilled and they weren't going to be denied. So Pilate heard from them very vocally and Matthew records, "But they cried out the more, saying, 'Let Him be crucified,'" verse 23b.

Pilate knew that he could not prevail against this mob. His stature here in Jerusalem was on very shaky footing. He had been involved in two clashes with the Jewish people since taking command here and on both of those occasions he had been reported to Rome. The Emperor had demanded that he seek every occasion to keep the peace. So if he turned Jesus loose, whom the people were clamoring to be executed, the possibility of a riot was very real. So on the off chance that if they were reminded of their customs, they would relent and he could release Jesus, Pilate then gave this mob a visual aid. Matthew records it in these words, "When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude saying, 'I am innocent of the blood of this ~~xxx~~ just person: see ye to it.'" verse 24.

Pilate knew this was a custom of the Jewish people and was to be found written in their laws. Moses recorded this back in the Old Testament book of the Law, the book of Deuteronomy. We read in the 21st chapter of this starting at the 1st verse and reading through the 7th verse, (read this portion of Scripture). Here we see that the Jewish people were to seek to be free of innocent blood. Seeing Pilate washing his hands as though he were a Jewish leader should have reminded them of their Law which they sought to uphold and they should have had Jesus released. But such was not the case. Moses added in the next two verses in verses 8 and 9, (read these). "So shalt thou put away the guilt of innocent blood from among you, when thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the Lord."

They were to seek to do that which was right in the sight of the Lord, but here in this particular instance on the trial of Jesus, they were so incensed with disposing of Him that God, the Law, and anything they knew to be right was banished from their minds. And so the people ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ responded, and we read, "Then answered all the people, and said, 'His blood be on us, and on our children.'" verse 25.

In other words, they were saying, "We are willing to have the guilt of this man's death transferred to our lives and the lives of our children." They were so sure that this was what needed to be done that they were willing to assume the guilt for his death.

In the midst of all the evidence that they had heard of and seen, they were unwilling to believe that this from God. Their pre-conceived notions of who and what the Messiah was to be; and how He was to come were the roadblock that stopped them from belief. Because of this they stood self-condemned. But the stigma of self-condemnation didn't stop with the trial of Jesus, it goes on everyday in our world. W. M. Clow a preacher of yesteryear writes in his book, "The Day of The Cross," the following:

(Illustration of W.M. Clow quote page 130-31)

When in greed you impoverish the poor, when in party spirit you speak and vote for unrighteousness, when in the excitement of passion you deflower purity and decry holiness, when in pride you offend the lowly, when in envy you nourish evil thoughts against those who outshine you, when in ambition you sacrifice truth and honor, when you allow eager, earthly desires to desecrate your soul, when you are merciless and unscrupulous, vengeful and ~~bitter~~ cruel, bitter and remorseless to men, then you also crucify Christ.

And when you sit hardening your heart against all gracious appeal, turning away in grossness of heart from all that would awake conscience within you, when you join the company of those who will neither bow down before Christ's cross, nor bear it, you are insilence, choosing your own doom as decisively as though the words had been uttered, "His blood be on us, and on our children."

From words such as these we see that all mankind ~~stand responsible for~~ must bear the burden of the rejection of God in the midst of humnaity. And the ironic thing about all of this is that all mankind up to and including the people in the narratives of the passion story were seeking one who would deliver them from the bondage they found themselves in. But when Jesus said to them, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free," Jn 8:32, they had no idea that He was talking of the freedom of salvation which He could and would give to them. When Jesus heard the words, "His blood be on us and on our children," He must have thought how He had seen the napel of death passover the houses of the ancestors of these people, because the ~~doors~~ doorposts had been sprinkled with the blood of the lamb. And here He was as God's ultimate lamb, hearing these people willing to "Transfer" their guilt not only on themselves, but their children also. And modern man today in search of the truth for life and the assurance of a relationship with God is unaware that he must come to the point of being covered by the blood of this Lamb slain from the foundation of the world. Man in his blindness continues to stumble in the dark, seeking and searching for that which he is unsure of, and God provided it in the sacrifice made by Jesus Christ.

When Jesus spoke of few finding the narrow way which leads to God's eternity I believe He must have been speaking to the times in which you and I live. I was reading the other day of two U.C.C. ministers, one male and one female of questionable beliefs who are working among victims of A.I.D.S., many of whom are homosexuals and the one point they both made was that to question any of these people about their lifestyle or where they will spend eternity is to be cruel. Just accept them as they are and comfort them with the knowledge that Jesus would not have done this. With beliefs like this, is it any wonder that so many people go through this life doing their own thing and then wondering why life has no answers and they are living unfulfilled lives.

(Illustration of Dr. Tom Dooley and letter to Alma Mater, Notre Dame)

Dr. Tom Dooley was a young surgeon and doctor who organized hospitals and literally gave his life in the service to afflicted people in South East Asia. He could have had a soft medical practice in the states, but he traded that option to serve in a difficult ministry and for it, he died at the very young age of 34. But he had a deep relationship with God and in the end it was that relationship which permitted him to die victoriously among the people he sought to love and serve. On December 1, 1960 he wrote a letter to the president of Notre Dame his alma mater. This is what he wrote:

Dear Rev. Mesburgh: They've got me down. Flat on my back with plaster, sand bags, and hot water bottles. I've contrived a way of pumping up the bed a bit so that with a long reach I can get at my typewriter....Two things prompt this note to you. The first is that whenever my cancer acts up a bit, and it is certainly "acting up" now, I turn inward. Less do I think of my hospitals around the world, or of 94 doctors, fundraisers and the like. More do I think of the Divine Doctor and my personal fund of grace. It has become pretty definite that the cancer has spread to the lumbar vertebra, accounting for all the back problems over the last two months. I have monstrous phantoms, all men do. And inside and outside the wind blows. But when the time comes, like now, then the storm around me does not matter. The winds within me do not matter. Nothing earthly or human can touch me. A peace gathers in my heart. What seems unpossessable I can possess. What seems unfathomable, I can fathom. What is unutterable I can utter. Because I can pray. I can communicate. How do people ~~xx~~ endure anything on earth if they cannot have God?"

And the people on earth can only have God through Jesus Christ. That is the meaning of the cross. To those who are seeking the answer to life, the cry of "transferral" as uttered by the mob at His trial becomes a prayer for the individual and those of his family. "His blood be on us, and on our children." That cry, or prayer needs to be the desire of those who would have God revealed in their lives.

Do you know that the blood of Christ has covered your sins? This can only be a reality when we come to Him and accept the salvation He gives through His death and resurrection. I invite you to make that yours today if you do not already have it or know it.

"Cross-Words: Insignia"

Scripture: Matthew 27:27-31

Text: Matthew 27:29

Webster's Dictionary defines the word "Insignia" as, "badges, , emblems, or other distinguishing marks, as of rank, membership, etc."

In our Scripture this morning the "Insignia" of Jesus is shown in its entirety. Jesus had withstood the all night interrogation of the Jewish leaders; He had been brought before Pilate, who had sent Him to Herod because He was a Jew, A galilean, and under Herod's jurisdiction; then He had been sent back to Pilate because Herod could not impose the death sentence. Standing before Pilate, Jesus had gone through the mockery of a trial. Pilate's complete failure to have Jesus released brought about the scourging of Jesus on Pilate's orders and then He was released to the Roman soldiers to be prepared for His execution by crucifixion.

~~As the soldiers must have had little diversion in this land of the Jews which probably most of them considered to be the end of the world. Their lives were made difficult by these stubborn and unyielding people. At times it may have seemed that the Romans were the captives of the Jews and not the other way around. Within the Roman Empire the Jews were the only ~~one~~ conquered nation which did not have to give up their religion. This was a concession Rome grudgingly had to give because the Jews simply refused to bow down to the Roman Emperor. They were willing to die first rather than do that. So with little in the way of fun and recreation the Roman soldiers took whatever opportunities ^{WERE} presented to them to amuse themselves. One of those opportunities was provided by the preparation of prisoners slated for execution. Jesus must have been a very special case for them. We are told by Matthew "Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto Him the whole band of soldiers." verse 27.~~

The soldiers must have had little diversion in this land of the Jews which probably most of them considered to be the end of the world. Their lives were made difficult by these stubborn and unyielding people. At times it may have seemed that the Romans were the captives of the Jews and not the other way around. Within the Roman Empire the Jews were the only ~~one~~ conquered nation which did not have to give up their religion. This was a concession Rome grudgingly had to give because the Jews simply refused to bow down to the Roman Emperor. They were willing to die first rather than do that.

So with little in the way of fun and recreation the Roman soldiers took whatever opportunities ^{WERE} presented to them to amuse themselves. One of those opportunities was provided by the preparation of prisoners slated for execution. Jesus must have been a very special case for them. We are told by Matthew "Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto Him the whole band of soldiers." verse 27.

Here was a rare treat. It wasn't too often they had the chance to deal with a political prisoner, or one who had set himself up as a king. So they were going to take advantage of this.

The first thing they did, "And they stripped Him, and put on Him a scarlet robe," verse 28.

In all probability it was one of the soldier's worn and perhaps faded dress tunics. Scarlet and purple were the colors of royalty. ~~As~~ These two dyes were not available to the general public. So Jesus was arrayed in a scarlet cloak, or robe of some kind to signify that here was a king. The robe was the first of the "Insignia" given to Jesus prior to His crucifixion.

Then we read: "And when they had plaited a crown of thorns, they put it upon His head."

Evidently, as this sport started out and a robe of sorts was fetched to make

Jesus appear as a king, one or some others of the soldiers may have asked, "What's ~~ask~~king without a crown?" And so they fashioned a crown made of thorns and placed that on His head. From the punctures on his head and forehead by the thorns, the blood flowed down His face. And symbolically here was the sign that He took the burden of sin of mankind on Himself and carried that with Him to His cross. He was covered with the Scarlet Robe which may easily signify the blood, His blood covering all mankind, and the crown of sin which surrounds the life of every person.

But there was one thing ~~ix~~ still lacking and so we read, "And a reed in His right hand."

To be a king the crown and robe was needed, but also the "Insignia" of true royalty and kingship, the scepter. But in what these soldiers may have thought was the ultimate humiliation, the reed as a scepter, ~~the~~ set forth the truth of Jesus. That reed in the right hand of Jesus was a symbol of His Character. He spoke of Himself as being meek and mild. Throughout all of this ordeal of His arrest and trial, He stood before His accusers and "opened not His mouth and as a sheep before its shearers is dumb," He was the fulfillment of what God had spoken through the prophet. He stood before His accusers with a simple reed in His hand and literally looked like a king.

The reed was a very fragile thing probably much like a blade of grass, only of a little more length. The reed He held could be crushed down and beaten to the earth with the rain, or snow, or hail; it would be trampled down under the foot of ~~man~~ walking over it. But yet God used it to teach His lesson to mankind. Paul wrote to the Corinthian church in his first letter, chapter 1, verses 27 and 28, "But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty; and base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not to bring to nought things that are."

This is exactly what Jesus was and what God did through Him. In the eyes of the world He was nothing. "He was despised and rejected of men."

The soldiers after they had prepared Him for their horseplay then mocked Him further and we read, "And they bowed the knee before Him, and mocked Him saying, 'Hail, King of the Jews.'" And they spit upon Him, and took the reed, and smote Him on the head."

To add insult to injury, they made sport of Him in His helpless condition and situation. But in this bit of crude homage they were fulfilling what has been prophesied of Him which will occur in God's future. ~~Atxxxxxxx~~ There is yet a time to come when all mankind will bow down at the name of Jesus Christ and worship Him as King of Kings and Lord of Lords. God was giving a preview in all of this of that which will one day come to pass.

Following what took place in the quarters of the soldiers, Matthew then simply writes, "And after they had mocked Him, they took the robe off Him, and put his own raiment on Him, and led Him away to crucify Him."

For these soldiers and all others who may have heard of this, or took part in it, thus ends the earthly reign of Jesus Christ. It was short lived and of little consequence. He didn't use any power, or make any changes in society. Everything went on from that day to this as before. Even after He was dead on the Cross, the impact of His life hasn't changed the complexion of life too much. Sure, there are and have been some changed people, but for the most part life goes on as usual for the majority of the world. But what the world then, and much of the world today doesn't understand is that His kingdom is not one which will be ruled politically.

So here are the "Insignia" of Jesus. But there remained two others which completed those emblems or distinguishing marks of this man. In the 35th ~~chapter~~ verse we read simply in the beginning of the verse, "And they crucified Him."

That means of course that they took Him to the place of execution and they put Him on a cross made of wood and fastened Him to it by nailing His hands and feet to it. That cross was the instrument of torture, but for Jesus it became His throne from which He began His rule. It was meant as a mockery and humiliation for Him but along with His robe, His royal crown, and His scepter signifying His authority to rule, that cross set forth His seat of authority. From this unintentional throne He began ~~the~~ His reign over the entire world. His authority lay not in leading a political position, but instead lay in ruling over the individual lives of any and all who entered into His kingdom by faith in Him. His authority was over sin and death.

The final "Insignia" of Jesus was what Pilate had placed over His head as He hung on that cross. And in the 37th verse Matthew writes, "And set up over His head His accusation written, 'THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.'"

There it was for all to see, "JESUS, THE KING OF THE JEWS." But what they didn't understand in perhaps using this as a mockery of Him, was that they were telling the truth so profoundly. The Jews were the chosen people of God. And God came into the world in the person of Jesus to bring salvation to the Jews. John tells us, "He came unto His own, and His own knew Him not." So what happened was that, "As many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the Sons of God, even to them that believe in His name." Jn 1:12.

And how did this take place, "Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God." Jn 1:13.

So instead of being just "The king of the Jews," Jesus was King over any and all who are born again by their acceptance of Him as their Savior.

A robe, a crown, a scepter, a throne, and a title, the "Insignia," or symbols of a king and a kingdom.

(Illustration of elderly dying woman and her words, "Bring.") xx "An elderly lady was dying. She kept saying, 'Bring....' that was all she could say because she was so weak. Her family frantically brought to her bedside all that they could imagine she wanted brought to her. They brought all of her favorite things like her needlework and yarn but she just shook her head no. They brought the family dog, the grandchildren, and were desperate to bring to her that which they believed she wanted. But again and again she shook her head no. Over and over she repeated the one word, "Bring..."

But just before she died, she gained strength enough to sit up in her bed and when she did she said, "Bring forth the royal diadem and crown Him Lord of all."

That is the "Insignia" which has been placed on Jesus Christ for all time and eternity. He is the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords. And someday the world will see this and recognize Him for that and as that. Men can continue to mock Him and attribute to Him the worthless "Insignia" of humility, a makeshift robe, a crown made of thorns, a reed for a scepter, a throne made from a cross, and a title of mockery. But they cannot remove or deny the fact that all of these common things were the start of His reign which shall have no end.

Do you know Jesus as the King of your life? Does He reign in your heart and life? I invite you to make that a reality if you have not already done so.

"Cross-words: Compassion"

Scripture: Luke 23:27-31

Text: Luke 23:27-28

~~Luke~~ The Gospel writer Luke tells us that Jesus ~~was~~ came to a city called Nain, followed by many of His disciples and there were also many other people there. Evidently, just the mere mention of the fact that Jesus was passing through drew a large mob of people. But Luke is not stressing the popularity of Jesus, but is telling us of an incident in His life.

He records it in this way as recorded in the 7th chapter beginning at verse 12: "Now when He came ~~near~~ nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much of the people of the city was with her.

And when the Lord saw her, He had compassion on her."

A very simple statement, "He had compassion on her." That word "Compassion" in Greek has a ^{much} ~~very~~ richer meaning than the English gives ~~to~~ it. It means, "to have the bowels yearn." In other words, it ~~is~~ means to have a depth of feeling, of sympathy, of concern, of care that comes from the very depths of the person showing this emotion. Matthew tells us that Jesus had compassion on 4 different occasions; Mark records 4 also; and Luke gives us this one incident. But in each of these recordings the word "Compassion" is found and in each it means the very deep emotion of Jesus in that particular circumstance. In our Scripture, Jesus is being led by the Roman soldiers to the place of execution. As was normal, He was walking inside of the hollow square formed by four Roman soldiers, carrying His cross. But He is tired, exhausted, badly beaten and His strength fails so that He cannot continue under the weight of the heavy cross. A vicar to Jerusalem for the Passover, a man named Simon is pressed into service to carry the cross. Also as usual, the procession takes the longest way possible to reach the execution site. This gives the populace an opportunity to see this criminal, and the soldier walking in front of the procession holds a placard reading what he is to be ~~executed~~ executed for. This gives fair warning to others not to be guilty of the same thing. That route from Pilate's judgment seat to Calvary has been called "The Via Dolorosa, or, "The way of pain." And it was just that. It was a way of pain all the way for Jesus. And because of the intense pain and suffering that He was under, in all probability it slowed everything down to the point where the incident recorded here could take place.

Luke tells us, "And there followed Him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented Him."

Now this wasn't just the women who had followed Him when He went from town to town in His ministry, these were many other women of Jerusalem who had heard of Him, or known of Him from various sources. But the point is that they were reaching out to Him in the only manner of expression possible for them. They knew they couldn't stop the execution and they were aware that ~~nothing~~ there was no way their presence would influence anything. But they did know that just being there would convey to Jesus that they cared. And as this procession wound its way down the streets these women who ought to follow were probably pushed roughly out of the way and looked upon as roadblocks to the swift and prompt performance of justice. After all, they were just women and in this masculine oriented society looked upon as an impediment at this time.

But to almost anyone with a knowledge of what Jesus had done and now what was going to be done to Him, it was evident that here was a grave miscarriage of justice. Because of this, these women reached out to Jesus in the only way they could, they followed along in this procession crying compassionately for Him.

Jesus understood their motives, but in the midst of His own problems He also reached out to them in compassion and Luke tells us, "But Jesus turning unto them said, 'Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for Me, but weep for yourselves and for your children.'" vs 28.

When we first read that it sounds as though Jesus was being ungrateful for their compassion toward Him. But that isn't so. He was saying to them that they didn't completely understand what all of this was about. They were looking upon this as another innocent man being put to death at the hands of evil men. But Jesus knew that He was giving His life for all mankind and He was pointing these women to the severe times to come in their lives in the future. He told them, "For, behold, the days are coming, in which they shall say, 'Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bore, and the breasts which never nursed,'" vs 29.

Jesus was first of all reminding them of a prophecy which Hosea gave pertaining to future days. Those days would be ones in which women would wish that they had never had children, and those women who were unable to have children or didn't have them would consider themselves very fortunate.

Jesus was pointing to the days when Jerusalem would be overrun and for these women and the inhabitants of Jerusalem they would be days of hardship and tribulation. This came to pass on the day of Passover in 70 A.D. that Titus with his Roman army arrived before the walls of Jerusalem and began to put up banks of earthwork to take the city. Approximately 600,000 visitors were in the city along with the normal populace. Five months later the walls were battered down, the temple destroyed and the city captured. But this took place only after ~~the~~ many of the people had killed their children and ate them to remain alive because of the lack of food. This was the time Jesus was referring to in conversation with these women. He was telling them that they needed to save their tears of compassion for themselves and for their children. He prophesied to them and Luke records, "Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, 'Fall on us;' and to the hills, 'Cover us.'" vs 30.

Jesus was telling them that the times in which they would have to live, would times in which they would wish for death and desire it more than life. And these words were concluded by Jesus with an analogy. Jesus said, "For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?"

What He was saying was that if the Romans condemned to death one which they admitted was innocent, how would they deal in the future with those who were found guilty? There would be no compassion on the part of the Romans. The point which needs to be made here is that there is a comparison found in this passage of Scripture.

First, there are the women who followed along with the procession crying for Jesus. They saw Him as ~~xxxx~~ a victim of the tyranny of the religious leaders and the Romans. They believed that innocent blood was going to be shed because He didn't do anything worthy of death. And their compassion was extended to Him because of this and so they only saw Him in His human weakness. The second part of the comparison is that Jesus showed compassion toward the women. He reached out to them in love and compassion because He knew they didn't understand what God was doing through His death on the cross. These women may have heard or learned about the Messiah, but they had no idea this was He in their midst. But for those who ~~xx~~ were or are in the know about the death of Jesus on the cross, there is always the danger of seeing Him only in His Divinity. We must always remember that He is The Christ, or the anointed of God and as such is The Savior, The God-man. There must always be an even balance ~~ix~~ so that we don't just see Jesus as only human, or only see Him as Divine and make Him some sort of automatic robot.

(Illustration of Mrs. Booth and her support of a prisoner)

When Mrs. Booth, the wife of William Booth the founder of the Salvation Army was a little girl, she was running along a road with a hoop and stick. She saw a prisoner dragged away by a constable and marched down the road to the jail. A mob was hooting at this unfortunate culprit, and his utter loneliness struck at her heart. Quickly she ran to his side and marched down the road with him. She was determined that there was one soul who ~~xxx~~ had compassion for him whether he suffered for his own fault, or that of another.

So it is with us. We must come to the Lord showing our compassion for His suffering and death. But we do so because we know that it was on our behalf that He suffered all of this. We identify with Jesus because He took our place and went through this horrible ordeal because He had compassion on us before we even knew Him. His love should affect us to the very depths of our being. That is the true essence of compassion. Jesus loved you and me to the point that He took our place on the cross. All that He wants from us is that we make Him Lord and Savior of our lives. That is the invitation He extends to each one. The comparison we need to make individually is to ask whether we are merely following with the crowd, or do we know Him personally as the One who in the deepest compassion, took all the abuse and punishment in our place on Calvary. I invite you to make that a reality in your life.

"Cross-Words: Self-Redemption"

Scripture: Matthew 27:39-44

(Illustration of man's boss as self-made man, & young son questioning this)
A man brought his boss home for dinner for the first time. The boss was very blustery, arrogant and self-centered. The little boy in the family stared at the man almost all evening, but didn't say anything. Finally, the boss asked the boy, "Why do you keep looking at me like that sonny?" The little boy answered, "My daddy says you are a self-made man." The boss swelled up with pride and beamed and said, "That's right son." At this the little boy asked, "Well if you are a self-made man, why did you make yourself like that?"

It was never within the plan of God that man should strive to make himself over in any way. But the first man Adam sinned and from that time to this man has sought to prove that he can improve on God's creation by acting as his own ~~own~~ god. We could well imagine God standing back from His creation periodically and looking at it and asking the question of man, "Well if you are self-made men, why did you make yourselves like that?"

Jesus came into the world and lived among mankind giving the perfect example of how man should live. For His efforts He received the condemnation of the religious community and the hatred this engendered in the hearts of many others. The culmination of this was that He was arrested, tried, convicted, and sentenced to death. In the throes of His pain and suffering as He hung on that cruel cross on Calvary, He had to endure the taunts of these people.

Matthew tells us in the 39th ~~verse~~ and 40th verses, "And they that passed by reviled Him ~~xxxxxx~~ wagging their heads and saying, 'Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save Thyself. If Thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.'"

Every word that He spoke was taken literally by those who opposed Him and hated Him. Never once did they choose to believe that He was not speaking literally, but figuratively.

But worse yet was the derision of the religious leaders. Matthew records, "Likewise also the chief priests mocking Him, with the scribes and elders, said, 'He saved others; Himself He cannot save.'"

Within this taunt was a truth these blind persecutors could not see. Some of the people who were sceptical of Jesus and who He really was were the ones Matthew speaks of as "Passing by." But the chief priests, the scribes and the elders were there to bear witness that this man was actually put to death. They weren't going to be tricked or fooled. They were going to be absolutely certain. So they were at the foot of the cross pacing back and forth and without even looking up at Jesus, but sneaking among themselves so that He would hear, they hurled the joke, "He saved others; Himself He cannot save."

Within this taunt ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ is a truth so profound that had these religious leaders known they were actually telling what had to take place, they would have never uttered the phrase. And within that phrase are to be found three very distinct conditions.

The first is that this death of Jesus was a sacrifice. And in order for it to be a true sacrifice it had to be a willing sacrifice.

In the 10th chapter of the Gospel of John, the Apostle records the words of Jesus and we read: in the 11th verse, "I am the good shepherd; the good shepherd giveth His life for the sheep."

In the 17th and 18th verses, "Therefore doth My Father love Me, because I lay down My life, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from Me, but I lay it down ~~willingly~~ of Myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again."

Thus we can see that Jesus was aware that He was sacrificing Himself for mankind and He was doing it willingly. But this is abnormal. Within each of us may well be the desire to give of ourselves, but it is only up to a certain point.

(Illustration of Albert Camus's novel, "The Fall," and lawyer)

Albert Camus wrote a novel entitled, "The Fall." In it he tells of a very respectable lawyer walking the streets of Amsterdam and he hear a call for help. He realizes that the woman calling has either fallen or been pushed into the canal. At this point his mind begins to work. "Should I rush to help? What may be the implications of this? As a respected lawyer should I get involved? And what about the personal danger? After all, who knows what has been going on over there?" By the time he has thought all of this through it is too late. And so he moves on making all kinds of excuses to justify his inaction. Camus writes, "He did not answer the cry for help. That is the man he was."

And in our society today we have improved upon this image to the nth degree. We can hear all sorts of reasons why people will not get involved in helping. And I believe that unfortunately has found its way into the church so that we can only find a handful of willing people ~~to~~ who are willing to get involved in the work of the Lord.

The second condition of sacrifice as found in the phrase, "He saved others; Himself He cannot save," is the condition of a Worthy Purpose.

Those who sought the death of Jesus didn't see any other purpose in this execution except His death and good riddance to Him. But God had it planned for the good of mankind. It had a Worthy Purpose. Jesus said, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down His life for His friends." There wasn't a person whom Jesus didn't consider as His friend. No matter how vile or how low an individual may have fallen, that person was of importance to Jesus Christ. This is why He was accused of eating with sinners and mingling with prostitutes and lepers, and other castaways. He did this because as He said, His meat was to do the will of His Father. And that meat was to seek and to save the lost. He said He didn't come to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved. All of this spoke of the Worthy Purpose of that which He was going through as He hung on that cross and died. The third condition is that what was taking place was being done because of an Impelling Love. It took love to do what He did. But moreso, it was a love that He couldn't shake off or refuse. He simply had to do it and He knew it. There was no way around it and He discovered that when He prayed in the garden and asked God to remove that cup from Him. He knew for a certainty that He could not escape this sacrifice and He was impelled to do it and go through with it.

As a young boy He said in the temple that "He must be about His Father's business." That impelling love of "Must" was evident throughout His earthly ministry. He taught His disciples several times that "The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of man and must die." He never backed down from what He knew His main purpose to be, and now there was no way that He could come down from the cross and complete the sacrifice God had planned through Him. It was impossible for Him to save Himself as He was being taunted to do. There are many, many stories on record of people who have sacrificed their lives to save others. Each year the Carnegie foundation gives medals many of which are given posthumously for saving others lives. I read of a very young and promising surgeon back in the days when there was no real cure for diphtheria who worked to save a little boy. His name was Samuel Rabbeth and this boy was brought to the London hospital for an operation. He examined the boy and he knew that it was only a matter of a day or so and he would be dead. The only way to circumvent this way to remove the diphtherial obstruction in his throat and that was only possible by inserting a tube and siphoning that obstruction out in the tube. He also knew there was a good possibility that he could contract the disease and die. But he willingly inserted the tube in the boy's throat, put the tube to his lips and sucked out the poisonous pus. And a week later he was dead. But sacrifices like this are not in the same realm as that of Jesus Christ. The sacrifice He made was for the salvation of all mankind.

But His sacrifice should never be just the simple, "Well, He died for me," and so we accept it lightly and take it lightly in our lives.

(Illustration of Bishop Moore and being worthy of saving)

A little boy was swimming in a lake one day and suddenly he got a cramp in his leg and could not swim to shore. He began to struggle and then he went under the water twice. It was then that he felt a strong arm grab him and begin to take him to shore. A man had seen the boy's struggles and had gone in the water to rescue him. The man got the boy to shore and when he had determined that he was all right he turned to leave. The little boy said, "Thank you sir, for saving my life." The man replied, "You're welcome son. See to it that you are worth saving." That boy said that ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ from then on through all of his life he never forgot those words. That boy became Bishop Moore a noted preacher in England.

That is a good question we should ask ourselves. "Are we worth saving?" Was the sacrifice of Jesus made for us being properly shown in our lives for Him? Is it something we have accepted freely and greedily, but yet something for which we never give thanks or show gratitude? He endured the taunts and the derision of those people and the religious leaders for each of us.

He didn't have to ~~xxx~~ stay on that cross. He could have come down, because He had that power to stop His execution. But He chose to take all that was being given to Him. That was the humiliation and the degradation of all of this. And why? For you and me

Do you truly love Him as your Savior? Do you truly know Him as your Savior? If you don't, I invite you to take Him today and accept that salvation He offers to all mankind. He did indeed save others, but ~~He~~ Himself He could not save, because He wanted us to ~~have~~ be saved.

"The Rights Of Mr. Right"

Scripture: Matthew 21:1-111

Text: Matthew 21:11

(Illustration of hypothetical story of teen-agers on roof, and their rights)
On PaulHarvey's news program yesterday I heard of a hypothetical story written by a newspaper man. It never happend, so please don't think that it did. It concerned a group of teenagers on the roof of a ten-story building who were drinking and taking drugs. As they began to feel the bravado of the situation, they began daring one another to jump. Their diea was not to commit suicide, but to thrill in the adventure of just jumping from the building. A man sensing what was going on got some parachutes together and went to the roof of the building. He began to implore the youth that if they desired to jump they could do so safely with the parachutes and still have their fun. Some of them took the parachutes, while others declined them. Some of those who jumped with the chutes landed safely; others were injured in the fall because the chute didn't open, or became entangled in the chute of someone else; while still others who refused the chutes just jumped and came to the sudden stop at the bottom. When the bloody carnage was ended, there were those who protested that the one thing which was not given to them was the choice of not jumping and so their rights had not been complete.

Now in this hypothetical situation we can find the kernal of truth for combating AIDS, cancer and the other plasues which are a part of our lives. We read and hear of the measures being given that run the gamut insuring us of safe sex, low cholesterol, freedom of risk and on and on. But in all of these measures we always hear of our ~~xxx~~ so called "Rights" to do as we please. We have the "right" and no one can keep us from it. But I submit to you that many years ago there was an occasion in which someone had all of the "rights" to do as He saw fit, and yet, chose the only "right" in the situation which was not ~~manifested~~ done for His own benefit.

It was an absolutely wild celebration. People were shouting hallelujah, and hosanna. Palm branches were being waved in the air and strewn on the road, and garments were being cast into the streets. King Jesus was entering Jerusalem to the wild enthusiasm of thousands.

Even Gentiles, proselytes to Judaism were a part of this huge throng welcoming and hailing Jesus as the Son of David, King of Israel, and Messiah. This was finally the day which had been awaited and the long-expected Messiah had finally come. This was the One they had prayed, had hoped, had dreamed of, and had now arrived. It was the first day of the week, which has since then been known as "Palm Sunday." But tragically, at the end of this very week, this One hailed as "The Long Expected Messiah and Savior" would be dead at the very hands of these who acclaimed Him. How could these people turn on Jesus in such a short period of time? Why was He treated on one day as the long awaited and sought after King, and a few days later as Someone who should be put to death? To understand we must look at two significant events which took place just prior to this Palm Sunday which triggered the ultimate action on the following Friday.

Jesus had been friends with a man named Lazarus who lived with his two sisters Mary and Martha in Bethany. Their home was one of His favorite stopping places when He was coming from or going to Jerusalem. Lazarus was a well-known man in Jerusalem and he and his sisters were deeply involved in the religious life of Jerusalem. So it was that when Lazarus took sick and died that a great mass of humanity turned out in Bethany to mourn his passing. And there was no doubt about the fact that he was dead. The account of this in the Gospel of John tells us that he was in the tomb for four days when Jesus arrived on the scene. This emphasis was to point out to those reading ~~this event~~ about this event that he was not in a trance, or stupor, but really dead. The Jews believed that after someone had been dead for four days, any remaining spirit in him left because the decay was so vile, since they did not embalm.

So when Jesus appeared in Bethany, Lazarus was not only dead, but according to Jewish tradition his spirit had left him. But suddenly on the command of Jesus, in front of all of these people, many of whom were the religious leaders, Lazarus came from the tomb alive. Jesus had made some strange claims, had performed some miraculous deeds, but this feat topped them all. Word spread like wildfire. "Did you hear about that man named Lazarus coming back from the dead? Did you hear that Jesus did this?" But on other occasions, Jesus had deliberately avoided the spotlight, yet on this one, He performed this action in broad daylight in front of even those whom He knew were His enemies. He knew that this was the proper time for this action. Following this the chief priest, ~~the~~ and the pharisees came together in a council and ~~then~~ John tells us in his Gospel, the 11th chapter, verses 47 & 48, "What do we? For this man doeth many miracles. If we let Him thus alone, all men will believe on Him: and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and our nation."

Up to this point they had mildly protested this Jesus, but now He had overstepped His bounds and it was time for a final solution. So they talked it over and came to the conclusion that the Passover was coming up and He would probably appear at the Feast, and plans were drawn up to seize Him at that time.

The second event which precipitated the death of Jesus after His acclamation as King of Israel took place in the home of Lazarus a short time after the raising of Lazarus from the dead. This is pointed out in the 12th chapter of John's Gospel and we read in the 2nd verse that Lazarus was indeed alive and seated at the table with Jesus, (read verse 2). Then we read, "Then took Mary a pound of ointment, of spikenard, very costly." verse 3a.

Spikenard was a perfume that was imported from the Himalaya Mountains of China. This pound of perfume was worth a small fortune.

So what did she do with it? John tells us, "And anointed the feet of Jesus." Now we all know that you do not take expensive perfume and wash someone's dirty feet with it. The roads were dusty and dirty, but perfume was too expensive for ~~the~~ washing feet.

But she also did another unusual thing. We read, "And wiped His feet with her hair." verse 3b.

There was a rule in Jewish tradition that a woman never took her hair down in the presence of a man who was not her husband. That was propriety and only a woman of the street would do that. So Mary defied all tradition. Mary showed her love for Jesus. When love reaches its limit, it gives and Mary gave the most priceless commodity she had, her expensive perfume. But in the midst of this outburst of love, John points out the opposite which is hate. He tells us how Judas Iscariot was angered and asked why this perfume was not sold to benefit the poor. And John explains that Judas said this because he was a thief. He wasn't concerned about helping the poor, he was a devil-filled thief who was afraid of being caught. But this also triggered his subsequent actions of betraying Jesus to the authorities.

John again points out, "Much people of the Jews therefore knew that He was there: and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom He had raised from the dead. But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death." verses 9-10.

Their plans were to eliminate not only Jesus, but Lazarus and then their problems would be over.

These were the two events which brought Jesus to the road out of Bethany leading into Jerusalem and as He traveled toward Jerusalem, the news of His approach drew more and more people who crowded Jerusalem for the coming Passover Feast which was to start in a few short days. So then we have the familiar narrative of His triumphal entry into Jerusalem. And when ~~asked~~ the question was asked by anyone who really didn't know who this was, the answer was given, "This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee." Mt. 21:11.

It was the right year, the right week, the right day, the right hour, and the right Man. It was Mr. Right, exercising His Rights. Judith Roth wrote a few short lines depicting what Jesus may have sensed or felt as He rode down that street into Jerusalem with this huge crowd acclaiming Him. She wrote:

In their eyes, I am a warrior, and this colt-a massive warhorse.

They watch my fingers, tangled in the mane and see a kindly grip on a saving sword.
They watch my lips with expectation for a sovereign command.

They spread their cloaks in the dust for a savior, but they don't know what it means.
They sing their praises for my kingdom, but they point at Jerusalem.

Yes, hosanna, blessed is the king who comes in the name of the Lord....
But oh--- blind children.

My kingdom is not of this world.

There is the right which He chose. Jesus was Mr. Right, and He had all of the rights of asserting Himself and establishing His kingdom right then and there. Had He asserted Himself and called down a legion of angels and overthrown the Romans He would have aptly been acclaimed as that Messiah. But to the astonishment of everyone He walked right into the trap set for Him by His enemies. His "Right" which He chose defies all solutions. Instead of reigning as a King, He took the "Right" of dying as a criminal. But He had to die. Otherwise there would have never been salvation for mankind, and if we do not understand this fact, then we do not know anything about why He came.

So we shouldn't get carried away with the hallelujahs and Hosannas, because we see that Jesus wasn't fooled by them. He knew it was a passing thing and unless we talk of Jesus' death at this Easter season, we don't know the true meaning of all of it. If you believe everything about Jesus Christ except the fact that He died for your sin and provided the gift of salvation that you can receive, it would all be meaningless. He had to die. That was ~~the~~ one of the "Rights of Mr. Right." If you have never trusted Him as your Saviour, receive Him now, today. That is your "Right" which He gives to each of us and I extend that invitation on behalf of Him, who cometh in the name of the Lord.

Prelude

*Hymn No. 253 "Beneath the Cross of Jesus"

Beneath the cross of Jesus I gladly take my stand;
The shadow of a mighty rock Within a weary land,
A home within the wilderness, A rest upon the way,
From the burning of the noontide heat And the burden of the day.

Upon that cross of Jesus My eyes at times can see
The very dying form of One Who suffered there for me;
And from my smitten heart, with tears, Two wonders

I confess-
The wonders of His glorious love And my unworthiness.

I take, O cross, thy shadow For my abiding place;
I ask no other sunshine than The sunshine of His face,
Content to let the world go by, To know no gain or loss,
My sinful self my only shame, My glory all the cross.

*Call to Worship:

Pastor - When it was evening, He sat at the table with His disciples.

People - As they were eating He said, "The Son of man goes as it is written of Him."

Pastor - Let us seek Him in confession.

*Prayer of Confession (In Unison) Father you sent Your Son that we might have life. He invited His disciples to share in the evening meal, the breaking of bread and the pouring of wine. He invited them to receive His gift of love and the offering up of Himself; and He invites us now to receive that same gift of grace.
May we be drawn together by the breaking of bread and know the joy of sin forgiven, even as we forgive those who sin against us. Cleanse us anew and hear us as we confess our sins and shortcomings this night. This we

Communion Hymn No. 251 "In The Cross of Christ I Glory"

In the cross of Christ I glory, Towering o'er the wrecks of time;

All the light of sacred story
Gathers round its head sublime.

When the woes of life o'er take me, Hopes deceive and fears annoy,

Never shall the cross forsake me:
Lo! its glows with peace and joy

When the sun of bliss is beaming Light and love upon my way,

From the cross the radiance streaming
Adds more luster to the day.

Pain and blessing, pain and pleasure,
By the cross are sanctified;

Peace is there that know no measure,
Joys that through all time abide.Amen.

*Hymn No. 270 "I Believe in a Hill Called Mount Calvary"

There are things as we travel this earth's shifting sands
That transcend all the reason of man;
But the things that matter the most in this world,
They can never be held in our hand.

I believe that the Christ who was slain on that cross
Has the power to change lives today;
For He changed me completely a new life is mine,
That is why by the cross I will stay.

I believe that this life with its great mysteries
Surely someday will come to an end;
But the faith will conquer the darkness and death
And will lead me at last to my friend.

Refrain: I believe in a hill called Mount Calvary-

I'll believe whatever the cost;

And when time has surrendered and earth is no more,

I'll still cling to that old rugged cross.

"Cross Words: Pierced"

Scripture: John 19:31-37

A strange and eerie silence had settled over the area in and around the hill outside of Jerusalem where the three executions had taken place. ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ It was late afternoon on that ~~xxxxx~~ Friday and soon the Sabbath in the Feast of the Passover would begin. Thus the religious leaders were concerned that these criminals hanging on crosses on Golgotha would defile the Feast, because it was a custom of the Romans to allow the body of the crucified to remain on the cross until it rotted away. Their reason was to deepen the shame of their death and to intensify the horror at their crime. The Jewish leaders thus sought to prevent this from taking place and so it is that John tells us: "The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain on the cross on the Sabbath day, (for that Sabbath day was an high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken and they might be taken away." Jn 19:31.

This was the start of the Sabbath and preparations were underway in every good Jewish household. But it was also the Sabbath in the celebration of the Feast of the Passover, a "High day" as John calls it. To remove the bodies from their crosses, the criminals had to be dead. In order to insure this, the Romans used a procedure that took care of all doubt. They took a heavy iron mallet and ~~xxxxxxxx~~ struck the legs of the criminals thus breaking the bones. When this was done, the legs would no longer support the weight of the criminal and he slumped down on the cross thus bringing on suffocation because he couldn't breathe and so he died within minutes of this event. In the only known archeological find of a crucifixion, which came to light in 1968, the skeletal remains revealed that the lower legs had been shattered by a single blow. Thus we can see the truth of what John was writing.

So John writes that this procedure was done on the two criminal who were crucified with Jesus. "But when they came to Jesus and saw that He was dead already, they brake not His legs:"But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced His side, and forthwith came there out blood and water." vs 33-34.

John relates these incidents in this manner for several reasons. First, he wanted to relate that he was witness to this as he points out in the 35th verse, (read this).

Then he relates it back to Scripture to show that God was fulfilling Scripture through Jesus. To tie Scripture up in this incident is to prove that this was a part of God's plan.

Way back in the ~~xxxx~~ history of Israel, King David writing under the inspiration of God recorded in the 22nd Psalm a vivid picture of all that transpired in the crucifixion of Jesus so many years later. A part of that prophecy, if we may call it that is found in the 16th verse. David wrote, "For dogs have compassed me: the assembly of the wicked have enclosed me: they pierced my hands and feet."

The dogs referred to here are the Romans because they were Gentiles and any Gentile was called and thought of as a dog. They would also be the "assembly of the wicked." And of course in order to nail Jesus to the cross it was necessary to pierce His feet and hands with nails.

The prophet Zechariah writing of coming events about 500 years before Jesus came on the scene wrote in his prophecy, the 12th chapter, the 10th verse: "And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplication: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first-born."

Much of that prophecy has not yet come to pass for the Jews have not yet looked upon Him "whom they have pierced." Those alive at the time of the crucifixion did so. But Jesus has not yet been recognized as their Messiah.

So then we see the truth which John is writing about when he says, "For these things were done, that the Scripture should be fulfilled." vs 36a.

We can readily see the fulfillment of the 37th verse, "They shall look on Him whom they have pierced."

But the latter part of the 36th ~~chapter~~ ^{VERSE} not only relates back to the 22nd Psalm, but it also is involved in the special Feast the Jews were celebrating at the time of the death of Jesus.

Back at the time when the Jews were awaiting their delivery from ~~the~~ ^{their} Egyptian slave owners, God gave them specific instructions in the Passover feast they were to eat. Among those instructions as found in the 12th chapter of Exodus is found the instruction ~~xxxxxx~~ regarding the lamb. In the 46th verse of the 12th chapter of Exodus we read, "In one house it shall be eaten; thou shalt not carry forth ought of the flesh abroad out of the house; neither shall ye break a bone thereof."

The crucifixion of Jesus was directly related to this sacrificial lamb. It was not only to be spotless and without blemish, but that also meant it could not have any broken bones. To be in that condition would make it less than perfect. Carrying the comparison further ~~to~~ that meant that although Jesus had to go through the horrible ordeal of death by crucifixion, yet His body remained perfect without broken bones. True, He was pierced with the nails and the spear; and yes, He lost blood. But like the Passover lamb slain for each household, that was the only loss suffered, the loss of blood, with the loss of life.

(Illustration of lost boy and the cross near his home)

A little boy was lost and the police were at a loss as to who he was and where he lived. The boy simply did not know the answers to their questions. It was a rather large city so this made it more difficult for the police. Finally, one of them asked the boy if he could name something from his neighborhood which might identify where he lived. He thought about this for a while and then he said, "Near where I live there is a big cross. If you can take me to the cross, I'll find my way home."

What a profound truth. During this Lenten season we have been talking about "Cross-words." The only word that makes sense for any of us for our lives is the word "Cross." It is when we come to the Cross that we have finally come home. It is at the cross that we can look and see the One who was pierced for us and the truth of Scripture is revealed. It is then that we look upon Him whom God permitted to be pierced for us. It is upon that cross of Jesus that our eyes should see the very dying form of One who suffered there for me, as the hymn tells us.

He was pierced so that His blood could cover our sins. May we never forget the cost of His love for us and claim that love in His blood.

Hymn "He Lives"

I serve a risen Savior, He's in the world today;
I know that He is living, whatever men may say;
I see His hand of mercy, I hear His voice of cheer
And just the time I need Him He's always near.

In all the world around me I see His loving care,
And though my heart grows weary I never will despair;
I know that He is leading through all the stormy blast
The day of His appearing will come at last.

Rejoice, Rejoice, O Christian lift up your voice and sing Eternal Hallelujahs to Jesus Christ the King!
The Hope of all who seek Him, the Help of all who find,
None other is so loving, so good and kind.

Chorus:

He lives, He lives, Christ Jesus lives today!
He walks with me and talks with me along life's narrow way.

He lives, He lives salvation to impart,
You ask me now I know He lives? He lives within my heart!

Easter Prayer

Scripture: John 20: 1-10

Sermon: "The Faces of Easter"

*Hymn "Because He Lives"

God sent His Son, they called Him Jesus,
He came to love, heal and forgive;
He lived and died to buy my pardon,
An empty grave is there to prove my Saviour lives.

How sweet to hold a newborn baby,
And feel the pride and joy He gives;
But greater still the calm assurance,
This child can face uncertain days because He lives.

And then one day I'll cross the river,
I'll fight life's final war with pain;
And then as death gives way to victory
I'll see the lights of glory and I'll know He lives.

CHORUS: Because He lives, I can face tomorrow
Because He lives all fear is gone,
Because I know He holds the future.
And live is worth the living just because He lives.

Pastor - We have come again to the empty tomb. We are loved, forgiven and made new through our Risen Savior Jesus Christ.

People - Through Him we have passed our of death into life.

Pastor - The peace of God which passes all understanding, keep your hearts and minds in the knowledge and love of God, and of His Son Jesus Christ, our Lord. God in peace.
Amen.

"Surprise"

Scripture: Luke 24:1-12

Text: Luke 24:5b

(Illustration of Amy being dead)

It was a rainy, wet night in San Gabriel, California in January of 1983. There in ardinely lit Episcopal Church a solemn service was being held. Behind dripping stained glass windows the church was filled with people. At the end of the opening hymn, the rector moved slowly and silently to the lectern. In a voice filled with anger and grief, he spoke with horrible directness: "Amy Elizabeth Nixon is dead."

The uncle of Amy who works for World Vision wrote of her death in April of 1983 and he says, "Amy Elizabeth Nixon is dead," even to write those words now seems a profanity. Amy was my niece, a bright, happy eight-year-old whose life had been stolen away by leukemia. Her death ~~xxxx~~ is still to me, three months later, an ugly, detestable truth. I cannot dwell on it long. I have seen death ~~xxxx~~ up close, and I hate it. But that's not all. Amy's death is a detestable lie.

Yes, she suffered, (and we suffered). She finally closed her eyes and left us (and we are alone). But died? That's the lie."

How can anyone deny death? It is there and whether we have experienced it in our immediate family, or ~~xxxxxx~~ know of it from our circle of friends, it is something that is real. If we don't believe any other thing from God's Word, we must believe the reality of the verse from the book of Hebrews that tells us, "It is appointed unto man once to die."

A popular song of some years ago asks the question, "Is that all there is?" Its conclusion is that if there isn't real meaning to life then we may as well "Break out the booze and have a ball." In other words, live it up because you only go around once in this life and after that there is nothing. But a creating, caring, loving God gives us the answers to life and has proven to mankind that there is life beyond the grave.

The man known as Jesus of Nazareth and called by the names of Son of God, Son of David, and others, had been executed as a common thief on Friday. His body was placed in a ~~xxx~~ borrowed tomb of a rich man. His followers were disillusioned and filled with grief. All of the wonderful things He had told them concerning a glorious kingdom to be set up by God in which they would each have a vital role was now nothing more than a shattered dream.

As far as they were concerned, there was no real meaning to life and they may have asked following His death and burial, "Is that all there is?"

So it was that some women followers of Jesus decided to come to the tomb and complete the burial ritual which didn't completely take place on that Friday afternoon. Luke records for us, "Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them."

These people are identified by Luke in the 10th verse where he tells us, "It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary, the mother of James, and other women that were with them."

So it was a group of women who braved the cold gray dawn to come to the tomb on that Sunday morning. But when they arrived Luke continues, "And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus." vss 2-3.

A strange supernatural event had occurred since the stone was too large and heavy to be moved easily. Evidently, there was no sign of a group of people working and struggling to roll the stone out of its groove and away from the opening of the tomb. The only thing amiss, was that the stone was indeed rolled away.

So wondering about this, Luke tells us, "And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed about this, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments; and as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, 'Why seek ye the living among the dead?'"

Here is their answer to that which was troubling them. But was it really an answer? "Why seek the living among the dead?" The dead didn't come back to life and this surprise had to be hoax, or a well conceived plot. The utter astonishment of these women must have been very similar to the experiences of so many concerning this Easter and resurrection stuff.

(Illustration of Dr. Cary W. Perdue & seminary student not know about Easter)
Dr. Cary Perdue is a Biblical scholar who tells of a sunrise service he once attended as a teenager. The speaker was a theological student from a theological school in Virginia. The opening ~~xxx~~ remarks of this student were, "I don't have the slightest idea what Easter is all about, but I will tell you what I think it means." Dr. Perdue adds that his opening statement proved to be all too prophetic.

A retired preacher who liked to preach in various churches sent out letters to many of them letting them know that he was available to fill their pulpits. But in his letter he informed them not to invite him for Christmas or Easter because he said, "He didn't know what to say." What could we, or would we say about Easter?

Those women stood in that tomb confronted by the angels and were asked the question, "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" and as they pondered that question the angels told them, "He is not here, but is risen! Remember how He spoke unto you when He was yet in Galilee, saying, 'The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again:'"

And as they pondered these further revelations we are told, "And they remembered His words."

They remembered what He had told them and they rushed to tell the disciples all about this since it was too good to keep to themselves.

But does this event we call Easter stir our hearts and lives like it did those first disciples? Do we really know what Easter is all about?

(Illustration of 4 year-old-girl in Sunday School and her answer)

A group of four year-olds were in a Sunday school class and the teacher asked, "Does anyone know what today is?"

One little girl held up her hand and said, "I do. Today is Palm Sunday."

"That's right," the teacher said. "Now who knows what next Sunday is?"

Again the same little girl held up her finger and said, "Next Sunday is Easter."

"Wonderful," the teacher exclaimed. "And now does anyone know what makes next Sunday Easter?"

The same little girl held up her finger and answered, "Next Sunday is Easter because Jesus rose from the grave."

But before the teacher could congratulate her on her answers the little girl continued talking and added, "But if He sees His shadow He has to go back for seven weeks."

Unfortunately, for many people the Resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead is on a par with the groundhog seeing his shadow to predict more winter weather. It is simply something that cannot be believed since it cannot be proved and must be taken on faith alone.

The man we quoted in the beginning of this message, Ray Feldomridge wrote a letter to his dead niece and this is what he wrote: (read letter to Amy). His faith is that his niece is in the presence of God and there is a life beyond this one. The account in Luke of the empty tomb and the angels asking, "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" gives the truth to that. But the problem for so many is that they have heard enough about eternity to come to the conclusion that the life beyond this one will be spent either in the presence of God or separated from Him for all eternity. It becomes a matter of entering a relationship with God. This cannot be done living apart from God but must take place by accepting His gift of salvation which comes to us through Jesus Christ. All of the events of His arrest, trial, execution and death had the meaning and purpose of bringing any and all who would to a relationship with God that will never end.

(Illustration of three-year-olds meaning of Easter)

A man tells of his three-year-old daughter Nicole getting ready for Easter. Someone had bought her a pretty new dress, and her mother had gotten her a white bonnet. Now he had to take her shopping and get her a new pair of shoes. They stopped in a store and bought a pair that matched her new outfit and Nicole told him for the umpteenth time, "I can't wait for Easter, Daddy."

To this he asked, "Do you know what Easter means?" And she replied, "Yes." "Well, what does it mean?" And with her arms raised, a sweet smile on her face, and at the top of her voice she said, "Surprise!!"

What better word to sum up Easter, than "Surprise." It was a surprise to the women at the tomb; it was a surprise to any and all who heard of it; and it is a surprise to each of us. It makes death out to be a lie. Yes, there is still death to be faced, but it is no longer final and the complete end. It has been defeated and Jesus Christ has risen from the dead to become the firstfruits of them that slept. "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" Surprise, He is alive forevermore, and we can have that eternal life through Him. It is yours and mine for the taking.

presented for the community following a business meeting.

Following the sermon we sing an invitational hymn, followed by a period giving each worshipper the opportunity for

"Long In The Key Of 'G'"

Scripture: Psalm 4

(Illustration of Pete Jones and Sam Frank, play on Left Heart In San Fran.)
Pete Jones and Sam Frank were two musicians who were the best of buddies. But Pete was a bit more religious than Sam. They both died about the same time and went to their eternal reward. Pete went to heaven and was issued a harp, choral music and everything that went with it. He had everything he wanted, but he missed his friend Sam Frank. One day the angel in charge asked him if everything was satisfactory. Pete told him it was, but he would like to see his old friend Sam just once. The angel informed him that he could arrange it for the next day. The only rule was that he had to be back at heaven's gate before midnight. Because at midnight the gate closed and he would be locked out for good if he didn't make it on time. So the next day Pete went down to where his friend Sam Frank was and discovered that he was running a Disco. All day he was with Sam Frank and he really enjoyed the music and even joined in on it ~~with~~ by strumming his harp. He kept check on his watch and when it got close to midnight bid goodbye to Sam and just made it in the heavenly gate before it closed. The next day the angel in charge met him and asked how he liked his trip to see his buddy Sam Frank. He told the angel how he enjoyed it and especially the music. At the mention of the word music, the angel asked, "Speaking of music, I notice you don't have your harp with you today." At this, Pete clapped his hand to his head and said, "Oh, No. I left my harp in Sam Frank's disco."

Now that all of you have gotten the groans out of your system, who would like to give me an "G" in perfect pitch. Of course I realize that the musical scale doesn't go that high, but stops at the letter "H."

I'm sure that most of us know that the Psalms were the hymns of the people of Israel. They were poems and pieces of prose which were later set to music. Most of them spoke of the familiar things the people of Israel knew and may well have lived through. The 4th Psalm which we are using as Scripture this morning is a good example of this. It was written by King David at a particular time of his life and at the very beginning says, "To the chief musician on Neginoth." The word "Neginoth" is merely a term meaning "stringed instrument." In this Psalm, David strikes the note of the letter "G" 5 different times.

Absalom has revolted against his father David. He has drawn many of the followers of his father to his side. They are massed somewhere outside of Jerusalem waiting for the word to attack and overthrow King David and to anoint Absalom as the new King. But David has fled Jerusalem and is out in the wilderness with his faithful followers who had remained loyal to him. David writes in the 1st verse, (read this). David is calling out for God's salvation. That's the first "G" in this song. But that salvation he is calling for is a personal salvation. Notice he says, "Hear 'me;' when 'I' call; O God of 'My righteousness; Thou hast enlarged 'Me;' when 'I' was in distress; have mercy upon 'ME' and hear 'MY' prayer. It is personal salvation David seeks.

(Illustration of two men swimming)

Two men were at the beach. One was lying on the sand soaking up the sun. The other was in the water swimming. Suddenly, the one in the water waded in what he thought was shallow water and stepped off ~~into the deep~~ a ledge into the deep. "Help, help," he called, "I can't swim." The fellow lying on the beach replied, "Neither can I, but I'm not making a fuss about it."

And isn't it always when man gets into deep water that he seeks help? Isn't it when man finds he cannot control his destiny that he reaches out for salvation? David was doing this and he wasn't concerned about anyone else, but his own personal salvation. "Have mercy upon Me and hear MY prayer." But David wanted that salvation to go beyond just saving him. He wrote in this song, (read verse 2).

His desire was that this salvation from God would be so complete, so thorough, that it would shut the mouths of those enemies of God. The word "leaving" used in this Psalm simply means, "lying, telling untruths." So we see then the first theme of this song is that of salvation.

After Salvation the next step is "Sanctification." Sanctification always follows salvation that is the logical sequence. A person receives Salvation but then he must go and live it and that calls for the ~~sanctified~~ sanctified life. We read this in the 3rd and 4th verses, (read these). So the next note of "2" in this song is that of sanctification. It is personal sanctification, or godly living that is required at this point.

The last phrase of ~~this~~ the 4th verse is significant in what it is saying. It reads, "Be still." The word in Hebrew is to "keep silence, or to be silent." And one Biblical commentator says it means simply, "hut up." How many people want to be silent before God? ~~Most~~ Most people feel they must plead their case to Him and so they never keep silent before God and let Him be God. But there must come a time when we absolutely "hut up" and let God answer as He chooses.

The third note of this song is that of "sacrifice." We read in the 5th verse, (read this). The Jewish people knew what these sacrifices were. First there was the burnt offering. This was given completely to and for God. The smoke ascended and it was accepted by God as worship. Jesus in later years was offered on the cross and this was the ~~ultimate~~ ultimate sacrifice.

The next offering was the meal offering. This consisted of finely ground flour. It was smooth and even in texture, no lumps or impediments. It symbolized perfection and this what Jesus was.

The third offering was the peace offering. This offering brought the worshiper and God together and in this offering was pictured Christ's presence. In His life Jesus made it very plain that He wanted to have communion with all mankind, that He wanted to come into the life of everyone. Thus in the three offerings of the Jews we can see the complete sacrifice which was given by God for mankind in Jesus Christ. The picture was always there yet never understood and the words of David in this song were not only an invitation to come to God, but were also prophetic.

The fourth note of this song is that of "Song." David wrote, (read verse 6). He had many in his midst who were defeated and they had not even encountered the enemy in battle. They were being negative in their attitudes. They asked, "Who will show us any good?" They didn't have faith that God was on their side, they had to see it to believe it. That these people didn't realize was that in all of this David's heart was heavy. His beloved son had rebelled against him and it was not with joy, but with deep regret and sadness that David was in hiding from this son. Above all else David was feeling the weight of a father wanting his child to be obedient, yet knowing full well that the outcome might very well result in the death of that rebellious son. So it was that David could be positive even though tears were running down his cheeks.

So it is that while those around him were negative, David could write, (read verse 7). David was thinking of the times of harvest festival. This was the Feast of Tabernacles and what a boisterous and happy time it was. The barns were bursting, the wine vats were filled to overflowing and everybody was having a holiday time of it. All who could came to Jerusalem to raise their songs of harvest home. It was very much like our celebration of Thanksgiving. Yet in the midst of this David had been reduced to the life of a beggar. He was in ~~hiding~~ hiding for his very life. It was almost as though he was the hunted and his son was the hunter and not the reverse. But in this David's spirit soared. What had he lost? A palace, a table loaded with all good things, money - - all of these were mere material things. What did he have left? God. His joy at this point was not in goods. Those things would come and go, but God was everything. As long as he had Him, he had everything. Is it any wonder that his song was that of Salvation, Sanctification, sacrifice and Song. He was singing in the "Key of C."

But Absalom was massing his army to strike the final blow. The very armies that David had trained and finely honed like the edge of a sword, were the armies that Absalom now commanded. With this threat hanging over him what did David do? The answer lies in the 8th verse, and we read, (read this verse). David laid down to sleep in ease because he trusted in God. The final note of David's song was that of "Security." So David wrote, (read verse 8). In his palace in Jerusalem, armed guards patrolled the walls, the corridors and no one could get to him. Here in the open outdoors he felt even safer because he rested in the complete Security of God.

~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ Easter has come and gone for this year. For too many it was just another holiday to be celebrated with as much pomp and circumstance possible to purchase. For most people it reached its peak and then life has once again slipped into the ordinary. But I believe that ~~xxxxxx~~ the thoughts and joys of Easter are something that should continue each day following Easter.

(Illustration of Mr. Davenport and being about business as usual)

~~John~~ Greenleaf Whittier wrote the lines:

And there he stands in memory to this day
Direct, self-poised, a rugged face half seen
Against a background of unnatural dark.
A witness to the ages as they pass
That simply duty hath no place for fear.

What prompted those words was a rare event which took place in the eastern seaboard of the United States on May 19, 1780. A dark haze began to spread across the sky. And then a thick darkness emerged. By noon it was as dark as night. Schools were dismissed and torches were lit in the streets. Birds went to roost and by one-o'clock fear had turned into panic at this strange phenomenon. Thousands crowded into churches to hear ministers expound on the Day of Judgement.

In Hartford, Connecticut both houses of the legislature were meeting, but one of them quickly dismissed since its members thought the world would end at any moment. The other body continued although greatly distressed. One man finally made a motion to disband, since the day of reckoning ~~was~~ was thought to have come. Immediately, a man named Davenport, a Christian, objected, saying, "Mr. Speaker, this is either the Day of Judgement or it is not. If it is not, there is no need of adjourning. If it is ~~is~~ is, I desire to be found doing my work. I move that candles be brought in and that we proceed to business." The meeting went on.

I believe this is what our stance should be in life today now that the season of lent is past and Easter has come and gone. We need to be found faithful to our tasks which God has given us. We know the Salvation God has provided through Jesus and our daily lives should be lived in Sanctification. This means Sacrifice on the part of each believer with complete worship. This in turn brings forth the Long in our hearts for what God has done for us and because of all of this we rest completely in the Security God provides. Do you know all of this? And is it a part of your life in this Post-Easter season? If you don't, you can know it, through a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. I invite you to make Him a part of your life today.

"LIFE'S ELEMENTARY INGREDIENT: THE NEED"

(Revised from 5/3/87)

St. Augustine one of the early church fathers once said, "Our souls are restless until they find their rest in Thee." He was speaking of an "Elementary Ingredient" found in the life of each individual who walks this earth.

(Illustration of atheist and his remark about all people worshipping something)

I had a conversation once with a man I visited. He was a member of the church but he said he didn't believe in God, in Jesus Christ, or in religion as such. He said he was an atheist. I questioned how he had become a member of a Christian church and there is where I learned how he had embraced atheism. He said that during World War II he had been in the Merchant Marines and had sailed all over the world. He said that in every country, island, or territory they had stopped at, everyone worshipped something. That something might be a tree, a stone, a statue, or an animal or snake. But all people everywhere worship something. So he had come to the place where he could not believe there is a God.

This I believe in essence is what St. Augustine was getting at. Within each person there is an elementary ingredient that makes the individual seek something to worship. God has planted that in each of us. In the next weeks I would like to look at this thing called "Worship."

(Illustration of Mexican woman and "Jesus of the Tortilla")

(Illustration of Christmas 86 and statue crying real tears in Chicago church)

To us it may seem incredible that anyone would worship a tortilla, or a crying statue, but down through the centuries many, many people have had a distorted idea of worship.

A. W. Tozer, a great preacher and Christian writer once said, "Worship is the missing jewel in the Evangelical Church."

On another occasion he said = (Read quote by A. W. Tozer)

^{SHOULD}
~~Once~~ we come to the place where we realize that all of life is made up of worship. It isn't just on Sunday that we should worship God, it should be each moment of each day that He gives us to live.

This is what Jesus was getting at in His conversation with the woman at the well. First of all, if He was a real Jew He would not have been talking to her because she was a hated Samaritan. But Jesus was God in the flesh and so He was interested in her salvation as well as all other people.

Jesus had told her things that only a man of God, a true prophet could relate, and this is what she calls him in verse 19. But then she goes on and we read, (read verse 20). The nation of Israel had split into two kingdoms, the Northern and the Southern. The Northern kingdom said that worship was to be confined to Mt. Gerazim in Samaria. This is what she is saying. Her forefathers said true worship was in Samaria, and the Jews of the Southern kingdom said true worship could only be offered in Jerusalem at the Temple.

So it is in verse 21, (read this verse), that Jesus tells her that later on it would be revealed that neither in Samaria nor in Jerusalem will it be necessary to worship. He was saying that worship would be extended to the far corners of the earth. This would take place when Christianity began to spread.

Then Jesus went on to say, (read verses 22-24 & exegete).

Notice that Jesus said "they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." He meant that worship consists of deep love for ~~the~~ God. The Greek word used here for "worship" has a deep meaning. Its simplest meaning is that of a dog licking its master's hand; of prostrating oneself in homage; to reverence; to adore. In other words a very simple deep love for God. Nowhere does the Lord tell us this is to only be done within the confines of a building on a certain day of the week. He implies instead that this is to be an ongoing process.

Just a brief history of worship will show us how it has evolved into what we think true worship is today. In Genesis we see that the fall came when man failed to worship God.

In Exodus 20:verses 2-5A we read in the giving of the Law that man is to worship only the One God. The word used for "God" is "Elohim," which in its simplest essence mean, "The Supreme God." This is "The God."

In Deuteronomy we read in 6:4-5, Jesus taught that this is the first and greatest commandment. In the Old Testament worship covered all of life. In the layout and the design of the Tabernacle seven chapters, or 243 verses ~~verses~~ in the book of Leviticus give the details for this. Compare this with ~~the~~ only 31 verses in Genesis telling of the creation and we should have some idea of the priority which God placed upon worship. The tabernacle was designed only for worship and was the place where God met His people. The Tabernacle was in the center of the camp and everything else was around it thus giving a special place to it in the lives of the people of Israel.

Throughout the Old Testament we can find that worship is to be a central part of the lives of the people of God. One thing that perhaps stands out more than others is that there is to be a certain attitude toward worship. King Solomon writing in the book of Ecclesiastes the 5th chapter and verse 1 tells us, "Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear, than to give the sacrifice of fools; for they consider not that they do evil."

The prophet Habakkuk writes in his prophecy chapter 2, verse 20, "But the Lord is in His holy Temple: let all the earth keep silence before Him."

In other words our attitude ~~about~~ about worship should be one of coming into God's presence wherever we may be and await what He has to give us. We are to present ourselves before Him in order for this to take place. Worship on a Sunday morning should be a time in which everyone comes prepared. We expect the preacher to be prepared and if he isn't we would surely say, "He didn't do his job," or, "what did he do all week that he wasn't prepared this morning?"

But how about the people sitting in the pews? Their preparation should begin at the latest on Saturday night. A good nights sleep helps and not carousing until the wee hours of the morning. You would be surprised the number of times I have almost been bowled over at the door on Sunday mornings by the hangover breath of people. The only positive thing I could say was that at least he or she was in church.

How ~~many~~ many times do we come to church out of sorts, angry at our wife, husband, children, or someone in church? How many times perhaps we may be ticked off at the preacher for one reason or another? Then we take our place in the pew fuming inside, or filled with anger and our worship is absolutely unacceptable to God, but just as important it hinders or holds back the the worship of the rest of the people in church.

Along with wrong attitude is the attitude toward giving. The question must be asked, "Do we always give our best to the Lord?"

(Illustration of Hurricane Agnes in central Pennsylvania & the giving of food & clothing)

Do I always give the very best to the Lord? Do I give Him ~~not~~ not only the best of material things, but the best of my time and my efforts? Does He take second place anywhere in my life? Our attitude must be that whatever the gift of our time, our talent, or our treasure we are giving it to Jesus Christ Himself as though He were standing right next to us. Which He is.

What does worship really mean to us?

(Illustration of Dr. Thomas & congregation giving of $.13¢)

It isn't the amount of the gift. It is the attitude of each giver.

(Illustration of anonymous writer on worship)

What do we give God? We need to reflect on what God has given us individually and collectively. He extends to each person to become completely His and to have that personal relationship which is ours through Jesus Christ. I invite you to partake of that relationship completely and to learn that true worship is not confined to a building on a certain day of the week. But that true worship of God is to love Him and adore Him. To bow before Him completely each day and to let Him love us as He wants to do.

"Life's Elementary Ingredient: The Need"

Scripture: John 4:19-24

There has been an "Elementary Ingredient" built into man from the very beginning of time. Man has tried to fulfill the longing of this Ingredient, but has failed miserably throughout the centuries. He has known that something needed to be done to fill the desire of this Ingredient, but somehow or other all of his efforts have always ended up in frustration.

(Illustration of "The Shrine of Jesus of the Tortilla")

A few years ago the Chicago Tribune carried a story of a woman in New Mexico who was frying tortillas when she noticed the skillet burnt on one of the tortillas resembled the face of Jesus. Excited, she showed it to her husband and neighbors, and they all agreed ~~there~~ there was a resemblance of a face on the tortilla and it did look like Jesus.

So the woman went to the priest to have it blessed. She told the priest that the tortilla had changed her life, and her husband agreed that she was a much better wife since the tortilla came along. The priest didn't want to bless the tortilla, but he reluctantly did so.

The woman took the tortilla home, put it in a glass case with cotton to make it look like it was floating on clouds, built a special altar for it, and opened a little shrine for visitors. In a few months more than eight thousand people came to the shrine of the Jesus of the tortilla. And all of them agreed that the face in the burn marks was the face of Jesus. All of them except one reporter who said it looked like the heavyweight boxing champion, Leon Spinks.

Last Christmas you may remember how people flocked to a church in Chicago that had a picture or statue ~~from~~ which was crying ~~from~~ supposedly real tears from its eyes. It may seem incredible that people would worship a tortilla, or a crying object, but the world has had such a distorted idea of worship in all of its history.

A. W. Tozer a great preacher and Christian writer once said, "Worship is the missing jewel in the Evangelical Church."

On another occasion he said, "We're here to be worshippers first and workers only second. We take a convert and immediately make a worker out of him. God never meant it to be so. God meant that a convert should learn to be a worshipper, and after that he can learn to be a worker....The work done by a worshipper will have eternity in it."

From the very beginning, God instilled in the heart of man that "Elementary Ingredient" to love Him and in doing so to worship Him. Thus it was no accident that when Jesus became involved in a conversation with a Samaritan woman of ill-repute that she began to question Him about worship. Many years before when the ~~xxx~~ nation of Israel split into two kingdoms the worship for the Northern Kingdom centered in Samaria on Mt. Gerizim, and the worship for the Southern Kingdom centered on Mt. Zion, or Jerusalem. So that is the reason for the woman's statement as found in the 20th verse, (read this).

Jesus then answers her by saying, (read verses 21 through 24). In this answer Jesus gives the true definition for worship. That definition is, "True worship is in spirit and in truth."

This is what we are going to be looking at in this series in the next weeks.

We should also point out that Jesus spells out who God is in the 24th verse. He says, "God is Spirit." In the KJV it says, "God is A Spirit." With the indefinite article "A" it could be inferred that God is "one" of many spirits. So the quotation without the indefinite article is preferable.

But to understand why we can say that worship is "Life's Elementary Ingredient" we should look at the history of worship as found in God's Word.

In Genesis we see that the fall came when man failed to worship God.

In Exodus with the giving of the Law in the 20th chapter verses 2 through 5a we read, (read these verses). Then in Deuteronomy 6:4-5 we read, (read this). Jesus said this was the 1st and greatest commandment.

In the Old Testament, worship covered all of life. It is interesting to note that the Tabernacle was designed and laid out to emphasize the priority of worship. The details of it are contained in seven chapters - 243 verses in Leviticus as compared to only 31 verses in Genesis telling us of the creation of the world. This should give us an idea of ~~whatxand~~ how God regarded true worship. The Tabernacle was designed only for worship. It was the place where God met His people. The Tabernacle was in the center of the camp. Everything else surrounded it, thus giving it a special place in the lives of the people of Israel.

The first offering was the burnt offering. This offering was completely consumed in the worship process. The burnt offering heads the list of offerings when they are mentioned because when anyone comes before God, he is to come in ~~xxxxxxx~~ an act of worship. He is to give all to God and in this sense, the burnt offering does just that.

Moses spells out how the instruments used for worship are to be made. He gives the formula for incense in Exodus 30:34-36, (read these verses). Then he gives a warning about the improper use of the incense in verses 37-38, (read these also). What God is saying is that this was His recipe for incense but if anyone makes this for himself, God will kill him. The worship of God was always meant to be what God desired, or it was all wrong. Scripture points out the worship of idols as being wrong. While Moses was on the mount with God, Aaron and the people made a golden calf. This angered God and He sent His punishment upon them because there are to be no false gods, or idols worshipped as far as God is concerned. But one of the most devious kinds of wrong worship is one which is practiced by many, many Christians today. It is the worship of God with a wrong attitude. If we try to worship God on a Sunday morning and our heart isn't right, we are worshipping wrongly. Do you ever come to church angry or mad at someone? Maybe a member of your family, or a friend? Or perhaps being angry with the preacher? If we sit here fuming inside, or filled with anger, our worship is absolutely unacceptable to God. But just as important, it hinders or holds back the worship of the rest of the people here.

And along with the wrong attitude is the attitude of giving. Do you always give the absolute best you have to the Lord? Do you honestly:

(Illustration of Hurricane Agnes and food and clothing)

Following Hurricane Agnes which swept through the central part of Pennsylvania, I was involved with helping those who needed food and clothing. We solicited food and clothing for those who had lost theirs and were in need. Do you want to know what we received from a lot of people? Some of the clothing was clothing that had been stored for years and years, hoping ~~the~~ that style would come back. When it didn't, this clothing was donated and probably with the idea, "That's good enough for those people."

Do you know what the food consisted of from some people? Rusty cans which had gotten that way from being stored for long periods of time in damp basements, making the contents questionable. Or partially used bars and boxes of noodles, sugar, flour, and other odds and ends. Were these the very best these people could give? No! Because they came from people of means and affluence.

Do you always give the very best you have for the Lord? We should. Because our attitude toward giving as in worship should always be that we are giving it to Jesus Christ Himself for His use. Would we then give less than our best? We dare not.

What does worship really mean to us?

(Illustration of Dr. Thomas & congregation giving 2.13)

A doctor named Robert Thomas learned of a community of poor people in the Great Smoky Mountain region of Tennessee who were without medical help. So he decided to go there and be their doctor. Dr. Thomas was not only a doctor, but a devout Christian and soon the people were not only coming to him with their physical problems, but with all of their other problems as well. One night he was called out to a little settlement known as Brown Mare Hollow. There he treated a little boy named Billy Walker who had the measles. After he had treated him he asked the parents whether Billy and his nine brothers and sisters were receiving any religious instruction. They told him the people on that side of the mountain had no church and could only go to the other side occasionally. So he urged them to fix up an old cabin and use it as their church. The people responded enthusiastically and before long had repaired the roof, patched up the siding, rehung the door, installed rough-hewn benches, built an altar with stones, and made a cross of logs, and a pulpit of old packing crates. They asked Dr. Thomas to be their preacher until they could find one. Then Sunday morning came the people of Brown Mare Hollow were so proud of their new church that entered into the service with all of their hearts. Dr. Thomas said there was never a more attentive audience when he preached his first sermon. At the close of the sermon, Dr. Thomas started to dismiss the people and was interrupted by Billy Walker. Billy rose and said, "Doc, you're forgettin' sumthin'." "What is it," he asked. "You're forgettin' the collectin'," Billy answered. Dr. Thomas didn't want to take up a collection because he knew how poor these people were. The children went barefoot all year; they had little decent clothing; and every family in Brown Mare Hollow was living on a small income at best. But Dr. Thomas could sense that not only Billy, but all of the people felt the same way. He could feel that their participation in God's service, called them to a full response. So he told Billy to use his car and take up the collection. When it was over and the people had left the church Billy spread out the collection on one of the benches and began to total it up. He looked at Dr. Thomas and said, "That sure is a heap isn't it Doc?" "That sure is, Billy," Dr. Thomas said. The doctor took an envelope from his pocket and put the money into it. He went out of that church and sat in his car, thinking about the people and the service, holding the envelope in his hand. Then he took out his pen and wrote on the envelope; "Brown Mare Hollow Congregation, Initial Offering - 13 cents."

An anonymous writer wrote:

- Hypocrisy:

To give God the service of the soul and not the body is

- Sacrilege:

- Atheism:

To give God both is - Worship.

What do we give God? As we ponder in future days "Life's Elementary Ingredient" let us reflect on all that God has given us. He extends to each person the invitation to become completely His and to have that special relationship of Father with His children. I invite you to partake of that completely and fully and to learn that true worship is not just sitting in a building on a certain day of the week.

"Life's Elementary Ingredient: What Is It?"

Scripture: Luke 10:38-42

Last week as we began this present series entitled, "Life's Elementary Ingredient," we pointed out that Ingredient was worship. To this week we ask the question, "What Is It?" Now at first that may seem redundant because we had said the Ingredient each of ^{us} have within us is ^{A DESIRE} to worship. We may have identified what the Elementary Ingredient is, but we need to define just what worship is. To strive to do this requires our knowing that worship is many, many different things. ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ To pin it down precisely we come to the conclusion that worship is several things.

Dr. Warren Wiersbe ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ defines worship in this way, "True worship is the adoring response of all that the believer is - mind, emotions, will, and body - all that God is and says and does. The motive for worship is love; the power for worship is the indwelling Spirit of God. Whenever we build an altar, we must ask the Holy Spirit to light the fire. True worship is governed by the inspired Word of God."

Dr. John MacArthur defines worship as, "Honor and adoration directed to God." The word worship comes to us from an old anglo-saxon word which meant "worthiness." So worship is ascribing to God His worth, or stating and affirming His supreme value.

Worship can be defined by looking at all of scripture because it is found ~~xxx~~ there from Genesis to Revelation. An interesting illustration is given in our scripture this morning from Luke's Gospel. Jesus was on the way to Jerusalem with His disciples to take part in the Feast of ~~xxx~~ Tabernacles. This took place in the fall of the year. Since we do not read of the disciples, or of Lazarus in this account, it is quite possible they were in Jerusalem already and at the actual festivities taking place in the temple. It is also most likely that Mary, Martha, and Lazarus being good Jews had erected a booth in their ~~backyard~~ courtyard. It was probably large enough that the whole family could sit in it as the rules for the feast so designated. So we can picture Jesus seated in the booth and while He is there, Mary sits with Him and listened as He talked of many things. We can also picture Martha, desiring to be the good hostess, bringing out food and drink for Jesus. She is caring for His physical needs, but as she sees her sister Mary doing nothing and wrapped in conversation with Jesus, she becomes a little annoyed. So she speaks to Jesus and Luke records this in the 40th verse and she said, "Lord, do you not care that my sister has left me to do all the serving alone? Then tell her to help me."

Jesus understanding the situation gives her an answer she probably didn't expect. He says to her, "Martha, Martha, you are worried about so many things but only a few are necessary, really only one, for Mary has chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her."

He didn't tell Martha she was all wrong. He merely told her that her concern at this point was for the wrong thing. There is nothing wrong with being a good host or hostess. There is nothing wrong with seeing that the physical needs of a guest are met. But Jesus was pointing out that there is a natural order of things pertaining to God. The first ingredient in spiritual matters is one of love. That love exerts itself, or shows itself in the outward expression we refer to as worship. This is what Mary was involved in. She loved Jesus and when He talked, she listened. But her listening became more than just being a good audience. She was actually worshipping Him.

This progression putting worship first is also pointed out in the Book of Hebrews. In the 11th chapter where we see ~~the~~ God's Hall of Fame outlined, we read of this. In the 4th verse we read of Abel, (read this). Here, at the very beginning of God's list is placed the most important thing. Do you know what that is? It is worship. Abel came to God with his offering and it was acceptable to God; it was Abel's worship of God.

Then we see that in the order of progression, Enoch is spoken of, and we read (read verse 5). What is being said is that Enoch one day disappeared from the earth because he was taken up, or translated bodily into heaven. He didn't go through death in order to be taken into God's presence. This was possible only because he was completely God's man. It was his walk with God that was right. In Genesis we read of this and it tells us, "And Enoch walked with God and ~~xxx~~ he was not, for God took him," Gen 5:24.

And then we read in the 7th verse, (read this). Noah built the ark and it took him 120 years to do it. That was WORK. So we can see the progression as God lines it up in His Word. It is first, "worship," then it is "walk," and thirdly it is "work." This is God's way and it is not placed in Scripture by accident. This is the way God wants it. But for the average person we get this all out of focus and we rely heavily upon our walk, or upon our work and worship always comes in third, if at all. We are all like so many Marthas so concerned with the material that we neglect the spiritual and that is a closer relationship with the Lord.

A minister named A.P. Gibbs wrote in a book entitled, "Worship," "Ministry is that which comes down from the Father by the Son in the power of the Holy Spirit through the human instrument. Worship starts in the human instrument and goes up by the power of the Holy Spirit through the Son to the Father."

What Dr. Gibbs is saying is that God begins by revealing Himself to mankind in the person of Jesus Christ. Christ ascended to heaven and sent the Holy Spirit to minister with our spirits and we are made aware that we need to worship our Creator. So when we begin to worship, our worship goes by the Holy Spirit to the Son Jesus Christ, who in turn is at the Right Hand of God, and He takes our worship to the Father. It becomes a completed cycle.

But unfortunately, much of what goes on in the local congregations which passes for worship is not worship at all. Dr. Warren Niebebe says that as a young pastor he thought that the growth of the congregation was tied to every program that came along. The first thing he tried was separation. But he soon discovered that separation from all others only caused actual separation in his own ranks and that wasn't the answer.

Then he tried evangelism. But soon discovered that evangelism could produce new members and converts, but the membership had to be educated in how to deal with the new members, and since they weren't, evangelism was not the complete answer.

Then he tried missions. But again this didn't answer the need of the congregation.

So he tried gimmicks, and contests, and rallies, and seminars of all kinds. But he discovered from all of this that all of these things are only by-products of worship.

We are too many Marthas and not enough Marys. We are so engrossed in the programs that we miss true worship. The element of worship is tragically missing from what goes on in the church today.

(Illustration of christening party in New England, & baby forgotten)

Years ago there was a newspaper account of a christening party which took place in a Boston suburb. The parents of the child baptized opened their palatial home to their friends and neighbors. As the party went on and people were enjoying themselves eating and drinking, celebrating and enjoying one another's company, someone asked, "by the way, where is the baby?" When the mother heard that question her heart jumped and she rushed upstairs to the master bedroom where she had left the baby asleep in the middle of the massive bed. But when she unpiled all of the coats of the guests, she found the baby dead, smothered by those coats.

This is much like the Lord Jesus is in His church. While we are busy celebrating Him, He is smothered by all of the other things we pile on and into the service. All that we want is that which speaks of success. We equate success with filled pews, and large membership roles. Success is what the world tells us we must have and to have it we work all sorts of gimmicks and ideas that keep us busy like Martha, but keep us from worship like Mary. What is worship? It is many more things than we have covered this morning. But it is the first priority God seeks from us, as God points out in many places in His Word. We are told that there are three hundred fifty thousand churches in America which own eighty billion dollars worth of facilities which are supposedly dedicated to worshipping God. But one wonders how much true worship really takes place in those facilities.

(Illustration of explorer and natives waiting for their souls to catch up).

A distinguished explorer was making a safari in the Amazon jungle. The native tribesmen were xxx carrying all of his gear. He was pushing them as hard as he could so he could cover a lot of ground quickly. At the end of the third day they rested, and when morning came and it was time to embark again, the natives just sat on the ground and wouldn't move. The explorer did everything he could, but they wouldn't budge. He ~~pleaded~~ pleaded with their leader but to no avail. The leader explained to him, "My friend, they are resting until their souls catch up with their bodies."

This is what must happen in the church. Our souls need to be involved in the True Worship of God instead of just our bodies. God gives us the formula for worship throughout His Word and it is spiritual. It involves a continual love for Him not just on Sundays, but each day of our lives. I invite you to share in that through Christ. (Invitation to accept Him, to pray, etc.)

"Life's Elementary Ingredient: Cotion Or 'Priority:'"

scripture: Exodus 5:1-5

(Illustration of man/woman on trip : dirty restaurant; and clean cup)
A man and his wife were on a trip and they decided to stop at a little restaurant and eat. But when they got inside they had to decide whether to leave or stay. They looked at the counter and it was far from being clean and appetizing. They looked at the only table in the place and decided to stay and sat down. But the tablecloth was dirty and they were just ready to get up and leave when the waitress came to the table, to take their order. "I'll just have a cup of coffee," the husband said. "I'll have coffee too, and be sure and bring it in a clean cup," said the wife. A few moments later the waitress returned with the two coffees on a tray. "Which one of you wanted the clean cup?" she asked.

We are all confronted with the need to make choices. Options are a part of life and living. But there are times when we must determine whether something is an "Option" or a "Priority."

For the past few weeks we have been looking at "Life's Elementary Ingredient" which we have identified as worship. We have looked at the Need of it, and have made a small determination of what Worship Is. Having a small understanding that worship is the giving of our love to our Creator we must ask the inevitable question then, "Is worship an Option, or is it a Priority?" ~~Our answer probably depends upon our relationship to the Lord.~~ "Why do we worship?" The answer to this is given very emphatically in our Scripture of this morning.

The people of Israel had gone to live in the land of Egypt during the time of Joseph being the Prime Minister of Egypt. They had settled there and had become very prosperous and numerous. ~~xxxxxxxtellxxxxxxtheverybeginningofthebookofExodusxxxxxxtherexxxxxxxxxxxxPharaohofEgypt~~ In the ^{1:1-13} ~~second~~ chapter of Exodus the 8th verse we read, "Now a new king arose over Egypt, who did not know Joseph."

This Pharaoh didn't know the history of how this young Jewish man had been responsible for saving the Egyptians from death by starvation. All that he knew was that the Jews were not Egyptians and they had practically overrun Egypt, they were so numerous. So the solution to the problem was to destroy the new born children, ~~murderlike~~ I think we can see from this that the idea of birth-control, or population explosion is not a new one. Today we are more sophisticated in how we go about it, we use the method of abortion.

From this ungodly practice of destroying the young Jewish babies, God brought forth one of those babies a man named Moses. After a period of being raised in the house of Pharaoh, Moses had to flee into the wilderness because he had killed an Egyptian. While in the wilderness he was a shepherd for 40 years. And then at the age of 80, he received a call from God to go back to Egypt and to deliver the people of Israel. This is the point at which our Scripture begins this morning.

Moses and his brother Aaron had been instructed by God to go to Pharaoh and plead for the release of the people. So it is the 5th chapter of Exodus begins, "And afterward Moses and Aaron came and said to Pharaoh, 'Thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, 'Let My people go that they may celebrate a feast to Me in the wilderness.'"

What was it that God wanted His people to do? The answer is "worship Him." That also answers a part of the question of whether worship is an option or a Priority. It is a "Priority." It is a must, something that God commands from His people.

But the response given by Pharaoh is a good example of why worship is thought of as being optional. We read: "But Pharaoh said, 'Who is the Lord that I should obey His voice to let Israel go? I do not know the Lord, and besides I will not let Israel go.'", verse 2.

"Who is the Lord, that I should obey His voice?" is the question raised and it is the question asked even today. If I choose not to recognize God, or admit that He exists, I have no need to worship Him. And from this we can see the reason man is up to his neck in problems for the 3rd verse gives us that answer. We read, "Then they said, (Moses and Aaron), 'The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Please let us go a three days journey into the wilderness that we may sacrifice to the Lord our God, lest He fall upon us with pestilence or the sword.'"

There is the answer to the world situation today. Man refuses to recognize God the creator and so in his rebellion against His authority he is consumed with pestilence and the sword. Moses and Aaron knew that worship of their God and creator wasn't Optional, it was a Priority and in recognizing this they acknowledged that if they went their own way they would be consumed by the evil in the world around them.

We also see from what we know of the following events that the people of Israel did indeed perish in the wilderness because their worship was not acceptable to God completely and they rebelled against Him. Because of this, all of those who entered that wilderness after being freed from Pharaoh's grasp, wandered for 40 years until all of ~~that~~ that generation had died including Moses and Aaron. God fed them miraculously and gave them drinking water, but still they had to perish because they wouldn't worship God completely with their entire lives. Isn't it sad to think that what could have been a two week journey in that wilderness to the promised land turned into a 40 year nightmare of wandering ~~xxxxxxx~~ in order that all of ~~them~~ ^{those} who had refused to worship God completely would be dead, and only the ones 20 years or younger could enter that land:

(Illustration of Rabbi Ben Jochai and question about manna)

One of Rabbi Ben Jochai's students once asked him, "Why did not the Lord furnish enough manna to Israel for a year, all at one time?" He said, "I will answer you with a parable. Once there was a king who had a son to whom he gave a yearly allowance, paying him the entire sum on a fixed date. It soon happened that the day on which the allowance was due was the only day in the year when the father ever saw his son. So the king changed his plan and gave his son day by day that which sufficed for the day; and then the son visited his father every morning. Now he needed his father's unbroken love, companionship, wisdom and giving. Thus God dealt with Israel and deals with us."

This is a good example of why we shouldn't worship God just on Easter or Christmas, or whenever we feel like it. Our worship should not only be every Sunday, but every day of our lives. Worship is not an Option, it is and should be the Ultimate Priority of every waking ~~time~~ moment of our lives.

But we need to deal with the real aspect behind the worship God demanded of the people of Israel and also the demand for worship God places upon us. Just why should we worship God? Why should worship be the Ultimate Priority of our lives:

The answer is spelled out in ~~the~~ what God did in the lives of His people Israel and it is spelled out in what He has done for us in our lives. The people of Israel were enslaved against their wills. They were held in bondage, in captivity. They didn't have the freedom God desired for them. So in order for them to have that freedom, they had to be released from the enslavement of Egypt. So what did God do for them? He redeemed them. ~~He~~ The freedom of the Israelites was bought with ~~the blood~~ the blood of the lambs which ~~was~~ was painted on their doorposts, marking those households as belonging to God's people. The same applies to all mankind as well. Our freedom to be God's children was bought with the blood of the Lamb of God, Jesus Christ on Calvary. ~~The~~ The reason for the redemption of Israel and for the redemption of all mankind is simply that we have been saved to worship. We have redemption so we can worship God. The relationship that God always wanted with His ultimate creation is made complete only through our knowing Jesus Christ as our Saviour. We are saved by Him and through Him to worship God.

This should be that which uplifts our hearts and lives with Joy. But if we look at the Church of Jesus Christ and for much of that which passes for worship we see that there are many misconceptions of what True worship really is. Too many churches make museums of their sanctuaries instead of a gathering place where the joyful saints can worship God to the fullest.

(Illustration of plaque in church & men who died in the service)

A little boy was in church with his father and as they started to walk out the door, the boy noticed a bronze plaque with names on it. He asked what it was. His father answered, "Those are the names of the men who died in service." And the little boy asked immediately, "The nine-thirty, or the eleven o'clock service?"

And unfortunately, this is how many of the saints choose to worship God. It is more like a funeral, than the joyous experience it should be each and every week.

(Illustration of no souls saved in cathedral)

An elderly lady was being conducted through one of the great cathedrals in Europe. The guide spoke of the beauty of its design, calling attention to its statues and wonderful paintings. He pointed out the magnificent architecture, the huge stained glass windows, the magnificent organ and so on. To all of this the old lady was unimpressed. At the conclusion of the tour she asked the guide, "How many souls have been saved here this year?" "My dear lady," said the embarrassed guide, "this is a cathedral, not a chapel."

But you see, that should be the intent and purpose of corporate worship. Each time the people of God open the doors of the church regardless of how large or how small it may be, the invitation to accept Christ should be extended in some way. We worship because we are redeemed, we are saved, and because of this we want to see others have that redemption as well. May I extend to each of you this morning the invitation to accept Jesus Christ if you have not done so. Knowing then that we worship because we are saved, we must ask the questions: Do you worship God? Is it a way of life for you? Are you a true worshiper? And what do you consider worship to be? Is it an Option? Or is it for you the Priority it should be?

The "Just Say No" Club of the Butler Jr. High School is sponsoring a concert at the Butler Sr. High Auditorium starring Julie Parker and her band. She was appointed by President Reagan to be the representative in this area for "Just Say No." She is a Christian and brings a positive message to the young people. Time: 7:00 P.M. on May 29, 1987. More details are on the posters on the bulletin boards.

Following the sermon we sing an invitational hymn, followed by a period giving each worshipper the opportunity for reflection. As you reflect on your life's situations you have the chance to respond to God's leading for your life by coming forward to the altar. The invitation gives the opportunity to accept Christ as Savior, to pray, to meditate, or to seek counseling. The Pastor will assist you if you desire. Please avail yourself of this opportunity.

"Life's Elementary Ingredient: The Requirement"

Scripture: Acts 17:22-31

(Illustration of "Health Nut" & he forgot God)

He wore his rubbers when it rained.
He brushed his teeth twice a day with a nationally advertised toothpaste.
He had a physical examination twice a year.
He slept with the windows open.
He stuck to a diet with plenty of fresh vegetables.
He had his tonsils removed.
He golfed - but never more than 18 holes at a time.
He got at least eight hours sleep every night.
He never smoked, drank, or lost his temper.
He exercised daily and was all set to live to be hundred.
The funeral will be held Wednesday.
He is survived by eight specialists, three health institutions, two gymnasiums and numerous manufacturers of health foods and vitamins.
He forgot God.

The Apostle Paul found himself in the Greek city of Athens, that proud city of Greek culture. Here he discovered that this city as so many others was without God.

It was here that Paul's ministry became two-pronged. He preached in the synagogue and in the marketplace. In the synagogue he preached to the Jews and pointed them to the Old Testament which spoke of their Messiah. He taught them that this was Jesus Christ and was able to win converts among those Jews and some of the Gentiles who ventured there.

Our Scripture gives us the picture of Paul being in the marketplace at a place called the "Areopagus." It was here that the Council had once met to decide judicial and legislative matters. Now they only met to make observations concerning religious or educational matters. It is here that we read one of Paul's sermons. He begins by stating, "Men of Athens, I observe that you are very religious in all respects." verse 22b.

Notice how Paul gets their undivided attention. He appeals to them as though he is agreeing with their philosophy of worshiping many gods. Paul had seen their idols standing throughout the city.

Then he continues, "For while I was passing through and examining the objects of your worship, I also found an altar with this inscription, 'To an unknown god.' That therefore you worship in ignorance, this I proclaim to you," verse 23.

The Greeks wanted to be sure that they had included all deities in their worship and so in order to not offend any which they may have overlooked, they included an altar dedicated to the "unknown god." So Paul tells them that he knows the identity of this god and he points out what he knows about God. First he points out that He does not reside in anything that man has made, (verse 24).

Next he tells that God doesn't need man, that He can get along without him very well, (verse 25).

Then he tells them something that must have really startled them because he states that God made all men from "One." This points the Greeks back to Adam and they believed they were far removed from this Adam the Jews spoke of. To them it was an insult to be told that all mankind has descended from him. And along with this, (verse 26), Paul tells them that God controls their lives for a specific purpose. That purpose he tells them in the 27th verse is, "That they, (all mankind), should seek God."

He is saying that God created man to worship Him. But along with this, God does not make it impossible to be found. In fact, He searches for man Himself. Paul even goes so far as to remind these Greeks that their own poets have said their existence was in and through this unknown god. And to be told that they are no different from the Jews, or any other race for that matter was a startling revelation for the Greeks. They believed they were far superior to everyone else. But Paul tells them they are just as much the offspring of Almighty God as anyone. He is not saying that they are automatically the children of God. He is merely saying that God created them and they receive their life from Him.

Paul tells them that they do not create God, but God has created them and that God is calling all mankind to repentance through Jesus Christ.

Within what Paul is saying here are the understandings of much about Almighty God. Paul being a good Jew knew all about what they believed about God. And through the revelation of Jesus and what took place on Pentecost, he truly had the grasp of who and what God was. The author of Hebrews tells us in the 11th chapter the 6th verse, "And without faith it is impossible to please Him, for he who comes to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of those who seek Him."

In order for anyone to know anything about God, he must first believe. That is what we call faith and that is the main "Requirement" of life's elementary Ingredient. That Ingredient is worship as we have seen, but in order to worship we must have faith. And in order to have faith we must believe that He will let us see and know the revelation of Himself.

Paul understood the basic formula every Jew knew by heart and recited everyday. That was, "Hear O Israel, the Lord thy God is One." Jesus quoted this to those who asked Him about God. The meaning in the word "One" is rich because it goes all the way back to the very beginning of scripture. In the first verse of Genesis we read, "In the beginning God." The word used for God at this point is "Elohim" is a plural word. That verse in Genesis ~~and in Deuteronomy~~ would read, "In the beginning Gods." ~~xxxxxxx~~ But the explanation was revealed to mankind as time went by. Looking at the word "One" in Deuteronomy we can compare it to a bunch of grapes, or a bunch of bananas. The entire bunch is "One." And if you remove a grape, or a banana from the bunch, it still remains a bunch. It doesn't affect the whole. Using this analogy we see that God is more than "One" but being more than "One" He is still only "One."

In Genesis God was showing that Not just Himself, but the complete Godhead was with Him at the creation.

Then God revealed Himself in Jesus Christ. Jesus when asked about God, told His questioners that He and the Father were one. And if they had seen Him, they had seen the Father. Then He promised when He left the earth, He would send them someone to be their comforter and we see the revelation of the Holy Spirit.

But we also can see the prior evidence of the Trinity at the baptism of Jesus. He was at the River Jordan, and we read the Spirit came upon Him like a dove, and a voice from heaven said, "This is My beloved Son in whom I am well pleased."

The same thing happened at the Transfiguration. So we can see the evidence in scripture of the Trinity. We may not completely understand it, and I cannot adequately explain it. But it is there for us to see.

We need not erect an altar to the unknown god, because we can know Him and He will reveal Himself to us if we truly seek Him.

(Illustration of World War II pilot, atheist and accepting Christ)

During World War II there was a bomber pilot who bombed Japan in April of 1942. During the raid his plane was hit and he had to bail out. He was ~~an~~ captured and imprisoned. He saw two of his companions shot by a firing squad and saw another die by slow starvation. Here was ~~an~~ a man who was an atheist. He didn't believe in a god, period.

But during his long months of imprisonment, he questioned why the Japanese hated him and why he hated them. He began to think of some of the things he had heard about Christianity. Very boldly one day he asked his guards if they could get him a Bible. At first they laughed at him and thought it was a joke. Then they started to become ugly about this and told him to stop making a nuisance of himself. But he kept asking and in May of 1944 a guard brought a Bible to him. He threw it at him and said, "Three weeks you have. Three weeks and then I take away." True to his word in three weeks the guard came and Jacob De Haizer never saw it again.

But in those three weeks of meditating, searching, and analyzing that Bible and life, a change came over de Haizer. At the end of the war he was released from Japanese captivity and came home. In 1948 Jacob de Haizer, his wife and infant son were on their way back to Japan as missionaries.

All because he had spent three weeks looking at God's Word, and God revealed Himself to Him.

The requirement that God has placed in our lives with His Elementary Ingredient is to know Him. But He always stands ready ~~for~~ to reveal Himself to any who are seeking and searching. He wants us to worship Him, but we can't do that unless we know Him. Do you know Him? He invited you to not only know Him, but to have that special relationship you may have with Him through that knowledge. Why not settle that today if you haven't yet begun.

"Who Remembers?"

Scripture: Ecclesiastes 9:13-15

(Illustrations of remembering)

In February 24, 1836 an army of several thousand Mexicans invaded what is now San Antonio and fought against a garrison of 150 Americans who were holding a small mission compound known as "The Alamo." The fighting lasted until March 6th culminating in hand to hand combat with all of the Americans being killed. Among them were James Bowie and Davy Crockett. This rallied the Americans in other parts of Texas and the Mexicans were soundly defeated six weeks later. ~~They~~ Their battle cry was, "Remember the Alamo."

Who remembers?

In 1898 an American battleship was blown up in Havana harbor which led to the battle cry of "Remember the Maine." This rallied the Americans to defeat the Spanish in the Spanish American War.

But who remembers?

In 1915 a British ship named the Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine killing a number of Americans on board. The ~~xxx~~ battle cry of "Remember the Lusitania" helped to rally the United States to defeat the Germans and their allies in World War I.

But who remembers?

In December of 1941 the Japanese attacked the United States ~~xxx~~ unexpectedly in Hawaii sinking many ships and killing thousands of American servicemen. This raised the battle cry of "Remember Pearl Harbor" and rallied the United States to defeat Japan and Germany in World War II.

But who remembers?

Who remembers the return of the American soldiers after World War I and the war to end all wars was won? Anyone?

Who remembers the return of the American soldiers after World War II and the Nazis and Japanese were defeated? Anyone?

The point is that it is so easy to forget. Perhaps we can best illustrate this by what happened to a certain minister.

This minister named Rev. Smith was on vacation with his family. On the last Sunday of his vacation he decided to go to church. So he stopped in this nice little church to worship. When it came time for the sermon, he noted that the people had all sort of drifted off into a little world all their own.

The hymns had been sung, the offering had been offered, the prayers had been prayed, the Elders had elderd, and the Deacons had deaked and now it was ho-humsville because the preacher arose to preach. But just as everyone settled their brains for a warm Sunday morning nap the preacher began his sermon by stating, "I have a confession to make. I have spent some of the best years of my life in the arms of another man's wife." At this several Deacons dropped their hymnbooks and many of the women of the church gasped in horror. Then he added, "That woman was my mother."

All, Rev. Smith thought that was such a good point so he decided to use it in his next sermon. The following Sunday he was back in his church and he got up to preach at the appointed time and began by saying, "I have a confession to make. I have spent some of the best years of my life in the arms of another man's wife." At this several women fainted and four Deacons lost their hymnbooks. There was more of a stir in his church than had taken place in the other church. But then, to his horror, he discovered he had forgotten the punch line. So he started all over again. "I have a confession to make. I have spent some of the best years of my life in the arms of another man's wife." This created still more of a stir as people thought he repeated it for effect. But again he discovered he didn't remember the punch line. So he started all over again, thinking that if he repeated it again he would remember it. So he said, "I have a confession to make. I have spent some of the best years of my life in the arms of another man's wife." And as each member of the congregation waited anxiously for the completion of the story, he again discovered he had forgotten the punch line. So he added, "But for the life of me, I can't remember her name."

~~xxxx~~ It is terrible to forget. Have you ever forgotten something, or forgot what you wanted to say? I believe we all forget many different things and at many different times in our lives. So then we know what it is to forget. Someone has said, "Man may be forgotten by man, but man is never forgotten by God."

Solomon wrote of such a man in the 9th chapter of his book of Ecclesiastes. In much of the book Solomon speaks of wisdom and then proceeds to speak of ~~what~~ what is wise. Thus he shares this incident by saying, "This wisdom have I seen also under the sun, and it seemed great to me," vs 13.

He then begins to tell a parable:

There was a little city, and few men within it; and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it," vs 14.

Biblical scholars have searched to discover just where this city was and the consensus of opinion is that it is a hypothetical place. There is no historical record of such a place existing. The parable then is fictional and seeks to prove a point.

The story continues in the 15th verse:

Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city," vs 15a.

With our knowledge of how wars and battles are fought we may wonder how this one insignificant individual could have withstood the onslaught of this strong king and his army. But we must turn our thinking back to the time in which these words were written. In the days of Solomon every city was enclosed by a high wall. Usually these walls had guards stationed round the clock at the corners to observe anyone approaching. So it was possible to detect when an army was coming and to begin to prepare for the oncoming battle.

But even when the army arrived to begin their assault on the city within those walls, their first objective was to get inside the walls. This could only be done in two ways. The first way of course was to enter by way of the gate, the main entrance. But if an unfriendly army was seen approaching, the gate was immediately closed and barred and bolted if it had been open. The gate was well built and it required the battering down of it. And while the invading army was battering at the gate, the soldiers of the city were shooting at them from the wall.

The second means of entering the city was to go over the wall. And that was also easier said than done. If they rushed the wall and propped ladders against it and tried to climb, most of those thrusts were repulsed. So the best way to invade a city was the method which took much longer to accomplish but was the most successful, and that was to build or erect ramps, or some sort of siege works against the walls. When those ramps or siege works were

And when those ramps or siegeworks were completed the invading army could charge over them into the city and take it. Needless to say, without the benefit of bulldozers and road grading equipment it took a long period of time to make the invasion.

This is what we are reading about in this Scripture. This poor wise man who saved the city, used his intelligence to muster the men within that city to do the proper things to make it impossible for this army to take the city. But the ~~reward~~ reward this man received for his heroic efforts which overcame a mighty and powerful king and his army, and which saved his city, Solomon records at the end of the 15th verse, "Yet no man remembered that same poor man."

What did he get for his heroic efforts? Nothing, absolutely nothing. In fact, they didn't even mark down somewhere that on such and such a day their beloved city was saved from ruin and destruction by citizen so and so.

This ~~parable~~ parable although hypothetical must have happened on different occasions back in those days, but it reminds us that probably from the very earliest times the deeds of deliverance have always been forgotten within a short period of time. Perhaps on this basis we can account for the fact that we can travel throughout our nation and in the world for that matter, and see monuments erected commemorating certain battles fought there.

We are reminded of forgone history of the fact that sacrifices were made, but "Who Remembers?" Solomon was aware that it is so easy to forget and so it is no surprise that we read in the 1st verse of the 12th chapter, "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, 'I have no pleasure in them.'"

He didn't necessarily mean that he was only talking to those who are youths or young in age. Anyone who becomes aware of God, their Creator, no matter the age is being called to remember Him before years add up to more years and the individual looks at them and thinks only of the sorrow ~~and~~ problems and trials of life.

God provided us the means to always remember and He did it through Jesus Christ. Shortly before He was to die, Jesus partook of a last meal with His disciples. At that meal when He took the bread and wine and gave it to them He said, "Do this in remembrance of Me."

(Illustration of Roger Rose, his little brother and Father and bicycle)

A man named Roger Rose ~~tells~~ says that as a boy his family lived on a farm beside a dirt road. One day as Roger's brother was crossing the road on his bicycle a car came roaring down the hill, struck the boy and killed him. He said, "Later, his father picked up the twisted, mangled bike and took it into the barn and placed it in a corner seldom used. He said that as the years went by his father's ~~sorrow~~ sorrow eased. But whenever his father looked at that bike, the tears began streaming down his face. Roger Rose says this has helped him to remember the suffering of Jesus ~~when~~ especially when he partakes of the Lord's Supper.

"Who Remembers? Do you? Do you remember that Jesus died for you? We may forget all sorts of things in life, but the most important thing we should never forget is that God loved us with an everlasting love because He wanted us and all mankind to have that special relationship with Him possible only through Jesus Christ. Do you have that remembrance because Jesus is a part of your life? If you don't I invite you make it a reality for your life. Perhaps you may want to come forward and remember all that God has given you and thank Him for that.

"When Coming Is Going"

Scripture: Matthew 25:1-13

We live in a very unusual age. Many things that we have taken for granted have suddenly become very confusing because it seems that everyone wants to simplify things and in order to do so the explanation many times only causes more confusion.

For instance:

In the Lewiston Idaho Tribune there was a notice which read:

The crossword puzzle which should have appeared in today's Tribune appeared instead in yesterday's, together with the answer to the puzzle that should have been printed yesterday. Therefore, the puzzle that should have appeared yesterday is in today's Tribune, together with the answer to Wednesday's puzzle. The puzzle for today and the answer to the one that should have been printed yesterday are reprinted.

But I like the one which concerns the City National Bank of Binghamton, New York. The officers of this bank sent flowers to the management of the Binghamton Savings Bank congratulating them on ~~the opening of their new facilities~~. But unfortunately the card that was with the flowers said, "With deepest sympathy." Later, the florist who made the mistake called to apologize. But he said what really bothered him was that the other arrangement had the card ~~which~~ which was intended for the bank and the message was, "Congratulations on your new location."

To add to the confusion this morning we are going to look at the principle of "When Coming Is Going."

It was on Tuesday or Wednesday of the last week of Jesus' earthly life that He was teaching His disciples some things He knew they needed to know. He had told them ~~of a startling chain of events~~ of a startling chain of events which Matthew recorded in the 24th chapter. If we back up to the 36th verse of that chapter we read, "read verses 36-42). That Jesus is explaining here is the coming of Himself to "take out" or "rapture" the church from this world. This is the next event which is to take place in the calendar of Biblical events. But two centuries have practically come and gone and the church still continues and still the Lord has not come for His church. Paul looked for that event to transpire; Peter awaited it; John yearned for it; and all of the early church anticipated it in their time. But time has come and gone and a complacency has crept over the Christian church. This has led many to believe that scripture is wrong and the events will not take place as prophesied. But this is exactly why Jesus told the parable of the Ten Virgins. Involved in this parable were the truths contained in the ritual which took place in a Jewish engagement and wedding. So the parable serves the purpose of telling His listeners in words they can understand what is going to take place in the future.

Now the first step in the marriage customs was the betrothal or engagement.

A boy asked the father of the girl he wanted to marry for permission to marry her. If the father agreed, they negotiated what the price of the bride would be. When they reached a mutual agreement, the groom would pay the price and so a covenant had been entered into. ~~When this was arranged, the boy and girl drank together from a cup of wine as a symbol~~ of the marriage covenant. But they did not begin their marriage at that point each went to their respective homes for a period of about one year and made preparations for the marriage. He established a house somewhere in which they would live and she began to gather pots and pans, and bedding and so forth. After a period of separation, not one knew exactly when, ~~the groom~~ and in particular the bride never knew, the groom would call for his best man and his other male escort and together they would begin a torchlight procession to the home of the bride. Bystanders knowing what was taking place would cry out "Behold, the bridesroom cometh." This is what Jesus is saying in the 6th verse. The cry was to warn the bride to get ready quickly because this was her wedding night.

Then the bride knew the groom was on his way she sent for her bridesmaids to come to her house and get her dressed. Usually the groom and his men arrived before the bride was ready and they had to wait outside. (Perhaps that is why some wives always keep their husbands waiting while they get ready to go out). When the bride was ready, she and her escorts would leave her house and meet the groom in the street. They would all proceed by torchlight to the home of the father of the groom where the wedding guests were assembled. Upon arrival, the bride and groom would greet their guests briefly and then they would go to the bridal chamber to consummate the marriage. After a time the groom would leave that chamber to announce to his attendants that the marriage had been consummated, and they in turn would convey that message to the guests and the feasting would begin. That feasting lasted seven days.

As we look at the analogy given to us by Jesus we see the parable Jesus told and the events of His life fulfill the marriage relationship.

Jesus, like the bridesroom left His bride, which is the Church and has been away from that bride for a period of time. No one knows when He will appear to claim His bride. But one thing is certain, that each day which passes could be that day of His return. Jesus wanted His followers to be prepared for His return and that is why He shared the parable of the ten virgins.

In that parable the five wise virgins were able to go with the bride to the home of the groom. But the foolish virgins had to buy oil and so when they came to the groom's home, they were locked out. And this was also the custom when the bridal party arrived ~~and the bridesmaids~~ the doors were shut and no one else was admitted. So what Jesus is saying here is that if we want to be included in the wedding feast with Him, we better be ready when He comes or we will miss it. That is what He meant in the 24th chapter where He tells of one person being taken and another left behind. If we know Him as our Lord and Saviour we will be caught up with Him in the air when He comes for His Bride the Church.

A family not too long ago attended a special service in a small town. The mother was a Christian, but the dad was not. Their little six-year-old boy sat between them during the service and listened to the preacher preaching on the Second Coming of Christ. He understood it all pretty well and ~~when he was tucked in at night he asked his mother, "Mommy, when Jesus comes, will He leave my daddy behind?"~~ on the way home he stood behind the front seat of the car and he asked, "Mommy, when Jesus comes, will He leave my daddy behind?" The mother not wanting to embarrass her husband, said, "He will talk about it later son." Then he was tucked in the asked again, "Mommy, when Jesus comes will He leave my daddy behind?" She told him she would talk with him the next day.

Shortly after he was in bed he got up and came downstairs and said he couldn't sleep because the question was bothering him about his daddy. The mother put him back in bed and promised to talk to him the next day. When she came downstairs her husband was pacing back and forth. When she asked what was wrong he told her the question his son asked bothered him. They went to bed but he couldn't sleep and he tossed and turned. The next day he went to work but in mid-morning he called home and told his wife he would be home shortly. When he came home he told her he couldn't get the picture of his little boy asking with tears coming down his face, "If Jesus comes will He leave my daddy behind?" out of his mind. And so he went to talk to that preacher and accepted Christ ~~intexhisxlife~~ as his Savior.

That's the question we must all deal with. If Jesus were to come today, are you going to ~~next~~ be left behind? We don't know the hour, nor the day and the warning we have from the Lord Himself is, "Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh," vs 13.

"Worship: Who?"

Scripture: 1 Chronicles 29:10-14

The king had reached the end of his ~~xxxxxx~~ reign as well as the end of his life. He knew this and had made provisions for his son to reign in his stead. ~~xxxxxx~~ During his reign the Ark of the Covenant had been brought to Jerusalem and placed in a tent. The city of Jerusalem itself had been secured as the capital of Israel. Peace had been secured throughout the kingdom and his reign of forty years was the longest of any king in Israel up to this point. So he had assembled all of the leaders and people in the palace to address them for one final time.

It is then we read, (read verses 1 through 5 of 1 Chronicles 29).

The liberality of David is expressed here as roughly being 1 billion, 800 million in gold and 94 million in silver. David is ~~xxxxxx~~ donating this amount of gold and silver for the building of the Temple which ~~he was not permitted to do.~~ GOD DID NOT PERMIT HIM TO BUILD.

~~To~~ Following the example of their King, the leaders and people gave generously ~~xxxxxx~~ as well, (read verses 6 through 9).

THEN Following this generous outpouring of love and dedication to the building project, we read in the 10th verse, (read this). That had been simply ~~x~~ one last assembly before his death, the King, David, ~~xxx~~ turns the occasion into one of worship.

We have been talking in past weeks of the many facets of worship, but we need to identify the object of our worship. We need to ask, "Just WHO is it to whom we direct our worship?" Is it some object? Is it another human like us? The answers can be found in many parts of Scripture, but here in these final days of David's life I believe we can identify the "WHO" to whom we ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ should direct our adoration and praise.

(Illustration of scientist Edward Wein and his search for God)

A scientist named Edward Wein tells of a time in his life when he was passing through very serious doubt. He began to experience what he called "a reverence for the 'Ultimate.'" He would question, "What is 'IT?'" Then it became, "Who is He?" But he had problems thinking of God as a "He." So his questioning became, "Who is the mysterious Spirit that heals us, binds us together, rebuilds broken families, provides forgiveness and hope in us? Who is the mysterious Spirit that gives the wonder of childhood, the warmth of mature beauty, the gray wisdom of age, and the mystery of life and death, of laughter and tears? His answer became, "I don't know, but I trust this love, I sense this presence, for I have felt the power."

Now here is a modern man of science who had come to the holy and had finally met God at the end of his search.

David had known God throughout all of his life. The beginning of his prayer is merely a revelation of how he had always looked at his creator. But now as he continues his prayer as recorded in the 11th through the 13th verses we can see how he identifies the "Who" of worship, (read these verses).

Within these verses are to be found the four main traits of God's character. These are identified as His attributes. But since we can name four of them this doesn't mean there's all there are.

To understand God completely is not within the realm of possibility for mere ~~xxxxxx~~ mortals.

Perhaps the first attribute that we can identify of God is that He is "Immutable." This word simply means that He is unchangeable. God never changes,
He is always the same. He never wavers and goes from one extreme to another.
Perhaps the only way we can try to understand that God is unchangeable is to see this from the perspective of Jesus. When Jesus was on earth He told us that He and the Father are one, that if anyone saw Him they had seen the Father. So it is then that the author of the New Testament book of Hebrews tells us in the 13th chapter the 8th verse, "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today, and forever."

God will never change. He is still the same Heavenly Father who created the world and all that is in it; He stills hates sin and loves the sinner; and He still desires that all mankind would be saved through Jesus Christ.

~~xx~~

(Illustration of little girl and great-grandmother and God's creation)

A little girl climbed on the lap of her great-grandmother and looked at her white hair and wrinkles and then asked, "Did God make you?"

"Yes," the grandmother said.

Then she asked, "Did God make me too?"

Grandma said, "Yes."

"Well," said the little girl, "Don't you think he's doing a better job now than He used to?"

Contrary to anyone's belief, God has not changed, nor will He ever change.
Another one of God's attributes is that He is Omnipotent. This is what David is saying when He calls Him all power and might. Omnipotent means that He is all-powerful. Fifty-six times the word "Almighty" is used in the Bible. always it is used of God, never of anyone else. God is All-powerful and can do anything He wants. But what He does is always consistent with "WHO" He is.
He is able to create, but He also keeps His creation as evidenced by the control He exerts over all of it. As powerful as He is, He is able to redeem the lost and bring them into a relationship with Himself. A further evidence of His power is that He can raise the dead. That is lifeless, He can make alive.

(Illustration of teacher & Sunday School class and question about God)

A Sunday school teacher had taught a series of lessons on the Omnipotence of God. She thought she had done a pretty good job of explaining this to them. She asked the question, "Is there anything that God can't do?"

There was silence and then one little boy raised his hand. The teacher was disappointed and thought the point of the lesson had been missed. So she asked the boy, "Well, just what is it that God can't do?" The little boy answered, "God can't please everybody."

You think about that for a while. If it rains people grumble and complain; if it stays sunning and warm for a period of time and the ground dries out there are those who are grumbling for rain; if it is humid people complain; if it is winter its too cold, or too much snow. No matter what the circumstance, there are always those who will knock it. But through it all, God never uses His power to strike down runy little man and keep him in his place.

The third attribute of God is that He is Omnipresent. That simply means that He is everywhere all at the same time. He can be here and in any other part of the universe at the very same time. To try to think this through boggles the mind. But this is possible only with God.

The ancient Jews, many of them actually believed that God was confined to the place where He was worshiped. They thought of Him as being confined at Mt. Sinai; then it was the Ark of the Covenant; and finally it was the temple in Jerusalem. The neighboring nations likewise thought their gods were confined to their temples and we read of the example of the Philistines stealing the Ark of the Covenant. They took the Ark and put it in the temple of their god Dagon. They believed their gods lived there and the God of Israel who had shown power and might would add to their gods. The next day, the statue of Dagon was found lying on its face. They stood it up and the next day it had fallen again. But this time its head and hands were cut off. God had mysteriously performed surgery on this idol. Because of this Scripture tells us that the Philistines never again tread on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod. Who could worship a god who had been defeated by another more stronger god? This helped to prove that Almighty God does not dwell in temples made with hands. David writing in the 139th Psalm comes to the conclusion that no matter where he goes, he cannot escape from God for He is everywhere.

The fourth attribute of God is that He is what is called "Omniscient." This means that He is all-knowing. This attribute may not seem significant when we first ponder it. But to know that The Almighty God, the Creator of the universe, The only True God not only knows everything, He knows us, is something tremendous. When we consider that we are just a small speck on this planet earth and God knows the number of hairs on our heads; and He knows what we need even before we ask; and He supplies our needs; this makes God something very, very special.

Now we may well say, "so God is immutable, so He is Omnipotent, and Omnipresent; and Omniscient, so what?" You have good cause to ask that, because just what is so important that we must understand all of this? The answer is that we will probably never understand all of this in a lifetime. But in all of this there is one thing about God that stands out above all others.

That is that God knew that man was trapped in sin and no matter how hard he tried he couldn't escape the end result of it, which was and is death. So we read in Scripture that "God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten son so that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

That is the most beautiful verse in the whole Bible. What it says simply is "That God is love." Above all else, is that overwhelming love of God. Nothing else matters about your knowledge of God. The "WHO" that we worship, is love.

But how do you explain that love of God, and that God of love to someone who has lost a loved one? How do you explain it to someone who has just been told that a dearly beloved grandchild is dead?

You don't. All you can do is remind them of that love and God Himself will minister to their hearts and lives in future days. They have something and someone to cling to. pity those who do not believe in God when the tragedies of life overtake them. They have nothing to hang on to. It is in times of tragedy and adversity that we have our faith tested. And if it founded on the Solid Rock, we can rest in that love that can only come from one source and that is Almighty God.

~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ We should all be able to sing with complete assurance,
On Christ the solid rock I stand, all other ground is sinking sand,
All other ground is sinking sand.

Do you stand on that solid rock? Do you know that love of God in your life? You can you know and the way to know it is to turn your life over to Him. The "HOC" of worship has revealed Himself for you and I invite you to partake of His love this day.

"Worship: The Real Thing"

Scripture: Isaiah 6:1-8

When we mention the word "church" most people think of a building in which people gather to follow a service of worship. The church is that, but it is much more. The Church is the invisible Body of Christ.

(Illustration of preacher preaching about the Invisible Church)

A preacher preached a sermon on the "Invisible Church." At the next business meeting the treasurer made a motion that the manner of paying the pastor be changed. He said, "I move that we authorize the invisible treasurer of the invisible church to pay out pastor with an invisible check from now on."

Perhaps because it is difficult if not impossible to visualize the invisible church that our thought about the church turn immediately to buildings and properties. But the real church although made up of every person who names the name of Christ is within each individual life. It doesn't require a building to worship God. It doesn't require a special form of liturgy to worship God. God can be worshiped anywhere and we make a mistake to think that it must be done only on a Sunday and in a certain building. God created us to worship Him and He desires that each day of our lives. Worship is not restricted to a prescribed ritual or place.

So as we continue our study of "Worship" and what we can learn about it, let us direct our thinking this Lord's Day to "Worship: The Real Thing."

The classical portion of Scripture for the study of worship is found in the 6th chapter of Isaiah. We cannot be certain just where it was that Isaiah had his vision of the Lord. There are those who tell us it took place in the temple. That may well be true. But to state emphatically is to read something into this passage which is simply not there.

Isaiah begins by saying, "In the year of King Uzziah's death, I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, lofty and exalted, with the train of His robe filling the temple."

The temple referred to in the verse may have been the temple in Jerusalem and then it may have been a temple in which Isaiah saw the Lord. The identity of the Lord here is that of Jesus. This was a pre-incarnate appearance of Him. Every time it is mentioned in the Old Testament that someone literally saw the Lord, we must remember it was Jesus that was seen even though He had not yet come to earth bodily. The reason for stating this is the fact that God Himself said that no one could see Him and live. So the appearance of the Lord refers to Jesus.

John writing of this says in the 12th chapter of his Gospel, verses 37-41, (read these). "His Glory" can only mean Christ's glory and the context of this of course is Isaiah 6. So it is that we first of all realize that Isaiah saw something. Isaiah had to use his eyes to see what it was that God had for him. In order to have a worship experience Isaiah had to see the object of his worship. So must we. We need to see in our mind's eye the risen Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. We don't need to duplicate the experience which Isaiah had but we need to visualize that the One we worship is in our very presence, wherever we worship Him. He is not confined to a building, or a shrine, or a special altar of some sort. He is standing outside of our hearts awaiting admittance to reveal Himself to each one of us.

But Isaiah not only saw something, he heard something. In the 3rd verse he writes, "And one called out to another and said, 'Holy, Holy, Holy, is the Lord of hosts, the whole earth is full of His glory.' And the foundations of the thresholds trembled at the voice of Him who called out, while the temple was filling with smoke."

As the heavenly beings praised God the very ~~threshold~~ doorposts of the temple Isaiah saw shook. What Isaiah heard was the praise directed to God. The angels didn't say, "Merciful, merciful, merciful," or, "Wise, wise, wise," or "Eternal, eternal, eternal." It was, "Holy, Holy, Holy." The holiness of God is that which sets Him ~~xxx~~ apart from every other creature or being. He is not another human type person that we can call buddy buddy, or the man in the sky, or some other pet phrase to make it seem like we have a very close relationship with Him. He is God and He is Holy. There can be no familiarity or treating Him as though He was just another person. Like Isaiah we need to hear God calling us from the ordinary everyday things of life to worship Him wherever we are.

Isaiah in the presence of the Lord recognizes himself for what he was as he awakes in the 5th verse, (read this).

And the angel responds to Isaiah's need as we read in the 6th & 7th verses, (read these).

From this we learn that Isaiah not only saw something and "heard something," but he "felt something." That something was the touch of God on his life. He received forgiveness, bringing him into that special relationship with the Lord. Isaiah had confessed his uncleanness, his sin. And the Lord had responded by cleansing him from his sin. His life had been touched and he now belonged to the Lord.

Following this, Isaiah relates, "Then I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, 'Whom shall I send, and who will go for Us?' Then said I, 'Here am I. Send me.'"

Isaiah not only saw something and heard something, and felt something, he "did something." He responded to the call of God. He was willing to volunteer, to let God use him as He would.

All of what happened to Isaiah was the "Real Thing" of worship. There was none of the false or superficial which man wants to put into worship today. All of what happened to Isaiah is what needs to happen to each of us if we truly want to learn what the worship of God is all about. I don't mean to imply that we should be seeking visions. But we should each be seeking God in spirit and in truth when we worship.

Like Isaiah we should first seek to "see something." Here in this outdoor setting we can easily see the handiwork of God. The grass, the sky, the birds, all of nature speaks to ~~xxxxx~~ us of the creation God has so wondrously provided for us. In all of this can catch a glimpse of His Holiness. But there are those who are not with us this morning because this is not worship as far as they are concerned. Unless it is done in what is recognized as "The Church" it is not worship. By "The Church" a specific building is meant.

Like Isaiah we should "feel something." But we must be careful here because there are those who are continually seeking a feeling, or some sort of sensation or it isn't worship. Isaiah didn't experience that, nor is it the type of feeling we should have. We should feel, or sense the presence of God in our midst.

Like Isaiah we should "hear something." We should hear the voice of God in the stillness of our worship. God tells us in His Word to "be still and know that I am God." It isn't in the hustle and bustle of our everyday lives that we get close to God. Instead, it is in the quiet moments when we can come to God on a one to one basis and get to know Him as the loving Father which He is.

But like Isaiah we must "do something" as well. We must surrender our lives to Him and say without reservation, "Here am I. Send me." We should be willing to give out all. Bobby Richardson the former second baseman of the New York Yankees baseball team was called upon to pray at a meeting of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. His prayer was simply this: Dear God, Your will, nothing more, nothing less, nothing else. Amen."

It is only in total and complete surrender that we will ever truly experience worship of God. It isn't in buildings or special places; it isn't in special attitudes or positions that we will find God. It is only in the surrender of our wills to His that we will find ~~trux~~ worship "The Real Thing."

"Worship: The Place"

Scripture: Hebrews 10:19-25

(Illustration of apathy)

A teacher in an English composition class gave the class the assignment of writing a paper on the subject, "Erat?" All of the class worked on their papers for one hour. All that is, except one boy who worked on his paper for one minute, ~~XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX~~ wrote something, and then left the class. The teacher discovered when she was grading the papers that on his sheet he had written, "So what?"

If you were to make a survey concerning worship I believe the ~~biggest~~ most prominent revelation would be that of the attitude of apathy. But I believe that more surprisingly you would discover that a vast majority of so called church members would exhibit this apathy very ~~note~~ vividly.

We have shared togethern many things concerning worship and one of them was the use of the illustration of the conversation Jesus had with the woman at Jacob's well. In His encounter with her the woman makes reference to the "Place" of worship. In the 20th verse of the 4th chapter of John's Gospel she says, (read this verse). The reply that Jesus gives her is, (read verses 21-24). This was in answer to the shallow perspective which her society had that worship was something you did at a prescribed place, at a set time in a ritualistic manner. From her conversation with Jesus and what the Jews and the Samaritans taught she was confused. She wasn't sure whether they should worship at Mt. Gerazim, or in the temple in Jerusalem. His answer was simply that there isn't an "up" or "down"there" place to worship and worship is not confined to a specific place or time, or form.

(Illustration of Dr. Vance Havner & worship at 11:00)

The late Dr. Vance Havner once said,
"Worship begins on Sunday morning in many churches at 11 A.M. sharp, and ends at 12 dull."

The reason being that too many who come to church do not actually come to worship. ~~Theyxx~~ Many are in church because it may be the thing to do; or it may enhance the business they own; or its something that is simply a habit. Then there are those who are not in church because it is at the wrong time; or the service runs past 12 o'clock; or they don't like the preacher; or they consider there are too many hypocrites there, (and of course, they exclude themselves from that category.)

That Jesus was trying to tell this woman at the well was that the old system had been done away with by His coming into the world. The Apostle Paul points out in his 1st letter to the Corinthians 3:16, (read this). He meant that every ~~living~~ believer was living, breathing temple in which God dwells. That means that the believer can worship God at any time, in any place and he isn't dependent upon a building. This is what the author of Hebrews is trying to convey to his readers. After he has given those stirring statements about the offering of Christ he says, "Therefore, brethren we have confidence to enter the holy place by the blood of Jesus," vs 19.

In the old covenant the people could not come near to God. They had to stand off a certain distance and watch as the priest ministered to God on their behalf. (And unfortunately, there are still some people in the church who view the role of the minister as still being that of priest offering up on behalf of them.) The priest would go into the Holy of Holies, or The Holiest Place once a year. He took with him a basin filled with blood, pulled aside the heavy thick curtain called the veil in the temple, and stepped out of sight. Inside he had to sprinkle that blood on the mercy seat for the forgiveness of the sins of the people. He was scared that he had to do everything just right or God would strike him dead. The people waited in the court holding their collective breath afraid that God would strike him dead. So it is that the author of Hebrews tells us in the 22nd verse, (read this). Worship is coming before God knowing our relationship with Him because we have been cleansed by the blood of Jesus Christ. That is what the sprinkling here is. And the washing of pure water is being baptized. But even though we may worship God anywhere at anytime, God still desires corporate worship and this is what verse 24 & 25 speak of, (read these). We are to "stimulate one another." That means we seek to have others join us in worship. But just what should corporate worship be?

(Illustration John MacArthur & his preaching on worship)

John MacArthur tells of the results after he had preached on worship. Some of his members said that signs should be erected outside of the church that said something like, "Be holy in the Lord," or "Be silent." Then they suggested soft music and dimmed lights and ~~perhaps even no announcements~~, and he could little bells on the bottom of his robe so that like the Jewish priests they could hear him coming and know it was time to worship.

(Illustration Abraham Lincoln, a pretty gun that wasn't worth anything)

When Abraham Lincoln was keeping a store in Salem, Illinois, he had a beautiful gun displayed so everyone could see it. The little sign under it seemed to imply that it was a quality ~~pari~~ product. It said the gun was made from the finest Swedish steel; the stock was from the finest walnut wood; and a world famous gunsmith had made the gun. It was a beauty. The price was reasonable -- too reasonable. On the next rack were several old long barrel Kentucky squirrel rifles made from ordinary gun steel. The stocks were just ordinary wooden stocks. The gunsmith's inscription was recognized as one who was competent, but by no means famous. The price was much higher.

A customer in the market looked the rifles over and was impressed by the shiny new gun. He asked Abe, "Why is the good gun so cheap and the other guns so high?" Abe replied, "That gun won't shoot the others will." Then Abe picked up a squirrel rifle and to demonstrate, sighted at a squirrel sized object a hundred yards away and hit it dead center. The pioneers desired the squirrel rifles. But shortly thereafter, a rich farmer was decorating a room in his new country mansion. He wanted a gun for decoration over his mantle, just under the mounted heads of big game trophies. The gun was perfect for the purpose. The little plaque told that it was a quality rifle. But the fact that it didn't shoot was unimportant. The purpose of the gun had changed.

~~Mark 6:10-11~~

We can see the church in this illustration. What started out to be the means to lead people to Christ has too often changed into a comfortable Sunday routine. The church is merely a building with beautiful stained glass windows, beautiful arrangements of wood and flowers, and cloth. But it has ceased to be the place where people come to truly worship God corporately. ~~Worship is not a formalized ritual~~ If you feel that you must have a formalized ritual, or mood music to worship, what you do isn't worship. Music and liturgy can assist a worshiping heart, but they cannot make a nonworshiping heart into a worshiping one. But they can give a non-worshiping heart the sense of having worshiped and there is the danger. The crucial factor in worship is not the form, but the hearts of the assembled. If you believe that you can do anything you want the other six days of the week and then come to church on Sunday and turn on your worship, you are wrong. Our lifestyle the rest of the week must be consistent if our corporate worship is to be worship. What we do apart from the corporate body, adversely affects it on Sunday morning. This is because we are to be one body and what one does affects all the others in the family.

But corporate worship is not only being genuine, it is because there is the compulsion to share with like believers our praise and thanksgiving to our Creator. Look at what Hebrews points out, "Let us consider how to stimulate one another to love and good deeds." How can we best do that? By setting the example of finding our place in the congregation each Sunday morning. It should never be a matter of it not being the right time for worship as far as we are concerned. And there are those who aren't with us because during the summer church should be ~~as~~ early as far as they are concerned. It is not a matter of the form or the liturgy; nor is it a matter of who is preaching as evidenced by a complete dropoff of church attendance by many when I am away. It is a matter of wanting to share collectively what God has for us. Of coming to praise His Holy Name and to render to Him our love and we can best do this together. It lifts each of us to share this love together.

We need to ask ourselves, "Why do I go to church?" I hear the old remark, "I don't get anything out of church," quite often. And do you know why anyone doesn't get anything out of church? It is because they don't put anything into it. You have to put something into something in order to get anything out of it. If you come to church to analyze the choir, or criticize the preacher, you aren't going to get anything out of church. And if you come to seek a blessing you have also missed the point of worship. We come to worship and receive worship by giving. We give ourselves to God in praise. That means we sing the hymns, poor voice or not; we pray the prayers, even if the prayers are being offered by someone else; we give of ourselves in all of the service. We come to give and that doesn't mean just money. And incidentally, we should come even if we don't have money for the offering. God wants the offering of ourselves more than He does our money. Because if we give ~~ourselves~~ ourselves, God sees that and He will bless us materially as well. Look at how the author of Hebrews concludes this Scripture, (read verse 25). The people in the first century church greeted each day with the thought that that particular day may just might be the day in which the Lord Jesus would return. They looked forward expectantly to that great Day. Because of this a certain majority of them entered worship expectantly anticipating that perhaps Jesus just might return to find them assembled together glorifying His Name collectively. But back in those days there were those who felt they didn't need to go to church. Jesus was coming back soon and they were ready, and so they didn't need the body of Christ to assemble in. Those people missed out on the blessings God had for them in worship. Most people's lives are in a state of turmoil for two reasons. Either they are not worshipping God six days a week and they also miss worshipping on Sunday, or they seek to worship God on Sunday without regarding the other six days. It takes both the worship in and of our lives each day of the week, AND the worship of God in corporate worship on Sunday.

A man who had been in church week after week began to miss church. First it was every other week, then two weeks in a row, then a month at a time, and then finally he wasn't there at all. The preacher thought about the absence of this faithful member and so after church one ~~sunday~~ cold Sunday morning he stopped at the man's house. He found him seated in front of an open fire. The man surprised at this visit got a chair for the preacher and then waited for the lecture about church attendance he expected to hear. But the preacher sat down and both of them stared into the fire silently. ~~after a while the preacher expected the fire to look the~~ ~~xxxxxx~~ after awhile the preacher picked up the tongs, and lifted a glowing coal out of the fire and placed it by itself. Then they both watched as that coal began to die out. It was then the church member said, "You don't need to say a word preacher, I'll be in church next week."

"I see this as "The Place" for worship, But it cannot be that if first of all we are not here. And it cannot be "The Place" if we don't come prepared to worship, and worship when we are here. When our lives are lived each day drawn close to God, the overflow of that is our wanting to be here with those of the same spirit. Then after we have truly worshiped here, our desire should be to go out prepared for another week in which our living will be worship until we can come together collectively once again.

"Seeking Welfare"

Scripture: Jeremiah 29:1-7

Ask all who have served in the Armed Forces to stand

Salute to the American Flag

(Illustration of what people say about the United States)

Back in 1976 someone wrote:

These days some people say that in the United States the rich people get richer and the poor people get poorer. They talk about "capitalists" who take advantage of the poor workers, and talk about "his business" as if it were a dirty word. They say poor people are stuck in the "ghettos" of the city, and can't get an education and can't get good jobs. Is this true?

Elizabeth Handford wrote at the same time in 1976:

"Once we stood at the wall of an old German city. The houses were all standing close together side by side. The streets were narrow and winding bounded by the old timbered buildings making it difficult for a small German car to thread through them and impossible for an American-made car. We enjoyed looking at the medieval towers and turrets and suddenly we came to a wide place, empty, paved, with a few buses parked on it. It seemed so strange, in such a crowded city, to see such an open, useless space. It was n't a park. It wasn't a city square. It was just an empty space. Why? Our guide dropped his eyes sadly. "It's where the old Jewish ghetto was. All the Jews had to crowd into those two city blocks. They couldn't live anywhere else in town. They had to wear a big blue star on their clothing, to show they were Jews. They could work at only certain jobs. Then when they were all deported to prison camps, their homes were burned down."

The definition of a ghetto is a place where someone is forced to live and it is not a place of that person's choosing. With this definition then we can see that there are no ghettos in America. People perhaps of the same background, or nationality, or religion may choose to live together in a separated manner, but they are free to go elsewhere if they choose.

Our Scripture for this morning speaks of the Jewish people in the time of the prophet Jeremiah being forced to live in another land, not of their choosing. Jeremiah was living in Jerusalem and a group of his fellow-Jews were living in Babylon. They had been taken there by King Nebuchadnezzar. King Zedekiah was more favorable toward the Babylonians than had been the previous two kings. Reluctantly he had gone along with Jeremiah's advice for the exiles to live peaceably among the Babylonians in exile. But this advice was paying off and he must have come to the conclusion that you cannot argue with success.

So Jeremiah wrote in this letter, "Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, to all the exiles whom I have sent into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon," verse 4.

Jeremiah is relaying the message he had received from God. And surprisingly that message was, (read verses 5-7).

I would like to make an analogy here with what took place in the forming ^{FORMATION OF} the wonderful country in which you and I live. In England there was widespread unrest because people were being persecuted for their beliefs. Desiring to secure religious freedom there were those who set sail for the new world. Arriving on the shores of these United States, these hardy souls began a nation that has grown to be the ~~largest~~ most powerful and wealthy nation the world has ever known. The Jewish people survived and came back from their exile in Babylon because they followed the formula Jeremiah was inspired by God to give them. I believe that these United States of America have similarly survived to become a great nation by using the same formula. Our founding fathers knew God and knew His Word and established our nation under Him. The formula as we find it in Jeremiah's letter is this. First, he wrote as we read in the 5th verse, "Build houses and live in them." In order to become established our forefathers had to put down roots and settle in the new land. They pushed back the frontiers, cleared the land and began to build settlements. That first winter for the pilgrims was severe killing many of them. But they persevered and ~~then~~ the infant nation began to grow and spread out.

The second part of Jeremiah's formula for the exiles is also found in the 5th verse. He said, "plant gardens and eat their produce." Our ancestors were shown by the indians how to plant and grow the crops which were indigenous to this continent and soon farms were spreading all over the land. There have always been and we should pray there always will be people who are willing to work long and hard to produce the food we are privileged to eat.

All of us owe a debt of thanks to the farmers of our nation. Because of them we have been able to produce much, much more food than we can possibly consume. Because of this our food prices ~~xxxx~~ remain the lowest in the world. In many nations of the world today, at least half of the average workers salary is used to pay for food. We must all agree that we have been abundantly blessed.

Jeremiah's third piece of advice we find in the 7th verse where we read:
"And pray to the Lord."

When our ancestors came to these shores they not only built settlements and stretched out the frontiers; and they not only ~~established~~ established farms and grew crops; but they founded this nation on God. They built houses of worship and they prayed to the Lord seeking His guidance in their ~~live~~ everyday lives. But their spiritual outlook was not just individual selfishness for themselves and their families. And the third piece of advice Jeremiah gave was much broader than just praying. The entire 7th verse relates:

"And seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the Lord on its behalf; for in its welfare you will have welfare."

Everyone was to try to look out for everyone else. It was not just self-preservation. It was seeing that the other persons needs were met also. The KJV word is "Peace." And there is peace if we try to look out for each other. But it goes beyond just having peace, it is seeking to look out for others. It is the Golden Rule as Jesus taught. But it is looking out for others with no thought of reward for doing so.

But sadly we must say that the very freedoms upon which this nation was founded are being eroded away by selfishness and greed. We see more and more groups seeking what they call their rights. And in order for these groups to have those "rights" the real rights of many others are infringed upon. But no matter about that, we must not keep anyone from having his "rights."

(Illustration of man & three sons)

I read of a man who was a poor southern farmer who had three sons. They had little in the way of clothing, were very poor, had little schooling and each of the boys along with their dad and mother had to work very hard to survive. The one boy grew up put himself through college, and seminary and turned out to be a wonderful preacher. The second boy went into business and in a period of time became a millionaire. The third boy? Well since he came from a very poor home, it wasn't his fault if he couldn't earn a living was it? No he became the town drunk, and earned his living by begging on the street.

And that is exactly what a lot of the so called "street people" are. Many of them are nothing more than bums who have chosen that life for themselves and desire the pity of everyone for the free handouts they can get. Some of them are legitimate and need our help. But a lot of them are self-professed street people who want nothing else. Read about the situation that the Mayor of Los Angeles tried to work out for these people and how they want no part of it. A friend of mine from New England visiting this week told me how in New England they cannot get teenagers to work in McDonalds for minimum wage. So they have to pay them $6.00 per hour in order to get them to work. And unfortunately ~~thaxix~~ those are the two extremes we have in our nation. There are those who will not work, and then there are those who will only work if you promise them the world with a fence around it.

Think of what you have read and heard about what has made our country great.

The French statesman, Alexis de Tocqueville visited America over a hundred years ago. He came to see what made America great. Upon his return home he wrote: "I sought for the greatness of America in her harbors and rivers and fertile fields, and her mines and commerce. It was not there. Not until I went into her churches and heard her pulpits flame with righteousness did I understand the greatness of her power. America is great because she is good; and if America ever ceases to be good, America will cease to be great."

Then he said, "The greatness of America lies not in being more enlightened than any other nation, but rather in her ability to repair her faults."

I wonder what he would say if he were to visit many churches today and find the liberal humanistic drivel being preached instead of the Gospel of Jesus Christ? I wonder what he would say about the preachers of wealth and profit we have seen and are seeing today?

The message for America is still the same today. We must Build, we must Plant, and we must Pray. Only on the foundation of the Lord can we continue.

Have you founded your life on Him, so that no matter what happens in our world you belong to Him? Are you building on that, planting on that, praying on it?

FINANCE COMMITTEE meeting July 20 at 7:00 P.M.

LITURGISTS are needed to assist with the services in August while the Pastor is away. If you would like to help with one of the services, please come to the office. We need your help. We are looking for volunteers, we don't want to draft you.

SUPP & SALAD vegetables are needed. If you or anyone you know has beans or corn for us, please see Lois Stokes or Phyllis Tait. Keep in mind we will need tomatoes, onions, cabbage, etc. a little later.

Following the sermon we sing an invitational hymn, followed by a period giving each worshipper the opportunity for reflection. As you reflect on your life's situations you have the chance to respond to God's leading for your life by coming forward to the altar. The invitation gives the opportunity to accept Christ as Savior, to pray, to meditate, or to seek counseling. The Pastor will assist you if you desire. Please avail yourself of this opportunity.

"Worship: The Father"

Scripture: John 5:10-18

(Illustration of cartoon about "yeast and shoe polish")

A cartoon pictured a lady with a mixing bowl and she was saying:

"To make sure you come to Sunday School and church next week we are sending you a special batch of yeast and shoe polish. It will make you 'Rise and shine!'"

I wish that it were that easy to get people to Sunday School and Church. In our present series on Worship I think we can readily see that people come to church for many ~~xxxxxxx~~ wrong reasons. ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ When God created man, He placed within him the desire to worship the creator. But too often man has not understood what worship is all about, nor actually just who it is he is to be worshipping.

(Illustration philosopher Thomas Carlyle and the need of his "parish")

One cold winter afternoon the philosopher Thomas Carlyle was sitting in front of his fireplace in his library. There was a knock on the door and when he answered it he discovered it was the new minister from his church. He ushered him into the library and as they sat by the fire the minister asked, "What do you think this parish needs most?" Carlyle answered without hesitation, "That this parish needs most is a man who knows God other than by hearsay."

That is what every church needs. But that limitation should not just be placed upon the minister, it should be that which every member of the congregation has. The minister should certainly know God intimately. But so should every member. And if the members know, actually know what worship is all about, the first thing they should have learned about it is that it involves "The Father." In the conversation Jesus had with the woman at the well, three times He ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ spoke of "worshipping the Father." All worship should be centered on Him. And in order for mankind to get to know Him, God came into our midst. Our Scripture this morning tells us an incident about that period in history.

Jesus was in Jerusalem for the Feast of the Passover. As He was passing the pool located by the sheep gate, He saw the people who had come to be healed in the water. One man had been sick with his physical condition for 38 years. Each year he had come hoping that he could get into the water first when it was stirred up before anyone else got there, and thus be healed. But each year was the same. Jesus stopped in front of him and asked him if he wanted to be healed. Naturally, the man wanted healing above all else, and Jesus healed him. But this event took place on the Jewish Sabbath which was a "no no."

This was noticed by the religious leaders and they immediately asked him who it was who had healed him. But what made it rather obvious was that the man was carrying his bed. This was probably a reed mat which could be rolled or unrolled at convenience. But since it was the Sabbath, no good Jew would be carrying his bed around with him.

A little while later Jesus saw the man in the temple and explained to him that he was now healed. His conversation proved to anyone who heard Him that He was not just an ordinary man. John tells us that Jesus said to the man, "Behold, you have become well; do not sin anymore, so that nothing worse may befall you," verse 14b.

The Jews believed that all afflictions were the result of certain sins committed. So what Jesus was saying to the man was that he was forgiven of anything he had done. This proved He was no ordinary man because anyone knew only God can forgive sins. And when Jesus told him not to sin anymore, the worse thing that could happen to him was to be doomed to hell and only God could free someone from that event.

So the stage was set for the confrontation between Jesus and the religious leaders at this feast. But in the meantime, the man who had been healed went to these religious leaders and told them that it was Jesus who had healed him. The man was not necessarily being a stool pidgeon, but he was trying to protect his life. The law stated that anyone found guilty of working on the Sabbath was to be put to death by stoning. This man was probably scared that the religious leaders were going to find him guilty and kill him. So in order to circumvent that possibility, he told them how he had been healed and by whom.

Thus it is that John relates in the 16th verse, "And for this reason the Jews were persecuting Jesus, because He was doing these things on the Sabbath."

The word "persecute" as used here means that they "pressed upon" Jesus. Or they wanted to investigate Him thoroughly to discover whether He was really from God, or if they were right about Him all along and He was an imposter. He did things on the Sabbath which no truly religious Jew would do. So His motives came into serious questioning.

His answer to them was that His Father was working yet and so was He. This placed Him on a level with God. The implication was very clear that after Creation God brought forth the Sabbath as a day of rest, but that He God never stopped working and that He Himself, (Jesus), also never stopped working. John then relates how this infuriated the Jewish leaders and he tells us in the 18th verse, (read this). To these charges Jesus replies in the following verses. But just because a man claims that he is God doesn't make it true. That must be proved. So it is that Jesus replied to them as the 30th verse points out, "I can do nothing on My own initiative. As I hear, I judge; and My judgment is just, because I do not seek My own will, but the will of Him who sent Me."

And then He adds as the 31st verse relates, "If I alone bear witness of Myself, My testimony is not true."

It took the proof which only God could give to show that Jesus was indeed God in the flesh.

A portion of that proof is found in the reply which Jesus gave to these men.

In verse 19, Jesus says that He and the Father are one in what they do.

In the 20th verse, (read this), Jesus says that God has done some great works But He, (Jesus), will do even greater things. He is referring to the cross and the resurrection.

In the 21st verse Jesus talks about the dead being raised, (read this), and that He, (Jesus), will raise the dead also, including Himself.

But Jesus also speaks of what we call the "Trinity" in the 23rd verse, (read this). The word "honor" in this verse means, "to value highly, most esteemed most prized possession, most beloved." That which is the most beloved, or the most prized possession is that which is worshiped. So we not only are to worship the Father, but we are to worship the Son, and we do this only in the power of the Holy Spirit Who motivates us to love God.

(Illustration of blind girl, sight restored and seeing "handsome" father)

There is a story told of an artist's daughter who lost her eyesight when she was a baby. After her mother died, the girl's father became both mother and father to her. He was her constant companion. For years her blindness was considered incurable. Then a new type of surgery promised to restore her vision. Following the operation, as she lay in a darkened room with her eyes bandaged, this one thought occupied her mind: "Soon I shall see my dear father." When the days of waiting were past and the bandages were removed, at last she looked into the face she had so long desired to see. Trembling with excitement she closed her eyes, and then opened them again to convince herself that she was not dreaming. As the one she loved took her into his arms, she exclaimed, "I've had such a good looking father all these years and didn't even know it!"

Jesus opened the blinded eyes of ~~the~~ man to see once and for all the loving Father, man has always had. But ~~there were~~ many of those who saw God in the flesh still looked at Him with blinded eyes! Do you know Him as the One who came to reveal God to you? ~~and the love of~~ Do you know the deep love of God as revealed in Jesus? I invite you to know that for a certainty today if you do not.

Scripture: Mark 7:1-9

(Illustration of selling worshiper's dust)

I read recently of a Japanese man who for 50 years has worked in a Japanese temple gathering the dust in that temple which is left there by the thousands of worshippers who go there daily. This dust is sold for a high price. The superstitious purchasers sprinkle this dust in front of their doors believing that it will bring them blessings of immunity from plague and famine.

(Illustration of Shiite Muslims and their practice once a year)

White Muslims have a practice which they do once a year to celebrate the death of their Muslim leader over a dozen centuries ago. On this special day, men, boys, and even infants have their shaved heads lacerated with swift chopping strokes of a straight razor. Then they beat themselves on the head with the flat side of their swords to stimulate the bleeding. And following this they march in the square before the mosque, bleeding profusely while thousands watch and chant.

Which brings us to the question, "What is worship?" Just what is it that constitutes worship?

The religious leaders of Jesus' day had very definite ideas of what it was that constituted worship. At every step of the way Jesus was doored by these men. Our passage of Scripture for this morning tells us that Jesus is once again being investigated by these men.

So it is that Mark records, (read verses 1 through 5). And Jesus answers them. (read verses 6 through 9).

The gist of what Jesus said to them was that these scribes and Pharisees "set aside" the written law of God and replaced it with the oral tradition which had been handed down to this time only by word of mouth. It was never a part of God's written law that all of the little traditions had to be meticulously followed. The word "tradition" as used here by Jesus simply means that which has been passed on or down. And what Jesus was saying was simply that these little rules and regulations were being substituted for what was the true worship which God sought. Just to simply take a brief look at the ceremony of handwashing is to understand what caused Jesus to be upset.

(Illustration of handwashing & clean and unclean vessels)

Before every meal and between each of the courses, the hands had to be washed. But they had to be washed in a certain way. The water had to be kept in special stone jars and could not be used for anything else. The hands were held with fingertips pointing up. The water was poured over them and had to run at least to the wrists; the minimum amount of water had to be equal to one and a half eggshells full of water. While the hands were still wet each hand had to be cleansed by the other. The fist of one hand was rubbed into the palm of the other. Thus because the hands had touched one another they were each unclean, and the water on them was now unclean, so the hands were held fingers pointing downward and then water was poured from the wrists to run off at the finger tips. After all of this the hands were now clean.

A Gentile was unclean; food touched by a Gentile made it unclean, so when a strict Jew returned from the marketplace, where he would have been in contact with Gentiles, he immersed his whole body in clean water to take away the uncleanness he may have encountered. A hollow vessel made of pottery could contract uncleanness inside, but not outside. No matter who or what touched it outside it didn't matter, but it mattered what or who touched it inside. If it became unclean it had to be broken; and no unbroken piece of it must remain which was big enough to hold enough oil to anoint the little toe.

From these examples we can ^{see} the extent these people went to to observe the rituals of clean and unclean. But they were all traditions and were not the Law of God. Thus Jesus told these men they had a misconception of what worshiping God was all about.

The classic example for worship is that which is found in chapter 4 of John's Gospel. We have referred to this ~~times after times~~ passage several times.

In the 24th verse of that chapter Jesus said, "God is spirit and those who ~~wor~~ worship Him, must worship in spirit and truth."

This woman at the well was a Samaritan and she was asking who had the right worship. Was it the Jews at Jerusalem, or was it the Samaritans at Mt. Gerizim? Jesus said, "Neither." John MacArthur writing on this portion of Scripture says: ~~"The worship of the Samaritans was done in ignorance. The Samaritans spiritual knowledge was limited because they rejected all of the Old Testament except the five books of Moses. Their religion was characterized by enthusiastic worship without proper information. They worshiped in spirit but not in truth. The Jews had the opposite situation. They accepted all the books of the Old Testament. They had the truth, but lacked the spirit. When the Pharisees prayed or gave alms, or fasted, their hearts weren't in it. The worship that occurred on Mt. Gerizim was enthusiastic heresy. The worship offered at Jerusalem was barren, lifeless orthodoxy. Jerusalem had the truth but not the spirit. Gerizim had the spirit but not the truth. The two enemies of true worship are Gerizim and Jerusalem. Sincerity, enthusiasm, and aggressiveness are important, but they must be based on truth and truth is foundational, but if it doesn't result in an eager, excited, enthusiastic heart, it is deficient. Enthusiastic heresy is heat without light. Barren orthodoxy is light without heat."~~

"The Samaritans style of worship was done in ignorance. The Samaritans spiritual knowledge was limited because they rejected all of the Old Testament except the five books of Moses. Their religion was characterized by enthusiastic worship without proper information. They worshiped in spirit but not in truth. The Jews had the opposite situation. Sincerity, enthusiasm, and aggressiveness are important, but they must be based on truth and truth is foundational, but if it doesn't result in an eager, excited, enthusiastic heart, it is deficient. Enthusiastic heresy is heat without light. Barren orthodoxy is light without heat."

Jesus gave the woman at the well "The Divine Method, which includes both heat and light. That method is to worship in spirit and in truth.

So the first element of "The Divine Method" is to worship in spirit.

In ~~order~~ order to worship God in spirit, our spirits must be attuned to the spirit of God. Paul tells us in 1st Corinthians 12:3, "No one can say, 'Jesus is Lord' except by the Holy Spirit".

We receive the Holy Spirit by the reception of Jesus Christ as ~~Savior~~ Savior and Lord. So then we can rightly say that in order to truly worship a person must be saved. How can anyone apart from God's salvation truly worship God? This accounts for a lot of people having trouble worshipping in ~~church~~ a church service. So we must examine ourselves and ~~ask~~ inquire if we are truly saved. Our answer will tell us why we do or do not worship God.

But also in order to truly worship in spirit our thoughts must be centered on God. This is why in every church service there should be scripture used as well as the expounding of God's Word. In this manner we receive insights from God, which reveal Him to us. This lifts our spirits and we can truly lift our hearts to Him in love and devotion.

But we must also worship Him in truth. Here is where God's Word plays such an important role. It is only from God's Word, the Bible that we receive the whole truth that man needs to know God. During the week we should be reading parts and portions of God's Word every day. We need that just as we need food. It is in this way we find God's truth revealed for daily living.

But we also need that food on Sunday as well. To many people the portion of the service that is ~~xxx~~ looked forward to the least is the sermon. In the past 15 or 20 years the question has been argued as to the relevancy of the sermon in the modern day church service. But it is just as much necessary today as it was in the first century church. The purpose of the sermon is to give us insights into God's love in our lives for the times in which we live. It is not a time for the preacher to show his intelligence or knowledge. But it is a time to teach about God and ~~xxxxxxx~~ and from that teaching comes worship.

(Illustration of college golden anniversary celebration)

The 50th anniversary celebration for a small college was being held with a service in the small chapel on campus. The chapel was packed with the teachers, trustees, students and college employees. After the preacher had delivered a short sermon, he stepped down from the pulpit and invited the congregation to share their thoughts and feelings with each other. "Could we begin with you, ma'am?" he said to an elderly lady sitting in the first pew. She was a cleaning woman in the science building. The woman arose, but when she looked around and saw all of the educated people present she froze. For some time she didn't speak. Finally, she said, "I know that my redeemer lives because He lives in my soul. Hallelujah." And then she quickly sat down. Everyone knew that something beautiful and beyond description had happened and there was a dead silence. Finally, the preacher broke the silence by saying, "I would like to affirm what our sister had just said. It is the deepest thing that can be said about the human spirit and about God. I rejoice to be in her presence. And all I can do is to repeat her words, 'I know that my redeemer liveth because He lives in my soul, Hallelujah!'"

True worship doesn't require education or degrees. It doesn't require anything special except an open heart and life to seek ~~the Divine Method~~ God in spirit and in truth. That is "The Divine Method," and God grants it to anyone who sincerely seeks Him. Are you able to truly worship God? Or do you feel that worship is something you have problems with? If that has been your experience, then try truly seeking Him in spirit, by letting His Holy Spirit guide and direct you. And then truly seek Him in His Word, His truth all week and then come prepared to meet Him again in His truth. I invite you to share your desires with Him this morning.

"Worship: To Glorify"

(Illustration of Westminster Catechism)

The Westminster Catechism begins with the question, "What is the chief end of man?" It then gives the answer, ~~That~~ "Man's chief end is to glorify God, and to enjoy Him forever."

The Reverend Earl Cannon of Vernon Baptist Church in Chicago expected 15,000 people would march in his ~~happy day~~ non-denominational "happy day" parade in honor of God. But he and the 214 policemen assigned to the activity were the only ones who showed up.

I believe we can readily see what place God holds in the lives of many people. But ~~if~~ I also believe that many people, many of whom are church members are not aware that "the chief end of man is to glorify God and to enjoy Him forever." Just how do we do this?

Which brings us to the first question that must be asked and that is, "What is God's Glory?" The word "Glory" simply means, "that which is worthy of praise or exaltation. So if Glory means that which is worthy of praise or exaltation, the only being capable of receiving such is God alone. But this may seem like a contradiction because we speak of God's glory which means that He already possesses that. Thus to understand this, we must understand a few things about God.

There is first of all the fact that only God has inherent glory. We don't give it to Him, we can't give it to Him because He already has it. If no one ever gave God praise, He would still be the glorious God He is, because He was glorious before He ever created any other being.

The second aspect of God's glory is ascribed glory. That is the glory that is spoken of in the Psalms for instance where it says to "give glory to God." We cannot give God anything that He doesn't already have. But we should acknowledge His glory, recognize it, and give Him our praise for it.

That brings us to the second question which is, "Why should we give God glory?" We read in the 100th Psalm, "It is He who hath made us and not we ourselves." We should give glory to God because He has created us. But we also need to know that not only did God create us, but He has created everything to give Him glory. We look at nature and we see many, many things which make us want to praise God. A beautiful sunrise or sunset; flowers that simply take our breath away; beautiful animals, or birds; and much, much more. Everything in life actually points to the Creator and gives us cause for praising Him and giving to Him the glory due to Him.

But within this context we learn that since everything and everyone has been created to glorify Him, whether man may know it or not, eventually, and inevitably He will be glorified by all. Unbelievers may not desire to give Him glory, but they will. A good case in point is Pharaoh in the life of the Israelites. God told Moses that from the encounter they were having with Pharaoh He, (God), would be glorified. And He was. In the 14th chapter of Exodus the 17th and 18th verses God promised what would happen, (read this). Although Pharaoh would not honor God, or glorify Him, with his life, God was glorified in Pharaoh's destruction. We can see from this that God is glorified by man willingly, or unwillingly, in life, or in death. But no man is forced to give God glory out of fear. God wants us to give Him glory because we want to; because we love Him, not because we fear what He can do to us. Glorifying God begins with salvation and because He loved us, we want to love Him. So we seek to have a personal relationship with Him and that is why we come together and worship. We do so because we love Him and want to show it. As we seek God's glory, we forget about our own. As we have seen in recent weeks there are those who must be in the limelight with their name on everyone's lips and being held up as the ultimate in Christianity and service for the Lord.

(Illustration of several students and D. I. Moody)

A student once thought that he would impress D. I. Moody with his true spirituality. He had been in an all-night prayer meeting and he came to Mr. Moody and said, "Do you know where we've been? We've been at an all-night prayer meeting. See how our faces shine?"

Mr. Moody was unimpressed and quoted Exodus 34:29; "Moses knew not that his face shone."

Here is where we need to understand that the true worshiper of God does not think ~~how~~ how much his worship is going to help him in life. He doesn't believe that worshipping God is going to increase his business; or get him overtime on his job so he can pay his bills or buy more; he doesn't believe he is going to get wealthy; he doesn't think that it will give him fame and fortune; and he doesn't have all of the other silly things that some preachers are preaching will come to you if you worship God. True worship is not concerned with what others may say or think about us, nor that it will give us anything in return. True worship is involved only in seeking Glory for God our Father and self takes the back seat.

But in order to Glorify God, as always, there is a price to ~~pay~~ be paid. In the book of Exodus again we read of a group of people who paid a very dear price for God's glory. Moses came down from the Mount where he had received the Law of God and found that the people had made an idol which they were worshipping. Moses was furious, and we read in the 25th verse, (read this through verse 28). ~~The people were called upon to~~ Those who were called upon to defend the glory of God had to kill people they loved for the sake of God's glory. To stand forth for God always costs something. Jesus said that anyone who wanted to follow Him had to leave father and mother, and sisters and brothers and husbands and wives. He didn't literally mean to forsake these relationships, and abandon these people and obligations. He simply meant that if your mother or father, or your husband or your wife, or other members of your family stand in your way of serving the Lord, you need to serve the Lord in spite of them. I imagine all of us know some people who do not serve the Lord because another member of the family is holding them back.

(Illustration of Jewish doctor accepting Christ)

During World War II, Dr. Edward H. Friedman, a Jew was on duty in an overseas hospital. An American soldier by the name of Rothermel had just been brought in from the battlefield. His right leg was torn, his arms twisted, and part of his face was gone. As Friedman prepared for surgery, the young man said, "Don't worry Doc, Jesus is with me." Those words kept running through Friedman's mind during surgery as he worked on that mangled body. Later, as the exhausted doctor lay on his bunk, he asked himself, "Is Rothermel's Jesus my Jesus?" Then he began reading the New Testament, and as a result he accepted Christ as his Savior. After the war, Friedman informed his family that he had become a Christian. He had been told earlier that if he ever made that decision, as far as they were concerned he was dead. And this is what happened to him.

It costs something to be a true follower of Jesus Christ. If we are going to glorify Him we have to be willing to pay the price. And true worship is an offshoot of that love for Him. We want to glorify Him, to love Him simply because we ~~xxx~~ can't do anything else. We worship not because we will get something in return, or it will enhance our reputation. But we worship because we love Him and are willing to take what the world has to offer. Do you love Him like that? Do you come to worship because you want to glorify Him? I invite you to know Him to the fullest today.

(Illustrations of witticisms on Worship)

The reason why people miss church when it rains is the reason why we have church.

Invited: Men, women, and children to sit in slightly used pews Sunday morning.

Some people think a 30 minute sermon is too long, so they substitute a 300 column Sunday paper.

Everybody has a reason for staying home from church - even those who are here.

If absence makes the heart grow fonder, some people ought to love their church greatly.

A certain congregation had dwindled in size so much that when the minister said "Dearly Beloved," the spinster in the front row thought he was proposing.

No matter how you define worship, it still involves people and the people who worship should ~~xxxx~~ have a good understanding of what worship really is.

Paul and Barnabas had come to Pisidian Antioch to preach and teach. In the 13th chapter of the book of Acts is a good example of what worship is, and what it isn't. Paul and Barnabas went to the synagogue to worship. When the reading of the law was finished, Paul and Barnabas were invited to speak.

The custom in the synagogue was to extend an invitation to a noted visitor to speak if he so desired. So Paul arose and began to speak. He gave them a brief history of the people of Israel. Then he told them of Jesus and how He was unrecognized by the Jews as the One fulfilling the scriptures they read and revered. He told how Jesus was put to death and was resurrected from the dead. And then Paul urged his listeners to accept Christ and not reject Him. Here is recorded ~~the first full sermon~~ for the first time a complete sermon of Paul. ~~xx~~ Up to this point there have only been recorded bits and pieces of Paul's messages. And the result of his preaching is told in the 42nd and 43rd verses, (read these).

And because of how Paul's message was received we read in the 44th verse, "And the next sabbath nearly the whole city assembled to hear the word of God."

Almost the whole city turned out to hear God's word preached. These people came to worship

But not everyone there was prepared to worship God. And Luke records in the 45th verse, "But when the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy, and began contradicting the things spoken by Paul, and were blaspheming."

There were in that synagogue, Jews who had come to accept Christ as their Messiah; then there were Gentiles who had also accepted Christ; and there were women who had gladly heard the liberating words of life. All of these people the orthodox Jews rejected as having a right to be there. So they sought to refute everything which Paul had said prior to this time.

So we read of Paul and Barnabas' response in verses 46 and 47, (read these). They were quick to point out that their original ministry was to be to the Jews alone. Jesus proclaimed to the Jews when He was preaching, "I ~~have~~ was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel," Matthew 15:24.

But since the Jewish leaders rejected Jesus, and they would not ~~have~~ recognize Him as the fulfillment of all that God had prophesied and planned, the ministry of Jesus was given to the Gentiles who readily accepted the freedom from the bondage of sin which it gave.

We can see the stunning effect it had upon them as we read the 48th and 49th verses, (read these). Because of their belief these people, Jews, and Gentiles, and women, worshiped God. They worshiped Him because they learned of His deep love for them and they wanted to love Him in return.

So once again we ask the question, "How do we worship God?" I'd like you to take your bulletin that you have this morning and let's look at them together. There are many forms of worship and the one we use is only one of them. This form of worship which we use is a combination of many of those forms and it ~~is~~ gives us ~~as~~ much or most of that which a worship service should have. Our service opens with a hymn. Most often this is a hymn of praise. It's purpose is to lift our thoughts, our lives, our very hearts toward our Creator.

Next there is the Ascription. This merely ascribes to God, just who we worship. As a part of the Church of Jesus Christ, we want to worship as Christians. Thus, the Ascription sets our worship apart from that of any other religion. Our worship is Christian in nature, in doctrine, in its totality. Next we have an exhortation. This is a scriptural urging to seek God for His help in our lives. And what is that help? It is our coming to Him to confess our sin. There are many who believe that a prayer of Confession is not necessary in a Christian congregation. The reason being that through Christ we are forgiven of our sins and we no longer need to confess in this manner. This reasoning is accurate, but we need to be reminded that although if we have accepted Christ as our Lord and Savior, we still need to come to Him in humble confession. John 1:9 tells us, "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. And beside that when we confess our sins we give Him glory. Confession actually, ~~confession~~ serves two purposes. It prepares the repentant sinner for worship, and is an act of worship. We have an Old Testament illustration which shows us this. We read this in the book Joshua the 7th chapter.

~~Achan~~ Achan disobeyed God by stealing treasure from the city of Jericho and hid it in his tent. Because of his sin, the entire nation of Israel suffered. They were defeated in the battle at Ai, which showed that God cannot bless sin. Joshua sought to find the sinner from all of the people of Israel and was directed by God to the tribe of which Achan was a member, and from there to Achan himself. When Joshua discovered who the culprit was he said as we read in the 19th verse of chapter 7, "My son, I implore you, give glory to the Lord, the God of Israel, and give praise to Him; and tell me what you have done. Do not hide it from me."

by recognizing his sin and confessing it, Joshua was saying that God would be glorified. Confessing sin is glorifying God because it shows that He alone is Holy, without sin, and it gives Him the chance to love us by granting us His forgiveness and cleansing.

Next we have the Assurance of Pardon. This is scripturally based and is ~~xx~~ never the right or privilege of man to declare that he forgives sin. Only God can do that. No man, ordained, or unordained, priest, minister or rabbi, has the authority or power to forgive sins. Only God can do that and so as humans we can only say, God will grant you forgiveness if you truly repent. Following this we have a statement of praise. This reminds us just who God is and to be mindful, we sing the Gloria Patri which ascribes to the Trinity our praise.

Following this we sing our second hymn. ~~which is~~ The purpose of this hymn is to direct our thoughts to God as we will be coming to Him in prayer. And incidentally, even if we have a voice like a frog, we should sing, lift up our voices to God in praise. Someone was inspired by God to give us these holy thoughts and they in turn should lift our hearts before Him, to praise Him and glorify His Holy Name.

Next is the morning prayer. This is not a time for the congregation to begin to think about the roast in the oven at home, or what we will be doing after the service. It is a time when ALL of us, collectively lift our hearts before God in prayer. As the pastor prays, the words God has placed upon his lips should be our thoughts as well. We should be in agreement with what he is praying. That is why in some churches you will hear many people vocally saying something like, "Yes, Lord," or "Amen," or something along those lines. Those individuals are merely agreeing with what is being prayed and asking God to act upon it. Does anyone agree with that statement?

Following the prayer we have the opportunity to give God ~~what~~ material evidence of how we want to glorify Him. This is the offering and it should be at least a tithe. That is ten-percent of our monetary blessings from God. It should be given in love and joy, because we want to be obedient to Him. If we give it grudgingly we may as well leave it in the purse or pocket, because God doesn't want that response to Him.

And then following the offering we sing the Doxology which again is a hymn of praise to ~~the Trinity~~ God for His blessings and a hymn of praise to the Trinity.

Then most of the time we have an anthem or special music which is to lift our hearts to prepare to hear from God's word and the message from that Lord.

Following the anthem or special music is the portion of the service ~~next~~ which is the most longed for, the Scripture and Sermon. For most people this is the part of the service they really came for. Right? Wrong! This portion of the service is the part that most people would gladly do without. There are many reasons for that and some of them are legitimate. But it should be one of the high points of the service. For it is from the Scripture and the Sermon that we receive instructions that give us guidelines for our everyday lives. It is from the Scriptures and the Sermon that we learn of God's plans for our lives and these give us the opportunity to make a decision to alter our lives accordingly. This is why an invitation is given and should be given. The invitation is our response to what God would have us do in light of His Word. That is why the invitation is not just for the acceptance of Christ. All of us have other adjustments we should make and following the message we should have the opportunity to do so.

We close our service with a hymn which seeks to tie all of the service together. This is followed by a time to let the Holy Spirit work in each heart and each life in response to the worship of that morning, or whatever time the service is held. And then we have the benediction which merely sends us out into the world with The Father, Son, And Holy Spirit to direct and guide us through the week.

But in order for the worship service, regardless what its format to be beneficial to any of us, we must bring to it our complete selves. We cannot come in a state of anger, or despair, or any of the other emotions which beset each of us. We must come expectantly. That is, expecting that God will lift our burdens from us; that when the worship is over we will have experienced God in our midst.

(Illustration of church without lights)

An American travelling in Europe tells of being invited to go to church in Switzerland on a Sunday evening. He tells how it was twilight and there were no lights in the church and he wondered how they would see. ~~xxxxxx~~ ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ The family he came with had a lantern, but he knew that would not light the whole church. As he stood at a window and looked out, he saw a light here and a light there, and each one was moving toward the church. As each of them took their place inside, the church was soon lit with light. Then, after the service, each worshiper took his light with him into the night. And he could see them going down the paths to their homes.

That is what the church is. It is made up of individual people, each carrying his light to the place of worship. But if we come and bring with us anger or hatred, or whatever, the church cannot be lit with the light from on high. And then the church is each of us carrying our light out into the world in which we ~~live~~ live and letting our light continue to shine, so men may see our good works and glorify our Father who is in heaven. Worship, requires all that we have, and it requires all of us together.

(Illustration of evidence as proof)

Benjamin Franklin in his experiments discovered that plaster sown in fields would make plants grow much better. But try as he might, he could not convince anyone that this was a truth to be tried. Everyone argued with him and he couldn't convince anyone. So he dropped the matter and said no more about it. But early the next spring he went into his field and sowed some grain. But near the path where people would walk by he traced some letters in the ground with his finger. Then he put plaster into the letters and then he sowed the seed. After a week or so the plants began to spring up. His neighbors who passed that way began to notice that some of the plants were a brighter green than the rest and were much healthier than the rest. When they noticed these green plants stood out by spelling out the words, "This has been plastered." Benjamin Franklin didn't have to argue with his neighbors anymore about the benefits of plaster in the field. All season long those plants grew far beyond the rest and spelled out the words, "This has been plastered," for all to see.

Jesus said, "By their fruit you shall know them." Franklin's theory is a good example of this. And what this points out to us is that something can be proved with hard and fast evidence. The same can be said for "Worship." For a few weeks we have been looking at the different aspects of "Worship," and today we conclude our look by looking for "Visible Results" which should be evident from true worship.

The very first ~~thing that~~ result that can be observed when people worship as God requires is that God is glorified. Worship is first and foremost, ascribing glory to God.

Moses had been on the Mount receiving the Law from God. When he came down from the Mount it was evident that he had been in the presence of God. God had told of this as Moses wrote in the book of Leviticus chapter 10 and the 3rd verse. He read: "By those who come near Me I will be treated as holy, and before all the people I will be honored."

This took place when Moses appeared to the people of Israel. We learn of this in the 29th & 30th verses of this Scripture, (read these). The people of Israel were brought to the realization that when they were in the presence of God it worked a change in their lives. No man could come into the presence of God and remain the same. The glory of God had rubbed off on Moses as it were and his face glowed. This is the same glow which Peter, James and John saw when they were at the Transfiguration of Jesus on the Mount. This is the same glow that will be evident in ~~the~~ eternity when each believer stands in the presence of God. This is the glory Paul says will be revealed in us. True worship glorifies God, but it also has the effect of showing in the life of the worshiper for God leaves His mark upon those who worship Him. It may not be in a glowing face like that of Moses, but it will be evident somehow in our lives.

Then when believers worship God as He should be worshiped, the believers are purified. ~~The~~ David tells us in the 24th Psalm that the only way anyone can ascend the hill of the Lord, or to come into His presence, is to have clean hands and a pure heart. Worship demands purity and when a believer comes into the presence of the Lord, it affects a change in his life and life style. No one can truly worship God and not seek to become more Christlike. The very holiness of God before whom we stand demands a more holy life from us. It doesn't mean that we are righteous in our own way or perfect before God, because of ourselves this is not possible. But it means that through Christ we have His righteousness, and He makes us perfect in God's sight. And because of this we want to live more holy lives.

Then another "Visible Result" is that the church is edified. That means it is changed. ~~If xxxxxxxxxx~~ Your worship as an individual will affect not only your life, but the life of the church as well. We may have never looked at our worship in this light. But if ~~xxxxx~~ your worship as an individual is acceptable ~~xx~~ the church will be strengthened, but if it is unacceptable it will be weakened. How we worship individually while we are here, determines the success or failure of us as a congregation.

Moses experienced the richest and most meaningful worship anyone could experience. When he came from the presence of God, his face shone. That means he was transformed in the presence of God. We should be transformed as well.

If the corporate worship of the congregation leaves people unchanged, we are not truly worshipping. What we do here and say here should spur us on to obedience, into transformation, and the whole congregation is edified, or changed by it.

One other "Visible Result" is that the lost are evangelized. That means that not only is the Gospel of Jesus Christ preached, but those who do not know Him as Lord and Savior are given the opportunity to accept Him as such.

God's plan of redemption always was at the root of worship. In the Old Testament the ~~temple~~ tabernacle worship, the temple worship all gave evidence that the people worshipping belonged to God. To outsiders it was evidence that they were ~~xxxx~~ set apart for His use and service. It gave the outsiders the chance to become a part of that family if they so chose. So we can see from this that evangelism has always been ~~xxx~~ a part of the worship of God. It gives the worshiper a chance to be redeemed, and it gives those who worship God to reach out to others with the message of salvation.

(Illustration of man/wife in Africa & dog leading man to church)

A former missionary to Africa, James King tells of an unusual true story that took place in one of the churches he served. A woman came by herself to every service. But she was accompanied by a mongrel dog. He would come into the church and sit beside her during the service. She sat on an outside seat next to the aisle. At the conclusion of the service, when the invitation had been given by the pastor to come for prayer -- the dog would come along and take his place beside her at the altar rail. But the lady's husband was a hard man and abused her. He didn't agree with her Christian life-style. ~~One~~ day he actually beat her to death. At the funeral, he forbid her pastor to conduct a Christian funeral for her. So after her death and burial only he and the dog were left. We noticed that on the first Wednesday evening the dog disappeared about 7:00 and didn't reappear for about 2 hours. Then it happened again on Sunday morning about 9:00 A.M. and the dog didn't come home until about 12:30. The same thing happened on Sunday evening.

The curiosity of the man was aroused and so he decided to follow the dog to see where he went and what he did. So when the dog took off the next Sunday he followed, but he had to hurry to keep up. The dog made straight for the little church -- he went in and took his usual seat by the aisle while the service went on. At the close of the service the man who had taken a seat in the back, saw the dog come forward and take a place at the altar where his wife had prayed. The man was so touched in his heart that he too went forward and gave his life to Christ. Now the dog goes to church with a new master.

God can use true worship to bring forth "Visible Results." Put each person who worships God needs to seek to truly ~~love Him~~ worship Him each day of life. And if each believer will truly worship Him and seek to Glorify Him, will seek purity in his life & will strive to be edified, each believer will want to share what he has with others so they may have it too. Then worship will have "Visible Results."

I invite each of you to seek to worship God with your very life and produce the "Visible Results" which God desires from each of us.

"The Missing Ingredient"

Scripture: 2 Chronicles 6:36-40

Text: 2 Chronicles 7:14

We spent some time defining worship. In that series we saw many aspects of what worship consists of. But worship is only the beginning for the individual, and collectively for the congregation. The unfortunate thing is that there are many worshipping individuals; and there are many sincere and worshipping congregations. But there is a "Missing Ingredient" both in the lives of ~~xxxxxxx~~ most individual believers and in ~~the~~ most congregations.

This ~~ix~~ example is seen in the lives of the Jewish people and in their corporate worship. King David had built Israel into the strongest power on earth. They had defeated all of their enemies. They were not only strong militarily, but economically. They held the wealth of the world in their treasuries. And King Solomon who had succeeded his father David, had carried the gathering of wealth and power to an even greater height. But he had also built the beautiful and magnificent structure known as "Solomon's Temple." Here, for the first time the Jews had a permanent place where the proper worship of God could take place. So it is that upon completion of that temple, Solomon assembled the people and sought to consecrate that edifice.

But Solomon knew the hearts of his people. He was aware of their past history. So in his prayer of dedication he names before God the things they might do and how they might act toward God. Thus it is that we read in the summation of that prayer, (read verses 36-40). Solomon knew of the "Missing Ingredient" in the lives of the people which may have lain dormant at this time, but which would rise to the surface in the future. These people were wealthy in power and in the world's goods; they lacked little in food, clothing, and every thing else of the world's goods; they had just built this huge and beautiful house of God; and they were on top of the world so to speak. And as in all such circumstances, the need for something beyond themselves was not necessary. After all, they had done all of this themselves and God was soon to be forgotten if He hadn't been so already. All of this Solomon knew and so his prayer was that if and when this came about completely; and if because of their backsliding from God they ended up being captured and taken away captive; would God hear their cry for help and save them?

And we read in the succeeding verse of the 7th chapter that God heard the ~~xxx~~ prayer of Solomon and look at His answer in the 14th verse. God says, "If My people." It is conditional. It isn't automatic. It is "IF" those who name the name of God. And what is the condition? "Shall humble themselves."

That meant they had to come to the place in their lives where they acknowledged they couldn't handle their circumstances and it was all beyond them.

~~Ex~~ IF they humbled themselves, and then would "Pray, and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways." All of God's return to their midst was predicated on the fact that they had to seek Him completely. The "Missing Ingredient" in the lives of the people of Israel was a lack of God. And Solomon using the wisdom God had endowed him with was simply asking God in his prayer of dedication ~~for~~ for Revival when the people fell away.

The "Missing Ingredient" in our society today is Revival. We can worship God all we want whether privately or corporately, but if our hearts are not attuned to God as they should be we will still have the drought of spiritual lack in our society and world.

Revival is what is needed in our nation today and in particular within the Christian Church. Our politicians cannot solve the problems of our nation apart from God. It will take an outpouring of God's Holy Spirit within our society and that can only come about through the fervent seeking of God by every person who claims to be a believer. To bring about revival in our day there are at least four main things which we as individuals and as a congregation must be about.

The first prerequisite is that we truly thirst for renewal and reviving. We need to come to God in a state of spiritual brokenness. One of God's prophets Hoseas, urged God's people to break up their fallow ground. Fallow ground is that ground which has been beaten down by the pounding down of the rain and the hard baking of the sun. It is ground that is hard and nothing will grow in it until it is properly plowed and harrowed and prepared. It is ground in our lives that has become completely hardened. We can compare it to hardened hearts that can look at the needs around us and walk by on the other side like the priest and the Levite in the parable of the Good Samaritan. It takes a softening of our hard hearts to let God in and this is what will bring about Revival.

The second prerequisite is a seeking of God with all of our heart and soul. The seeking of God, involves knowing Him on a personal basis; serving Him in our daily lives and within His church; loving Him to the extent that He takes precedence over our desires for pleasure and fun when those desires crowd Him out of our lives; and it means fellowship with Him each day, moment by moment. Unfortunatley, God is only thought of on several occasions in the majority of believers lives. Those moments are upon awaking in the morning, at mealtimes when we should pray, and at night when we go to bed. The rest of the time we mostly never reflect upon His goodness to us in all He gives us, or in what we have surrounding us from His love. How can any revival ever take place in our so called "Christian nation," if all we have and are and ever hope to be is made possible by Visa or Mastercard? We must turn this attitude around and seek God with all our heart and soul.

The third prerequisite is that of seriously engaging in prayer.

Jonathon Edwards the preacher who is credited with being instrumental for the revival in the mid 1700's called, "The Great Awakening," said:

"Then God has something very great for His church, it is His will that There should precede it the extraordinary prayers of His people."

That is the second thing which God said He required from "His people." First, they were to humble themselves. And next they were to pray. Too often prayer is only entered into when all other avenues have been exhausted. Instead, it should be the first thing anyone does to receive God's direction and help.

(Illustration of "revival of the united prayer meeting").

In New York city a businessman by the name of Jeremiah Lanphier had a deep desire to have a revival take place in that city. For a period of time he prayed alone. But then five other businessmen joined him and at the noon hour they prayed together. This was called the "Fulton Street noon prayer meeting." After a period of time there were 6,000 who met daily for prayer in Jayne's Hall. And in 1858 revival broke out in New York City, but before ~~it ended~~ it ended its influence was felt all across America. It was known as "The revival of the united prayer meeting." Its influence reached Princeton University where 40% of the students were converted and 18 % entered full-time Christian ministry.

We can never emphasize prayer enough and yet in most congregations only a small handful of the members engage in prayer on a regular basis. God says, "If My people which are called by My name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek My face, and turn from their evil ways; then I will hear from heaven," 2 Chron. 7:14.

The fourth prerequisite is repentance and confession of sin. To confess is to simply agree with what God thinks of our sin. Repentance means a sorrow for those sins and a turning from them. This is what John the Baptist called for as the messenger preceeding the Messiah Jesus Christ. His message was to repent for the kingdom of God is at hand. And Jesus came on the scene and preached confession and repentance to become a part of the kingdom of God. In our 20th century there was a revival which started in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada and it came about because two brotheres within the same congregation who had refused to speak to each other for over 20 years were convicted of their sin and embraced in the middle aisle of the church. Others followed suit and that revival swept across Canada and the northern part of the United States. Individual believers and congregations cannot grow if there is within the lives of the people and the walls of the church those who hate others; or who are unforgiving. Worship is the outpouring of our love for God. But in order for worship to reach to the heart of God, there must be a genuine seeking of God asking for cleansing and healing; asking Him to stir us up and revive us.

Is your life right with God today? Is your heart turned toward Him? Are you genuinely seeking the health and growth of this congregation? Or is there a part of your life that needs to be changed? I invite each of you to search your hearts and if God's Holy Spirit so moves you, to come forward and seek to renew yourself with God.

"Follow The Leader: Jacob"

Scripture: Genesis 35:1-8

(Illustration of "confusion")

I heard a man asking another man recently ~~xxxxxx~~ "What state are you from?"
And the man answered, "The state of confusion."

Although this fellow meant this as a joke, nevertheless he was stating a truism for our day and age.

(Illustration of Piedmont Airlines confusing announcement)

At the Washington International Airport, the following announcement blared forth: "Attention please. Will all Piedmont passengers who have not done so please do so immediately."

Now that's confusion. But it's only a sample of the confusion which surrounds us and bombards us at every step of the way. In the computer age in which we live we are constantly ~~xxxxxx~~ witnessing a changing scene which boggles our minds. We cannot keep up with the new and latest technology because it alters and changes so swiftly. World conditions become more frightening almost on a daily basis. All this causes many, especially those who are believers to question, "Where will it all end? Can we make any sense out of it: There is God in all of this?"

People are seeking some form of intercession ~~xxxxxx~~ or manifestation of God in our society today. They are looking for revival. The Bible is filled with examples of people who brought about revival for a period of time through ~~their~~ the changes they wrought in their lives by putting those lives in proper perspective with God. Could those examples help us to live in these times of confusion and see purpose and meaning for the lives we live today? I believe so. I believe these examples give us models to follow. In the next few weeks we will be looking at some of these men and the individual elements they altered in their lives and how those changes brought revival to them and their people.

Jacob had a daughter named Dinah who decided that she wanted to see some of the land of Shechem near where they lived. So she set out by herself, unaware that being a beautiful girl and alone in a strange place could be dangerous. A young man named Shechem, the son of the King of the Hivites, a man named Hamor, notices this beautiful girl and desires her. So Shechem ~~xxxxxx~~ ~~xxxxxx~~ probably promised that he could show her the town and all of the attractions there and she goes with him. But Shechem with malice aforethought has it in his mind to seduce this pretty young thing and he does so. But Shechem's seduction was more than a one time thing. He discovers that he has fallen in love with this girl and truly wants to marry her. But since she is a Jew and he is a Hivite, marriage is out of the question for the Jews were forbidden to intermarry. So Shechem goes to his father Hamor, and asks him to make the necessary arrangements if possible. But while Hamor is on the way to visit Jacob with a proposal of marriage, Dinah's brothers hear of what happened to what happened to their sister. They were angry and so when Hamor requests Dinah's hand in marriage to his son and suggests that he will pay whatever the cost they set for her, they plot to get even. Their answer is that their sister could not be married to an uncircumcized man since circumcision was ~~not~~ not only a part of their law but of their religion as well. To solve this problem they suggest that ^{if} all of the Hivite males would agree to be circumcized the marriage could take place as well as other marriages between them.

Shechem and his father Hamor readily agree to this and all the males of the Hivites were circumcized. On the third day when the males were still in the process of healing and unable to defend themselves, Simeon and Levi go to the city and kill all of the males. They took Dinah from Shechem's house and brought her back home. ~~They~~ The rest of the brothers went with Simeon and Levi and they plundered and looted all that the Hivites had and took the women and children as captives.

It is at this point that Jacob learns of the disgraceful manner in which his sons have acted and in the 30th verse of the 34th chapter he says, "You have brought trouble on me, by making me odious among the Canaanites and the Perizzites; and my men being few in number, they will gather against me and I shall be destroyed, I and my household."

It took an atrocity to push Jacob to action. Up to this point he had not seen fit to call his sons to repentance and righteousness. The fact is, that he himself had forgotten his vow to be God's man. So it was because of this grave situation that Jacob did what he should have done a long time before. His first action was as told in chapter 35:2, "Put away the foreign gods which are among you, and purify yourselves, and change your garments."

He called them back to the God of Israel. All other gods which had defiled them and kept them from worshipping the One True God were to be disposed of. We need to "Follow The Leader" at this point, God's man Jacob, and dispose of the idols that infest our lives and our land. And we do have ~~many~~ idols of many kinds prevalent in our midst. It is from this Scriptural example that we can detect three reasons God gives us to get rid of our idols.

In the first 4 verses of chapter 35 we read: (Read these verses). Here we can see that only cleansed men and women can meet God. God will not come into our midst if something or someone takes precedence over Him. In the 10 Commandments God said, "Thou shalt have no other gods before Me." He meant that nothing or no one was to take precedence in the hearts and lives of true believers. Anything or anyone who takes the place of God in the life of a person is an idol. Our nation has many idols which are worshiped today. Movie stars, rock stars, football, basketball, baseball stars, cars, food, clothing and so on. We can make idols out of our homes, our investments, our recreational things, sporting events, even our lawns can become idols if we let them. But as God caused Jacob to seek the cleansing of his family's households of idols, so He wants us to do so in our lives.

We read secondly in this portion of scripture in verse 5, "As they journeyed, there was a great terror upon the cities which were around them, and they did not pursue the sons of Jacob."

That this is actually telling us is that the nations surrounding ~~the~~ Israel, were so terrified of God that they wouldn't touch them. Their fear was based on what they had heard and seen that God had done for His people Israel. Their fear wasn't because of what the sons of Jacob had done to the the people of Shechem. And God didn't spare His people and bless them ~~in~~ because of that. It was only God's Grace that protected these people from their enemies and the second thing we learn here is that ~~and~~ only God can protect us when we are in danger.

(Illustration of boy and birthday party, father followed)

A little boy was looking forward eagerly to a birthday party one of his friends was having who lived a few blocks from his home. But the day of the party a blizzard had made the sidewalks and roads almost impassable. The boy's dad was reluctant to let his son go to the party. "But Dad," the little boy pleaded, "all the other kids will be there." The father thought about it for a minute and then said, "If you can go." The little boy got his coat and gloves and cap, and bundled up headed out into the storm. The driving snow made it almost impossible to see, but he plunged on and it took him about a half hour to cover the short distance to the party. As he rang the bell he turned to look over into the storm. It was then he saw the shadow of a retreating figure. It was his father. He had followed his son's every step through the storm.

God cares for His children exactly this way. We may go our own way and may often forget Him completely. But God is there protecting us from harm and wanting us to love Him and acknowledge Him as our Saviour.

If we read a little further on in this 35th chapter of Genesis, we read in the 9th ~~verse~~ and 10th verses, "Then God appeared to Jacob again when he came from Paddan-aram, and he blessed him. And God said to him, "Your name is Jacob; you shall no longer be called Jacob, but Israel shall be your name."

The name change you may recall was told to Jacob when he wrestled with the angel who actually was God, as recorded in the 32nd chapter. The name means simply, "He who has wrestled with God and prevailed." Jacob was to become the first of a large family fulfilling the covenant given first to Abraham. From this we can see that only God can change our personalities and bless us.

(Illustration of young woman and difference belief in Christ meant)

A young woman was asked to explain what Christianity meant in her life since she was converted. He answered, "The old gods that I believed in demanded so much of me. The Christian God gives so much."

There is the difference that God makes in a life and it is a difference every one of us should know. But we can't experience that if we remain removed from God and follow the idols of this world. God wants us to have a personal relationship with Him. And we can have that only through Jesus Christ. Do you seek peace and harmony in this world of confusion? The solution is to seek God. To reach out to Him and let Him give to you His peace through Christ. I invite you to respond to His call today. You may settle your confusion by coming forward if you wish in the closing moments of our service. Or you may quietly do so as you are seated where you are. But God can end the confusion any of you may have, if you will simply turn your life over to Him.

"Follow The Leader: Samuel"

Scripture: 1 Samuel 7:1-113

Things had come to a pretty pass in Israel. Eli was the priest and his two sons Hophni and Phineas were evil men. They were stealing the offerings from the people without giving a portion of the meat to the Lord in sacrifice. They were consorting with the women as they came to worship and were certainly not ministering before the Lord as they should. Eli was either unable to discipline his sons, or refused to do so. They had become a stench in the nostrils of God.

It was at this time that a woman named Hannah came to the place of worship at Shiloh to pray. Up to this point she was unable to have children and she deeply desired to. She prayed to God to grant her a son and if He would, she promised to dedicate his life to the Lord. God granted her desire and when Samuel was three years old he was brought to the sanctuary at Shiloh and placed in Eli's care.

In the 3rd chapter of 1st Samuel verses 19 through 21 we read:

"Thus Samuel grew and the Lord was with him and let none of his words fail. And all Israel from Dan even to Beersheba knew that Samuel was confirmed as a prophet of the Lord.

And the Lord appeared again at Shiloh, because the Lord revealed Himself to Samuel at Shiloh by the word of the Lord."

Once again the presence of God was evident at the sanctuary of Shiloh, because of the godly man Samuel being chosen as His prophet.

But this didn't stop some drastic events from taking place in the lives of the people of Israel. Hophni and Phineas had sinned in the sight of the Lord and God doesn't let sin go unpunished. So it was that the Israelites were involved in a battle with the Philistines and were soundly defeated. ~~xxxxxxx thaxxtxixyxxthaxxPhilistinesxxcapturedxxthaxxxrkxxofxxthaxxxxxxxxxthaxxtxixxx txxxxxxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxx thaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxxthaxxtxixxx~~

In that battle, the sons of Eli, Hophni and Phineas were slain. When Eli was told the news of their deaths, he fell over from his stool on which he was seated and died. But more importantly, the Ark of the Covenant was captured by the Philistines. But having the Ark caused them to have all sorts of misfortune and so they returned it to the Israelites. It is at this point that our Scripture for this morning begins. We read: (read verse 1 and 2). The Ark was in their midst for 20 years and Samuel speaks to Israel, (read verses 3 and 4). Much like the people in Jacob's time, these Israelites had become involved in the worship of idols like their neighbors around them. Samuel issues the call to destroy those idols and return to the Lord. But at this point we see that Samuel issues the first of three things which these people had to do. In the 3rd verse he says, "Direct your hearts to the Lord and serve Him alone."

Samuel knew that there was no place in anyone's life for the worship of the One True God and the worship of pagan idols. And just like Jacob before him he calls for the removal of those idols. But Samuel spelled it out specifically by saying, "Serve Him alone." That's the first thing that must become a reality in the heart ~~of~~ and life of any believer if he seeks the revival which only God can bring about. We must serve God alone. Jesus taught that no man can serve two masters. For ~~either~~ he will love the one and hate the other. It is impossible to serve God and man. There must be only one master. When we let God be our master, He can use us and live in our lives as He should. But when we let the things of this world and this life, overcome the things of God and outweigh them, then we are turned in the wrong direction.

Next, we read that Samuel calls the people to Mizpah. We must remember that during this time of spiritual revival being led by Samuel, the people truly sought God. At the end of the 2nd verse we read, "And all the house of Israel lamented after the Lord."

The people were aware that at Mizpah they were in the territory of the Philistines but they had followed Samuel's advice and ~~went~~^{came} to Mizpah. So we read (read verse 7). Naturally, the people were afraid. But their fears were not as severe as they probably would have been prior to Samuel's leadership among them. So it is they cried to Samuel, (read verse 8). And Samuel acts on their request, (verse 9), and "The Lord answered him." God answers prayer. (Illustration of Russell Conwell).

In ~~xxx~~ the battle of Vennesaw Mountain, one of the fiercest of the Civil War a 20 year-old Union Army Captain lay wounded. The stretcher bearers looked at him with a gaping wound in his chest and believed that he would soon die. So they went in search of others who could be treated and have a chance to survive. That young man laid on that field all night. He had been a wild young man, and had fancied himself as an atheist. But his family back in Massachusetts was praying faithfully for him. While he lay in that field his thoughts turned to God. He began to pray that if God would spare him he would dedicate his life to Him. The next day the stretcher bearers came back and found that he was still alive, and they took him to the hospital. He called for the chaplain and told him he wanted to become a Christian. God touched his life and he became a new man in Christ. Out of the ministry of that young man came what we know as Temple University in Philadelphia and thousands came to Christ through his ministry. His name was Russell Conwell and he ~~xxxxxxx~~ is most famous for the lecture "Acres of Diamonds" which he gave to thousands of people over the years.

Yes, God does answer prayer, but we must be willing to confess to Him and truly seek Him in prayer. This is what Samuel and the Israelites did and God heard their cry and saved them.

But it takes more than just asking for help in prayer. We read, (read verse 10). Samuel not only prayed, but he took ~~action~~ bold action in the face of their circumstances. And the end result of this was as we read in the 13th verse, (read this). Samuel knew that it took not only, faith, but works as well to accomplish the task God gave them. But it was the inner ingredient from God which brought it about.

(Illustration of pro football player as told by Dr. Gordon MacDonald)

Dr. Gordon MacDonald tells of having lunch with a pro-football player who was an all-pro ~~pro~~ pass defender. His team was going to meet the Dallas Cowboys the following Sunday, and he asked him how he would prepare himself for that game.

The player told how each morning they would work on their strategy at the stadium. Then he said, he would take the tape films home and play them until he knew the Cowboy receivers almost as well as their families did. He said he would check to see how they came out of the huddles, what pattern they took and whether he could detect any difference in how they lined up for certain plays.

"What about the evenings?" Dr. MacDonald asked.

"Oh, I'll keep watching the films until midnight every night."

"Ten hours a day? All week? Nothing else?" Dr. MacDonald was incredulous.

"Hey, I want to beat those men. When I hit them I want them to ~~xxxx~~ wish the game was over. I want to dominate them."

Samuel knew that if God didn't dominate the people of Israel, they would always be pushovers not only for the Philistines, but any other enemy who may come along. So he brought them to God and pointed out what they had to do.~~xx~~

He showed them that they had to trust God alone.

He showed them that they had to confess and pray for God to intercede in their lives.

And he showed them that they had to take God at His word and take action and God would do the rest.

These are still our lessons for this day. But we have to turn everything over to the Lord in order for results to take place. We can cry out to God for revival in our lives or in our nation. But if we are unwilling to entrust it all to Him, nothing will happen. Are you truly willing to seek His face for your life today? ~~xxxxxx~~ Are you looking for revival in your life and don't know where to begin? Why not start at the beginning and turn your life over to the Lord? Invite Him into your heart today. The invitation is from Him, "Come unto Me all you that are heavy laden and I will give you rest." You can do that this morning.

Morality without God
Heaven without Hell.

I'm certain that all of us can vouch for the accuracy of that prediction. We are living in an age which has defied all restraints placed upon it. I believe we have even ~~xx~~ surpassed the old axiom of "eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we die." The new axiom seems to be one of "whatever you feel like doing, do it. As long as it feels good, do it." But if we compare these pagan ideals with the desire of God for man, we can readily see the futility of such philosophies. In the Old Testament we can ^{SEE} instance after instance of how such thinking and living has ultimately led to the utter ruin and destruction of whole nations and people. Even the nation of Israel was eventually destroyed by such pagan philosophies.

During the reign of ~~the xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx king xxxxxxxx~~ Abijah, the second king of Israel ^{JUDAH} a son was born to him and was named Asa. Abijah was a wicked, ungodly king.

When he died, his son Asa succeeded him on the throne. Asa reigned for 41 years. His reign overlapped the reign of seven kings in the Northern Kingdom. When Asa came to the throne he made several moves which took his people from paganism to the worship of Almighty God. In the 3rd verse of our Scripture we read, "He removed the foreign altars and high places, tore down the sacred pillars, cut down the asherim, and commanded Judah to seek the Lord God of their fathers and to observe the law and the commandment."

Idol worship was rampant in the land of Judah. Asa even went so far as to remove his mother from being queen because she worshiped an idol. Much like Jacob, Moses, Samuel and others before him he sought to have his people do away with false worship.

But Asa had more plans to get his nation back to God. You must have a plan to do anything. Some people work at dieting. In order to do so you must have a plan. Recently I ran across the perfect diet. To listen, you may want a copy - (Illustration of stress diet)

Asa had his plan and it was this. He built up the national defenses. He fortified the cities, built walls and towers around them, and armed those cities with 580,000 men from the two tribes of Judah and Benjamin. Asa wanted peace, but he knew some of his neighbors weren't peace loving people.

So it is that we read in verse 9, (read this). Zerah the Ethiopian came to do battle with Judah with a far superior force than Judah had. Asa meets Zerah and his forces and verse 10 relates, (read this).

But before Asa and his men ever engage in battle, the 11th verse tells us what kind of man King Asa was, (read 11th verse).

The actual results of the battle are recorded in the 12th through the 15th verses, (read these).

Asa and his army defeated more superior forces than theirs and the reason ~~is~~

is obvious. It can be summed up in one phrase, "Asa sought the Lord." Paul asks the question in writing to the Romans in his letter, "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

Nothing, or no one can stand against God. God ~~showed~~ showed Asa that He was sufficient for all their needs and when they relied on Him, He brought revival to their ranks.

There are those who tell us that we cannot look back to the Old Testament because that is past history and we can gain nothing from it. But just for a moment let's make a comparison. In the time of Asa the people of Judah had a strong and powerful neighbor who was constantly flexing ~~his~~ muscles and threatening invasion. To meet that challenge, Judah had to arm itself for defense. Compare that to our present times and you can readily see that the world situation in which we find ourselves is very similar. But notice how that issue was resolved. In the 12th verse we read, "So the Lord routed the Ethiopians before Asa and before Judah, and the Ethiopians fled."

God caused the enemy to flee. In Proverbs 28:1, Solomon was inspired by God to write, "The wicked fleeth when no one pursueth, but the righteous are bold as a lion."

Today, in our world we are confronted with several powerful nations flexing their weapons and their threats of war. We have taken the first step of arming against them. But the second step is one which is cast aside because of the pagans and heathens we have in many places of high position. That step is to seek the Lord and ask Him to grant us peace in our time. It worked for Asa and it will work again if our nation will seek God. We can expect God to grant peace to those who seek peace. Asa believed this as he led his people in that direction. In the 7th verse he relates that truth to his people and we read, At the end of the verse, "We have sought Him, and He has given us rest on every side." So they built and prospered."

God wanted His people to have the assurance of His presence so He gave a message to a prophet named Azariah. We read in the 15th chapter verses 1 and 2, Now the Spirit of God came on Azariah the son of Oded, and he went out to meet Asa and said to him, "Listen to me Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin: the Lord is with you when you are with Him. And if you seek Him, He will let you find Him; but if you forsake Him, He will forsake you."

The message is plain and simple. Seek ~~the Lord~~ ye the Lord while He may be found. Call ye upon Him while He is near." God is present and will remain present to those who seek Him. This is the 2nd thing that came about from Asa's reign. The people were back on a right relationship with God.

Helmut Thielicke the German pastor and noted writer on Christian issues tells of a time during World War II when he was completely disillusioned and discouraged. He said it seemed as though all his work in Stuttgart had gone to pieces; flown to the four winds; the churches all lay in rubble and ashes. At this point he said he was looking down into the concrete pit of a cellar which had been shattered by a bomb and in that cellar were fifty young persons who were all killed. A woman came up to him and asked him if he were Pastor Thielicke. When he said he was, she remarked,

"My husband died down there," pointing into the cellar. "There he was, I was told, was right under the hole. The cleanup squad was unable to find a trace of him; all that was left was his cap. We were there the last time you preached in the cathedral church. And here before this pit where he died, I want to thank you for preparing him for eternity."

Out of the ashes God brings the awareness of Himself. He wants a personal relationship with us, but He can't force it on us. Each day of our lives should be a time of preparation, not for this life, but for eternity. But how many live their days caught up in the things of this life and this world completely oblivious to the fact that one day this life will end? Today is the day of salvation. Now is the time to come to that relationship with God that is only possible through Jesus Christ. Do you know God's presence in your life today?

Isa and his people learned a third lesson in all of this. In the 15th verse of chapter 19 we read, "And all Judah rejoiced concerning the oath, for they had sworn with their whole heart and had sought Him earnestly, and He let them find Him. So the Lord gave them rest on every side."

The people had entered into a covenant with God to seek God in all they did. And God blessed that agreement and the end result of it was, "The Lord gave them rest on every side." That meant they had peace and prosperity. But their peace and prosperity didn't come about all by itself.

(Illustration of nursing home; woman dying and held by nurse)

A minister visited a nursing home designed specifically for terminally ill patients. On that Tuesday the chaplain there told him that over that week-end 8 of their 30 patients had died. The minister inquired how this affected the staff and the chaplain told him the following story. On Saturday of that week-end, one of the patients who had been there a couple of months received a visit from her bearded son. The staff reported later that it must have been a good visit because they could hear laughter and happy conversation. At noon, the boy said, "I'm going to have lunch with some friends, I'll be back later, Mom." And he left. The patient called for a nurse. When the nurse came into the room the woman said, "I think this may be it. I may be dying." The nurse checked her vital signs and said honestly, "It's possible that you are." The patient then said, "Will you hold me? I think if you hold me I can do this well." The nurse got into bed with the patient and cradled that emaciated little body in her arms -- and held her until she passed into eternity. The minister asked the chaplain, "What about the nurse, how did this affect her?" He replied that she had taken four days off to go to the mountains to think about this and see if she wanted to continue working with people like this. The minister asked the chaplain, "Do you think she will be back?" The chaplain replied, "She'll be back. In a place like this you learn that caring hurts -- but when you really care you offer something special -- and become special yourself."

To become what God wants you to become costs. Sometimes it hurts because you have to give of yourself completely. And it's the price that must be paid. For the people of Judah under Isa, it cost them time, effort, and the giving of themselves to the task that God set before them. It's no different for you and me. If we truly want to live for the Lord, it has a price tag. That price tag is to turn your life over to the Lord completely. ~~Isa~~ knew that he couldn't put forth a halfway measure and overcome the worldliness and ungodliness which had come into their society. It took an all out commitment, and so it is with us. Are you willing today to step forth and turn everything over to the Lord? Will you say today, "Lord, all that I am and all that I have is yours?" Jesus extends that invitation to each of us. What will your answer be?

Following the sermon we sing an invitational hymn, followed by a period giving each worshipper the opportunity for reflection. As you reflect on your life's situations you have the chance to respond to God's leading for your life by coming forward to the altar. The invitation gives the opportunity to accept Christ as Savior, to pray, to meditate or to seek counseling. The Pastor will assist you if you desire. Please avail yourself of this opportunity.

Scripture: 2 Chronicles 20:1-13

David wrote in the 96th Psalm, "In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee; for Thou wilt answer me." Psalm 96:7

~~The definitive words in this verse are the words, "Day of my trouble."~~

The definitive words in this verse are the words, "Day of my trouble." It is quite often that we read of examples of prayer when the person or group is experiencing trouble. When all is well, ~~many~~ many times there is little or no thought given to seek God's help.

But we also read and hear of cases where a person has ~~acted~~ acted properly only to discover that all is not quite well.

Such was the case of a poor widow in England. She had paid a large bill, but she received notice that the bill was unpaid. She knew that if she could not furnish proof of payment she would have to pay the bill a second time. Her funds had been depleted, and the only person ~~she~~ could turn to was God.

So she prayed specifically that God would show her where to find the proof of payment. But God didn't answer that prayer and several days later a bill collector came to the house. He threatened to sue her in court if the bill was not paid within several days. While he was talking to the widow, a butterfly flew in through the open window. The widow's young son immediately began chasing it to add it to his butterfly collection for his school project. But the butterfly flew behind the couch out of sight. The boy tried to move the sofa but couldn't and he asked the man to help him. When they pushed the sofa aside, a piece of paper fell to the floor. And you are right. It was the receipt the widow had looked for, and prayed about.

King Jehoshaphat of Judah had sought to continue the Godly reign his father Asa had started. He had ruled as co-regent with his father until his father died. Then Jehoshaphat ruled Judah for 25 years. That reign had its ups and downs, but basically he was a good king. He made the mistake of letting his son Jehoram marry Athaliah the daughter of Ahab and Jezebel. This opened Judah to the worship of Baal.

On a visit to King Ahab, Jehoshaphat was asked to join with Israel in a battle against Ramoth-Gilead. He agreed to do so. But he shouldn't. Nevertheless, God was with Jehoshaphat but Ahab was mortally wounded in that battle.

King Jehoshaphat returned to his home in Jerusalem and to the peace that reigned in the southern nation of Judah. But there were some nations surrounding Judah which weren't intent on peace. In fact, they got together and in the 1st verse of our scripture this morning we read, "Now it came about after this that the sons of Reuben and the sons of Gad, together with some of the Ammonites, came to make war against Jehoshaphat."

Those who guarded Judah and whose job it was to report infiltrators reported to Jehoshaphat, "A great multitude is coming against you from beyond the sea, out of Aram and behold, they are in Hazazon-tamar (that is Unedi)." vs 2.

What was Jehoshaphat's reaction to this? He had the same reaction that you and I would have if we were told a large group of people were coming to attack us. The 3rd verse begins by saying, ~~And~~ "And Jehoshaphat was afraid." That is probably a brave understatement. He was probably terrified.

But in his fear how did he react? The verse continues by adding, "And turned his attention to seek the Lord."

There is how Jehoshaphat solved his problem. He "turned his attention to the Lord." Here do you go to solve your problems? A lot of people try to solve their problems with pills, or booze, or by smoking more. Some even go on cruises and tours hoping the change of scenery will erase the memories of the problem.

But there is only one answer to all of the problems of this life and of this world. That answer is Jesus Christ. If Christ is at the center of your life you can face any problem this life can bring forth. God said through the prophet Jeremiah, "And ye shall seek Me, and find Me, when ye shall search for Me with all your heart."

God is awaiting anyone to seek Him to provide the solutions to life's problems. God's medicine for mankind is conversation with Him in prayer. This is exactly what Jehoshaphat did. He gathered all of Judah to pray when his nation was threatened to be overrun by its enemies.

Jehoshaphat first prayed as we read in the 4th verse, "O Lord, the God of our fathers, art Thou not God in the heavens? and art Thou not ruler over all the kingdom of the nations?"

In other words, "Isn't God sovereign that He reigns and rules over all, no matter who they are?" There wasn't a doubt in Jehoshaphat's mind at this point.

(Illustration of little girl's prayer and grandfather overhearing her)

An elderly grandfather was staying at his daughter's home for a period of time. One night he passed the bedroom door of his granddaughter's room and overheard her repeating the alphabet in an odd way. He went ~~xxxxxxx~~ in and asked, "What are you up to?" She explained, "I'm saying my prayers, but I can't think of exactly the right words tonight, so I'm just saying all the letters. God will put them together for me, because He knows what I'm thinking."

That girl had the right idea. God does know our needs, and knows everything that is good for us. Now that type of thinking may be all right for a small child, but it isn't all right for ~~xxx~~ grownups. God wants us to convey to Him that which is on our hearts. He wants to hear us request His help for our lives. And He will hear, and will answer according to His will.

Jehoshaphat added in his prayer, in the 7th verse, "Didst Thou not, O our God, drive out the inhabitants of this land before Thy people Israel, and give it to the descendants of Abraham Thy friend forever? And they lived in it, and have built Thee a sanctuary there for Thy name, saying, 'Should evil come upon us, the sword, or judgement, or pestilence, or famine, we will stand before this house and before Thee (for Thy name is in this house) and cry to Thee in our distress, and Thou wilt hear and deliver us,' verses 7-9.

There is the confidence of faith that what is asked will be received. Notice how the King phrases all of this. (read verse 9 again). No matter what may befall them, God will not only hear, but will deliver them.

(Illustration of Will calling for help and thinking it didn't come)

You may have heard the story of the man whose house was caught in the midst of a flood. As the flood waters rose to the first floor and came under the front door, some friends came by in a rowboat and called to him to climb in. "No thanks, I'm trusting in the Lord," Will answered.

The waters continued to rise and soon Bill had to go up to the second floor. But still he sat and waited. Soon, it was too deep on the second floor so Bill ~~swam~~ crawled out on the roof. A helicopter came by, let down a rope ladder and called for him to climb aboard. But Bill said, "No thanks. I'm trusting in the Lord, I'm staying here."

All the waters kept rising and Bill drowned. Arriving in heaven, Bill said to the Lord, "Lord, I just don't understand it. I trusted in You and I still ended up drowning." And the Lord replied, "I don't understand it either. First, I sent you a boat, and then I sent you a helicopter, and you didn't take either one."

Therein lies the problem. Many times God sends us our answer but we are looking for something much greater or bigger. This wasn't the case with ~~xxx~~ Jehoshaphat. He knew that ~~if~~ neither "rain, nor snow, nor sleet, would keep God from His appointed rounds" in the affairs of men. Jehoshaphat earnestly prayed for the people of Judah.

But once prayer has been rendered, then it takes action. So we read in the 20th verse, (read this.) Jehoshaphat tells the people now that they have prayed, they are to put their trust in God. That God said He would do, He will now accomplish. So they put feet to their prayers and we read, (read verses 21-22). The enemy was routed, but it was more than that. Look what took place. (read verses 23-24). The enemies had destroyed each other. God delivered the people of Judah.

(Illustration of Chinese girl & how God delivered her)

She was only 19 at the time when she was arrested and thrown into the dungeon cell. There was no light. All that she knew was that it was underground. The floor was all wet and the smell told her that the floor was covered with human excrement. Rats and vermin were everywhere. There was no bed, so if she was to get any rest, it would be sitting in her own waste and that of many others before her. As she sat there on the floor, she felt something warm run down her arm. She grabbed it and for the first time realized she was still bleeding from the beating she had received. Squatting on the floor so as little of her came in contact with the waste around her, she began to thank God that she was worthy to suffer for Him. All she had to do was to renounce Jesus Christ and she would be set free. But instead, she asked Him to give her wisdom and strength to witness for Him wherever she might be placed.

As the days passed she prayed and sang hymns and then the Lord spoke to her and said, "This is your ministry." "But," she argued, "I'm all alone. To whom can I preach?" As she continued to pray, an idea came to her.

She stood up and called for the guard. She asked him, "Can I do some hard labor for you?" The guard looked at her with contempt, because no one had ever asked to work. "Look" she exclaimed, "This place is so dirty, there is human waste everywhere. Let me go into the cells and clean up this filthy place. All you have to do is give me a brush and some water."

The guard brought her a bucket, brush and water. And soon she was on her knees cleaning up, and preaching to the other prisoners. He was looking into the faces of people who were no longer recognizable as human beings. Through continuous torture they had lost all hope of ever seeing another human being who didn't come to beat them. But the preaching of this young girl, brought them all to salvation and soon all of the prisoners were converted. When the Communist officials found out what happened, they were furious. They had lost all control over the prisoners. They would beat them, yell at them, and they would only say, "Forgive you in the name of Jesus." So now it was the turn of the young Chinese girl. They took her out of her cell, beat her, and told her to write a confession.

They gave her a pile of paper and a pencil and told her to start confessing her sins against the state. "Lord," she prayed, "I've done nothing wrong. What should I write?" Slowly the words came, and then she wrote faster and faster. She finally finished and handed the confession with aching fingers to the guard to be delivered to the warden.

Soon the warden called her to his office. He was trembling with rage. How dare she write such anti-revolutionary things. He then read her confession to a large group of people. It was God's plan of salvation for all mankind. As he read it, he began to read more slowly and with great meaning. Some were greatly moved by the written plan of salvation.

What happened next to the Chinese girl? There is no post script to this true story. But if I were to think of how God would end it, I would believe that in some way, people received that message and it helped to bring not only other people to the Lord, but to keep the church alive and growing in China. The girl I would believe remained completely committed to the Lord and like Job would probably exclaim, "Though He slay me, yet will I trust in Him." If we are to follow the examples of the leaders God has given us through His Word, one lesson to be learned is to earnestly seek His face. We still will have to face whatever problems or ordeals that may confront us. But with God leading, sustaining, guiding and directing, we will overcome. Today let's ask ourselves if we are willing to commit our all to God in prayer and trust. ~~xxxxx~~ To pray that He will give us whatever is needed to overcome our problems. And trust that through Christ we can do all things. - Will you do that and be content to let the Lord lead?

"Follow The Leader: Hezekiah"

Scripture: 2 Chronicles 30:1-12

IT WAS THE END OF MAY IN

THE MONTH WAS

~~in~~ 1939, 440,000 Allied soldiers had their backs to the English Channel. Hitler's forces moving against them had driven them to this no win situation. If they tried to cross the Channel by ship, Hitler's submarines or planes would destroy them. Every possible means of escape had been considered but none seemed possible.

About 2640 years earlier a king by the name of Hezekiah found his city surrounded by 185,000 hostile Assyrian forces. The king and his army were outnumbered. The situation seemed hopeless.

Yet in both of these instances, the events were radically changed because those who were trapped set off a weapon more potent than a nuclear bomb; more awesome than any military might man has ever had.

In England, King George III called for a day of prayer in the British Empire. Millions gathered to pray, God answered immediately. Suddenly and without warning, a violent storm broke out on the ~~xxxxxx~~ European side of the Channel where the Germans had the Allied forces trapped. The German tanks bogged down in the mud and their planes could not take off. On the English side of the Channel the weather was perfect. Realizing that God had performed a miracle, the English sent out thousands of small boats across the Channel to rescue those who were trapped. A dense fog blanketed the waters on the French and German side and within hours, the 430,000 trapped soldiers had been rescued. King Sennacherib's Assyrian army surrounded Jerusalem and mocked King Hezekiah and the God he served. But King Hezekiah tapped a greater power by turning to God. That very night, God answered and destroyed 185,000 Assyrian soldiers.

A few weeks ago we talked about the saving prayer of Jehoshaphat, and here we are talking about the saving prayer of King Hezekiah. In the case of Hezekiah the event we just spoke of took place after the portion of Scripture we are sharing today. That future event was pre-determined by Hezekiah's stance before God.

Hezekiah was another Godly king of Judah. Like ~~xxxx~~ his father he followed the reign of a wicked father and sought to undo what his father had done. Hezekiah ascended the throne when he was 25, and he reigned for 29 years. One of the first things that Hezekiah did was to reopen the temple. He repaired the doors which his father Ahaz had closed. He reassembled the priests and the Levites and had them literally clean out the temple. Anything which was not supposed to be ~~xxx~~ in there was thrown out. The place was to be prepared for worship. When everything was spotless and prepared to worship God, Hezekiah had arranged for the animals for offerings and the priests offered them on the altar. The offering was made to cleanse the temple and altar, and also to seek the forgiveness of the sins of the people. Revival had come to Judah. And revival is only possible when the hearts and the lives of the people are prepared before God.

But Hezekiah's desire to get the people back to God did not end at this point. Hezekiah knew that the Passover had been forgotten, and it had not been held in the first month, but he also knew that the Law specified that if it was ever impossible to hold the Passover in the first month, then the Passover could be held in the second month. This is what Hezekiah determined to do.

So Hezekiah sends out the invitation to come to the temple in Jerusalem for the celebration of the Passover. ^{read verses 1-4} His invitation is not only to the people in the Southern Kingdom, but is extended also to the Northern Kingdom. The result of that invitation is told in the 10th verse, (read this). But, fortunately, not all of the people felt that way and we are told in the 11th verse, (read this), that relates that a remnant of the Northern Kingdom were equally hungering for the things of God. When circumstances are dark and gloomy it often seems that there is no one living for God. The prophet Elijah felt this way and God revealed to him that there were 7,000 in Israel serving God. But Hezekiah was not deterred in his determination to bring the people back to God. Among other things in this block of Scripture we can see four things which Hezekiah teaches us.

In the 5th verse we read, (read this verse). Hezekiah is saying that the people must turn to God with an unqualified trust and if they do, God will once again turn to them. The hymn writer was inspired to pen the familiar lines, "Trust and Obey." A little boy came home from Sunday School and told of singing a new song. His mother asked what it was and he answered, "Trust and Obey."

That statement has the ring of truth about it. Because if you trust God for everything, everything will be O.K. God demonstrates to us many times in the common ordinary things of life that we need to trust Him completely.

(Illustration of Robins nest spared and bottom had Sunday School card)

In Canada a certain street was to be widened and it meant that certain trees had to be cut down. When the foreman of the tree cutting crew arrived on the scene he noticed that one of the trees had a nest in it and a mother Robin was sitting on the nest. So he ordered ~~them~~ the men to leave it until later. Returning much later they discovered that the nest was now occupied by baby robins. So again, the foreman told the men to come back later. At a much later date, they returned to find the nest empty. The man who had climbed the tree to check the nest, found in the bottom of the nest a little card which had been ~~xxxx~~ entwined with mud and sticks to make the nest. When he removed the card he noted that it was a Sunday School card given to children who attend. On it were the ~~xxxxxx~~ words, "We trust in the Lord our God."

And certainly if robins who don't actually know of that heavenly protector, are kept from harm by Him, how much more will he take care of those whom He wants to love and protect?

Hezekiah was calling the people ~~xx~~ not only to trust, but to simple obedience

In the 7th verse he says, "And do not be like your fathers and your brothers, who were unfaithful to the Lord God of their fathers, so that He made them a horror as you see."

Hezekiah was saying that if they didn't turn to God in whole-hearted obedience God would make them despicable as He did their fathers. The people of Israel had become a laughing stock of the nations around them. Those pagans and heathens didn't know all about God and how He had entered into a covenant with these people. All that they knew was that horrible things had happened to these people. So the howl and cry was, "What kind of God do you have?"

ee, what good does it to trust in him?" Hezekiah says, that complete obedience to him would stop all of that nonsense.

(Illustration of Sir Leonard Wood and King's invitation)

An Englishman named Sir Leonard Wood visited France and was also privileged to have a visit with the King. The ~~king~~ King was so pleased with him, that he invited him for dinner the next day.

Sir Leonard went to the palace and the King came down one of the halls and said, "My Sir Leonard, what brings you here?" I did not expect to see you." Sir Leonard replied, "But your majesty, you invited me to have dinner with you tonight." The King answered, "Yes I did, but you didn't answer my invitation." Sir Leonard then answered, "But your majesty, a King's invitation is never to be answered, but to be obeyed."

You and I are invited to serve the King of Kings and all that King asks is our obedience to His invitation.

But that invitation is to serve in a different ~~xxxxxx~~ attitude. We serve in ~~xxx~~ many different areas in our lives. We serve at our jobs, we serve in schools, we serve doing volunteer work and so on. But what is our attitude in those areas of service. Isn't it quite often that we view them as necessary evils to be endured. But this isn't what God wants from us and Hezekiah was calling his people to a different attitude. In the 8th verse we read, (read this verse). The example he gives ~~xx~~ is of their forefathers entering the service of the Lord with a "have to" attitude. Hezekiah says don't be like them, but instead, "Yield to the Lord," and "serve the Lord your God." How could they do this. Only with a sense of joy that God Almighty ~~xxx~~ who rules the universe stoops to care for little insignificant man is the attitude God desires from His children.

(Illustration of Christian woman, all alone & her self-pity)

A Christian young woman tells of an event in her life which taught her a dear lesson. It was a cold rainy night and at quitting time she locked the store to go home. It was one of those pouring, drenching rains, with a high wind making it impossible to use an umbrella. She walked to the street car stop and had to wait three quarters of an hour for the car. When it arrived she was chilled to the bone. When she had to transfer to another car she had to wait on it as well and both of the cars were also cold. When she arrived home there was no hot supper waiting for her, no dry clothes prepared for her to put on, nor was the house warm because the fire had gone out. She recalled that the Lord had been good to her, but this was just one of those times when there was no consolation. As she pondered these events in her life she determined that she would feed her kitten, not bother with supper and go to bed and cry it out. But she said as she started to get out of her wet clothes the Lord brought these words to her mind:

There is never a day so dreary,
There is never a night so long,
But the soul that is trusting Jesus
Will somewhere, somehow, find a song.

Can you find a song in the midst of your hopelessness and despair of life when it occurs? Hezekiah was reminding his people that God provided them with deliverance before and would do so again if they turned back to the Lord. And Hezekiah and those people saw that new revival sweep across their land because they turned back to the Lord.

Hezekiah reminded his people that there was yet another thing they needed to do. He told them as we read in the 9th verse, (read this). He was calling the people back to prayer. We knew that in their own strength they could do nothing. But ~~with~~ if they turned to God completely, they would overcome their problems and their enemy. The people of Judah were being given yet another chance to get their lives right with God. The words, "God will not turn His face away from you if you return to Him," are words that the world needs to hear today. Man has turned to everything and everyone but God to solve the problems we face in our generation. Time keeps ticking away and so many refuse to make the ~~xxx~~ only move that has eternal consequences.

(Illustration of Rev. E. Schuyler English) and young man not accepting Christ)
Rev. E. Schuyler English tells of being in a hotel lobby and being approached by a young man who introduced himself. He explained, "the reason I have introduced myself to you is because my brother frequently mentioned your name. He was a minister and he had some of your books in his library. Rev. English said he assured this young man shared the faith of his brother and told him how happy he always was to meet a fellow-believer. Just then the young man's wife joined them and he introduced her. It was then the young man said, "My brother had all of our family's religion. He used to keep after me to 'turn to Christ' as he put it. He knows. Maybe some day I will." Rev. Schuyler told him, "It's getting pretty late. Today is the day of salvation." "You sound just like my brother," he replied. Taking his wife's arm he led her away, saying with a smile, "I'll be seeing you." Rev. Schuyler said that nine days later he read the young man's name in the obituary column of the newspaper.

Hezekiah was calling the people of Israel to turn to the Lord. The response was predictable. There were those who repented and turned their lives around, and then there were those who laughed and mocked at something so simplistic and stupid. Each of us has the opportunity to make this choice. If you have made that choice, then thank God for it and begin today to let the Lord Jesus be at the center of your life. If you haven't, I urge you to listen to the call of ~~and~~ the Lord Jesus, knocking at the door of your heart and seeking entrance today. Don't wait until you're older, or until another day. Only God knows how many days any of us have. I urge you in the name of Jesus Christ to come to Him today.

(Illustration of great civilizations)

A study of history shows that the great civilizations of the world have averaged about 200 years. The people of the world have followed this timetable:

The people go:

From slavery to spiritual faith
From spiritual faith to courage
From courage to liberty
From liberty to abundance
From abundance to selfishness
From selfishness to apathy
From apathy to dependence
From dependence back to slavery.

- The Bible Friend

In conjunction with this, think about what has been said about the average American.

A United Press survey has found that the "typical American" is a twenty seven-year-old who does not read one book a year.

He is materialistic, satisfied with small pleasures, bored with theological talk.

Although he may attend church twenty seven times a year, he is not interested in the supernatural.

He is concerned with neither heaven nor hell.

In fact, he has no interest whatever in immortality.

His principal interests are football, hunting, fishing, and tinkering.

This comparison between the civilizations of history, coupled with what is supposedly the "typical American," points out the fact that today we are dangerously ~~like~~ parallel to the people of Judah as we read of them in this morning's scripture.

Manasseh, the son of the godly King Hezekiah, brought Judah, the Southern Kingdom back down to the depths during his reign. He plunged Judah into the same idolatry which the Northern Kingdom had known in the time of Ahab and Jezebel. The temple once again was polluted with pagan altars; the occult was promoted once again; and child sacrifice was practiced in the valley of Hinnom near Jerusalem. Manasseh reigned for 55 years. Going back to the 13th chapter of this book of Chronicles we read starting at the 26th verse, (read 9 thru 31).

Manasseh began a reform in Judah to get the people back to God as recorded further on, but it was too late. The people still worshipped idols and kept turned from God. The nation had gone beyond the point of no return.

His son Amon assumed the throne and ~~reigned~~ fortunately he only reigned for two years because he was as evil as his father before him. He was killed by his own servants, who in turn ~~were~~ were killed by the people who then placed his son Josiah on the throne. We read in verse 1, (read this). He was only eight-years-old when he became king. The responsibility of leading the people of Judah was thrust upon those young shoulders. But unlike his father and his grandfather, Josiah was a man of God. We read of him in the 2nd verse, (read this).

Josiah was a young man after God's own heart. He didn't go to the right, nor to the left. His course was straight down the middle, walking with God. The first point we see in this incident is that there comes a time when it may be too late to turn back, or to get things back to normal. A further reading in this chapter tells us just that. God said that because Josiah was the godly man he was, God would not bring judgment upon the people of Judah while he was alive. But then judgment would fall upon them and it did.

We read first of what Josiah did in the kingdom, (read verses 4-7). His first act was to bring the people back to God. He accomplished this by doing away with those things that kept them from God. Josiah was pointing out sin to the people.

This is one thing that has been watered down in the past recent years. People, and unfortunately, church people don't want to hear the word sin talked about. Ask the average church member about it and you will be told that most people do not look at themselves as sinners. That title is reserved for people like Hitler, or mass murderer Charles Manson, and others of that ilk. But me, a sinner? Never. But as you and I are here this morning let me remind all of us that there are two classes of people here. Both classes consist of sinners and you and I can find ourselves in one class or the other. First, there are those who have accepted Christ as their Lord and Saviour. This class then is made up of forgiven sinners. Sinners, but forgiven through Jesus Christ. The second class is made of those who have not accepted Jesus Christ, and those people are unforgiven sinners, and will remain unforgiven sinners until they decide to do business with God and take Christ as their Saviour. You and I are in one class or the other. Which class am I in, this morning, we each need to ask ourselves.

(Illustration of Bibbly Sunday and letter to Mayor)

The famed evangelist Bibbly Sunday wrote a letter to the Mayor of a large city he was going to hold a crusade in. In his letter he asked the Mayor for the names of individuals within that city who needed spiritual help and prayer for the problems they were facing.

Imagine the surprise of Bibbly Sunday when he received in the mail a city directory.

In Romans Paul tells us, "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God."

That doesn't let anyone out. We are all in that boat and we need to get on it if we haven't done so yet.

The next step that Josiah took is recorded in the 8th verse, (read this).

Josiah had the House of the Lord prepared for the people. It is one thing to come to the Lord, but it is quite another to come to the Lord's House. God wants us to come together and worship Him, and to provide a place to do so. If everyone would do what some people advocate when they accept the Lord, and that is stay away from worship, the Church would shrivel up and die. It is in the coming to ether to worship God that we grow and share our faith not only with fellow-believers, but with those who are still searching whom God has led to His House.

Josiah in his cleansing of the house of the Lord uncovered a copy of the book of the Law. It was given to Josiah who read it to the people. In the 30th and 31st verses of this chapter we read, (Read this). First Josiah destroyed the things which were keeping the people from God, and told them of their sin. Then he cleaned out the House of the Lord for worship. Then finally, he shared the Book with the people.

God's Word must take precedence over any other book. The Bible must be the rule of authority for our lives. What does the Bible have to say about the events of our lives must always be our question.

When the missionary Stanley started across Africa he had seventy-three books in three packs weighing 130 pounds. Those who were carrying his belongings began to become fatigued. So he decided to lighten their load by disposing of some of his books. One by one he discarded them until there was only one book left which he would not throw away. That book was his Bible. On that trip we are told that he read the Bible through three times.

Perhaps this may give us an idea of the importance of the Bible to one of God's servants like Stanley. But what is ~~more important~~ of more concern to us is the question, "How important is the Bible to you?" If you had to dispose of all your reading material, what would you keep? Josiah not only expressed his love for God's Word, but look at what he promised to do. (Read verse 31). He promised to perform the words of the covenant written in this book.

That's quite an undertaking. Our lives should be so structured that the things of God of more import than the things of this world. I believe that God is trying to get our attention in our country with all of the present events that are taking place. We Americans have become too smug and complacent. We think that we have it made and we don't need anything but what we can do for ourselves. God is seeking to call us back to the fundamentals of the faith. Where do you stand in relation to that call? Is God and the things of God of more importance in your life than the material possessions of this life? God ~~isn't~~ has never been interested in things. He is interested in people. John tells us that it is God's desire that no one should perish. God wants your love, your life. Have you turned that over to Him. If not, why not do it today:

(Illustration of Julius Caesar and his wife's dream)

In the early morning hours of the 14th of March in the year 44BC Julius Caesar awoke from his sleep. It was a beautiful moonlit morning and in the light of the moon shining in the room he saw his wife turning in bed and mumbling in her sleep. He knew she was probably dreaming and he didn't think much about it and in a short period of time was asleep again. The next morning, his wife Calpurnia told him she had dreamed that ~~he~~ she had a dream, and in that dream she held him bleeding ~~in~~ and dying in her arms. She begged him not to stir out of the house ~~on the~~ and to cancel the meeting of the senate scheduled for the next day, the 15th. The 15th was the Ides of March and her warning to him was, "Beware the Ides of March." Caesar was deeply impressed by his wife's dream and resolved not to go to the senate that day. But the conspirators who had plotted his death got one of his closest friends to persuade him to go to the meeting. He asked Caesar what he thought his enemies would say if Caesar were to send a messenger to the senate and have them adjourn until his wife had a more favorable dream. This caused Caesar to change his mind. On the way to the meeting ~~xxxx~~ a friend thrust a paper in his hand while he was walking down the street. He told him, "Read this, Caesar, alone and quickly. It contains a matter of great importance to you. Caesar thought it was a petition and thought he would read it at another time. Thus twice warned of impending danger to his life, Caesar went to the meeting and to his death.

A bit of apathy, along with procrastination cost the Emperor of Rome his life. King Josiah of Judah had brought revival to God's people, but once again they slipped into sin and degradation. So God permitted Judah to spend 70 years in captivity in Babylon. But God also mercifully intervened and in 538 B.C. the pagan King Cyrus of Persia permitted a small band of Jews to return to Jerusalem. But after sixteen years there wasn't an ounce of energy expended on the reconstruction of the temple. There was no ~~complete~~ temple, no worship, and no concern for spiritual things. So it ~~was~~ is that we read, "In the second year of Darius the king, on the first day of the sixth month, the Word of the Lord came by the prophet Haggai to Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest.

The year was 520 B.C. 101 years after the reign of King Josiah. Zerubbabel is the Hebrew name and he was the governor of Judah. His name meant, "One born in Babylon. He is identified in ~~another portion of the scriptures~~ the book of Ezra as Sheshbazzar. That was his Chaldean name. His father is also listed as ~~Padi~~ Pedaliah in the book of Chronicles. What probably happened is that his father died and he was adopted by his uncle who was Shealtiel.

So Haggai the prophet speaking to Zerubbabel and Joshua says, "Thus says the Lord of hosts, 'This people says, 'The time has not come, even the time for the house of the Lord to be rebuilt.'"

These returned Jews had become ingenious with excuses as to why they could not rebuild the temple. Because of interruptions caused by their enemies, they said it wasn't the right time. Their real reason was that they didn't like the trouble, the time, and the expense they had to put forth to overcome the opposition caused by their enemies. It hadn't taken much to dissuade them from their tasks. People today are exactly the same within the church. Men today do not say they were never be spiritual and get involved in the Christian life and walk. They just say that the time hasn't come for them to do so. So the work of the Church of Jesus Christ goes begging because too many people want to sit around and make excuses.

So it was at this time that the Lord spoke through Haggai and His message was, "Is it time for yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses while this house lies desolate?" verse 3.

The people had found time to remodel their houses and get them all fixed up, but the Lord's House, that was another matter. It was too dangerous.

Since they had taken care of themselves and forgotten, or made excuses for not being able to repair the temple, God further tells them, "Now therefore, thus says the Lord of hosts, 'Consider your ways.'" verse 4.

God has something He wants to impart to them and it is this: "You have sown much and harvested little; you eat, but there is not enough to be satisfied you drink, but there is not enough to become drunk; you put on clothing, but no one is warm enough; and he who earns, ~~xxxx~~ earns wages to put into a purse with holes." verses 5 & 6.

That which they had planted either was destroyed by the weather conditions, or it was destroyed in some other way; the grape crop didn't come to pass and so their wine was in small supply; their clothing wasn't adequate; and what they earned didn't go far enough for their needs and it was like money dropping out of pockets with holes in them. In other words they were going through a time of inflation. Now why was this? If someone would have asked them they would have said, "Well, the weather hasn't been good for planting and so our crops and our grapes don't grow. The insects eat everything up that look green. And besides we can't earn enough wages to buy adequate food and clothing. Every time we go to market everything costs so much more. Sound familiar? It should because the world is going through the very same thing today. What was the problem? The problem was that the people were too busy looking out for themselves and they had forgotten God. But God was teaching His people what they should have known too well. What they sowed, they would reap. If they were too busy sowing for themselves and forgetting or slighting God, God would not give them the harvest they were expecting. God will not bless anything or anyone who will not give to Him what is rightfully His, it's as simple as that.

The time had come for the people to stop blaming God for their problems and begin to do what God wanted them to do all along.

There is a story told of an unemployed man in Philadelphia who was looking for work. One day he went into the office of a famous Philadelphian named Girard and asked for a job. Mr. Girard pointed out the window and said,

"I'll give you work. See that pile of bricks out there? Carry them over to the other end of the yard and stack them up." At the end of the working day the man had the bricks all moved. He went to the office for his pay and asked if there would be work the next day. Mr Girard answered, "Yes, come in tomorrow and move those bricks back where you found them." For a whole week all this man did was move the bricks from one side of the yard to the other. But he never complained he just did what he was told to do. Then when he reported for work one morning Mr. Girard gave him a check and instructions to go downtown and bid on a large shipment of sugar. He was a new face at that auction and people had no idea he was bidding on behalf of Mr. Girard. When he had successfully given the best bid, the auctioneer asked, "Who is going to pay for this?" He replied, "Mr. Girard, I'm his agent." He had received this privilege by being faithful in the menial tasks.

This is all that God was asking of the people of Judah. This is all that God asks of anyone. Remember the story of the talents that Jesus told. The Lord rewards those who are faithful over little things, little tasks. There should never be anything that we consider too menial, or beneath our dignity.

God explains to these Jews what had happened because of their no rebuilding the temple and we read this in verses 9 through 11, (read these).

Following God's words we read, (read verse 12.)

The people gave up their desires to accomplish what God had given them to do.

(Illustration of five words)

Someone has written, "Five words defined":

Surrender isn't giving up something you don't want.

Victory isn't walking across the goal line....
It's struggling through opposition to goal.

Trust isn't going just where the lights are....
It's following through the dark valleys.

Love isn't giving when others are giving....
It's giving when others are not giving.

Faith isn't overflowing to others....
It's emptying itself
to others.

It takes all of this to live for the Lord and serve Him. The mistake that these Jews made was they thought they could get by with token service to God and still live their lives in comfort and prosperity. But God taught them otherwise. There must be some efforts made and an enthusiasm to serve the Lord.

(Illustration of notice in Detroit office)

Employees in a Detroit business office found the following important notice on the bulletin board:

The management regrets that it has come to their attention that workers dying on the job are failing to fall down. This practice must stop, as it becomes impossible to distinguish between death and the natural movement of the staff. Any employee found dead in an upright position will be dropped from the payroll.

A person who is serving the Lord should express the joy of that relationship and it ought to show in the life.

(Illustration of woman in England & "Jesus lives here")

In the days of Queen Victoria of England it was customary for her to visit in the homes of some of her people. One time she visited the home of a humble widow. Later on her worldly neighbors taunted her. They said, "Granny, who is the most honored guest you've ever entertained in your home?" They expected her to say Jesus, because they knew she was a deeply spiritual Christian. But she surprised them by answering, "The most honored guest I've entertained was her majesty the Queen." "Did you say the Queen? We got you this time. How about this Jesus you're always talking about? Isn't He your most honored guest?" She said, "Oh no indeed. He's not a guest. He lives here." That put her hecklers to silence.

God shows us the evidence of this in this Scripture from Haggai for we read in the 13th verse, "Then Haggai the messenger of the Lord spoke by the commission of the Lord to the people saying, 'I am with you, declares the Lord God is with those and in those who truly seek to live for Him. The evidence is in the life of the person.

God wants to have a greater part of your life. What is your answer to Him? Have you been guilty like the people of Judah of fixing up the things of your life and neglecting the things of God? It's so easy to tend to our personal needs and wants and shut out the Lord. But He desires a close relationship with us. Invite Him into your life today and begin to serve Him.

Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that to Thee, O Lord, for all Thy wonderful works! For Thy changing seasons, each with its laden gifts from Thee; for this autumn time, its harvest, its hope-in the beautiful preparation for winter and for the coming of spring. For the hope that springs eternal in every breast! For the longing after good things, and the things that are above; for the abiding faith that Thou art ever God and that Jesus Christ is still the Way, the Truth, and the Life: and that man in this world can make a difference; for love that still makes life worth its sorrows, its defeats, its victories. Thanks be to Thee, O Lord, through Jesus Christ

Scripture: 1 Thessalonians 5:14-18

(Illustration of frontier couple of the bell used for emergencies)

A frontier couple, Zeb and Martha built a cabin, a barn and a corral for their livestock on their new land. Zeb hung a large bell from a tree near the house and told his wife, "There are renegades around here Martha, If you need me, ring the bell - but only in an emergency." Several days later he was riding out to the woods to cut wood when he heard the bell ring. Jumping on his horse he rode back to the house at full speed. "What's wrong he shouted as he reined up in front of the house. "I just thought you might like some fresh coffee," Martha said. "Tarnation woman, I said the bell was for emergencies and this isn't one of them. I need to get the chores done." Once more he rode out and just as he started to swing the ax the bell rang again. Once more he galloped to the house to be informed by Martha that the washtub leaked. "That ain't no emergency," he shouted. "I've gotta get this wood cut." Two hours later Zeb was cutting the limbs from the tree he had just felled and the bell rang again. Once more he galloped to the house and this time there was Martha on the ground holding her shoulder where an arrow had hit her, and the barn was in flames. Jumping off his horse Zeb exclaimed, "Now, Martha, this is more like it."

Few people enjoy times of calamity. We instead enjoy times of fun and pleasure and rightly so. But as we live our lives even though most of us do not face grave problems we find it difficult to be thankful in some circumstances and situations. A thanksgiving meal was being served in a small nursing home

As they gathered at the table the Director of the home asked each of them to express thanks for one thing they were grateful. Thanks were expressed by each one for families, friends, a home to live in, and so on. One little old lady when it was her turn said, "I thank the Lord for two perfectly good teeth. One in my upper jaw and one in my lower jaw that match so ~~XXXXXX~~ I can chew my food."

That's real thanksgiving. And there are times when we have to think before we can say thanks.

This is the circumstances that the people in the Greek city of Thessalonica found themselves in. Paul was closing this letter to those believers. These new Christians were being tested and had ~~XXXXXX~~ been exposed to suffering. Paul takes this opportunity to give them some good advice.

In the 14th verse he tells them, (read this verse). Paul knew that in any group of believers there ~~XXXXXX~~ were always those who needed encouragement and help. He knew that a part of the Christian's duty was the responsibility to look after the brethren. The age old question has always been, "Am I my brother's keeper?" And the answer of course is, "Yes." Paul in his letters shares these thoughts by likening the Church as a body with arms and legs, and eyes, and ears, and so on. He says that when one part of the body hurts, the whole body hurts. I believe we can see that very vividly in what has transpired this past year within the Church of Jesus Christ. A few phonies have been uncovered in the television ministries and immediately every church and every pastor is considered by the public as being of the same stripe.

As a result, the whole Christian church has to suffer because of it. Paul's further advice is, (read verse 15). The people of the church in Thessalonica were no different than we are. When someone did something to them, the natural inclination is to get even. Isn't that the way we normally react? "Well, he won't get away with that. I'll fix him," is the normal way to handle the situation. But Jesus taught us not to play the game of an eye for an eye, and this is exactly what Paul is saying. And then Paul begins to give three pieces of advice. First, he says, "Rejoice evermore," verse 16. For those of you who may be Biblical trivia buffs, you may be surprised to learn that this is actually the shortest verse in the Bible. I'm sure that most of us have been taught that the shortest verse in the Bible is found in the Gospel of John in the account of ~~the~~ Jesus raising Lazarus from the dead, where it is recorded, "Jesus wept." But in Greek, that verse is actually made up of three words. The literal translation from Greek is, "The Jesus wept." It means, the Christ, the anointed One wept. And this 16th verse in the original Greek is just two words as we read it. "Rejoice evermore." But those two verses are intertwined and should be so in our thinking. Jesus stood at the grave of a beloved friend and wept. He was moved by the needlessness of death. He realized that were it not for the sin of Adam there would be no need to weep at the grave of anyone. But carrying that idea one step further, Jesus did something about that grief he experienced. He let Himself be slain on behalf of all mankind. And He came back from the grave thus making it possible for man to live for all time and eternity with God. For that we should indeed, "Rejoice forevermore." Secondly, Paul says, "Pray without ceasing." Now as we ponder that we may come to the conclusion that we cannot possibly be that much of a super-Christian. And if we do nothing but go about praying, we cannot do the other things we should be doing as a Christian. Something must go lacking. So what is the answer? Well the answer lies in ~~the~~ a very simple thing that I would imagine has happened to all of us at one time or another. Have you ever had a hacking cough? You know that when you cough you get relief. But then it comes back again, and again, and again. Somehow you just cannot throw it off. The derivation of the words, ~~xxxxxxx~~ "without ceasing," actually has the meaning in the Greek of a hacking cough. Applying that to this verse we see then that Paul is telling us that we can actually pray without ceasing. I'm sure that you are aware that after a few moments of praying your mind wanders. So we think that it is impossible to pray without ceasing. But Paul was not talking of just praying on and on. He knew that ~~it~~ is impossible. He was saying that each day affords us many opportunities to pray. We can do so and no one around us may even be aware that we are praying. As you go about your work, whatever it may be, you can pray for your family, for your friends, for your fellow-workers, for your job, for your safety if you are traveling.

And if you begin to pray whenever you think of something that needs prayed for you will soon discover that prayer is becoming almost like something that is automatic. You will be thanking God for the things you have and for the beauty around you; you will be speaking to Him as you would a dear friend. This is what Paul was saying here.

Paul's third piece of advice is, "In every thing give thanks." The other two things that Paul tells us to do, "Rejoice evermore," and "Pray without ceasing deal with our time. This 18th verse deals with our circumstances.

Perhaps the most difficult thing we may have to do is to render thanks for the circumstances we may find ourselves in. But if we look at those circumstances we can readily see that we are still blessed.

When the Israelites came out of Egypt God supplied their needs. For forty years He gave them a food to eat which they gathered each morning. It was called Manna. Do you know what the word "Manna" means in Hebrew? The meaning very simply is, "What's this?" They questioned God, "what is this stuff?" In our Bible study last Sunday I made mention of this fact and someone asked me if I ever ask that when Shirley dishes up our hash. I wouldn't dare. I can recall as a boy growing up ~~in~~ when refrigeration was an old ice box with a lump of ice in it and unpasteurized milk did not keep too long. Mom would pour the milk on the cereal and sometimes you could visibly see the little lumps in it. And when we would say, "This milk is sour," she would answer ~~me~~ with words as the Bible says, "A soft answer turneth away wrath." His answer was, "Eat it, and shut up. Be thankful for what you have." She was telling us that we at least had something to eat. When we sit down to our thanksgiving dinners this week, will we ask, "What is it?" I ~~think~~ think not. We will know that we have much, and many, many in the world will have little. God wants us to not only render thanks, but He desires for our lives to be a reflection of that thankfulness by how we live them.

(Illustration of "Forgive me when I whine")

What do we have to whine about? A button missing from a shirt? The wrong color blouse or sweater? A lack of this or that? Each one of us has more to be thankful for than we could ever tabulate. Count your many blessings, name them one by one the hymn tells us. But do we? Do we ever just pause and do nothing but thank God for each and every blessing we enjoy? How is that reflected in our lives? Are our daily lives showing that by "Thanks-Living?" Today as we reflect on God's love and mercy to us, He gives us the opportunity to not only accept what He has for us such as salvation, and His love. But perhaps today you may want to render your thanks to Him as never before. If you are so moved, you may desire to come and get on your knees and tell Him, how much you love Him. Or you may want to get your life straightened out with Him. The invitation is extended to move in whatever direction He is leading you today.

"Twas The Year Before Christmas: Scene One

Scripture: Luke 1:1-23

"Twas the year before Christmas and all through the land, all hopes and wishes were built on shifting sand,"
This would perhaps be the way Clement Moore would have written had he lived in the year prior to the coming of Jesus Christ. It was a dismal picture during that time. Rome ruled the then known world. Taxes were high; any commodity that had to be purchased outside of the home was expensive; food was not plentiful; comfortable facilities in the home were unknown; work was all done by hand and it required long hours and all physical labor; and thus times were tough.

Herod, called the Great was Seated on the Jewish throne which was ~~AA~~ insult to the Jews because he wasn't a Jew. He was an Edomite who converted to Judaism and ~~was placed~~ had succeeded his father who was placed on the throne by Julius Caesar. Herod had won favor with Augustus Caesar and by clever strategy had added ~~many~~ a string of nations and land to what he had been given to rule and for this Augustus Caesar rewarded him. With these large land holdin ings, that is why he was called, "Herod the Great."

So it was that under the heel of Rome, and with a puppet on the Jewish throne, the people of Israel led a bleak and weary existence. On a typical day in that "Year Before Christmas," a priest ~~was serving in the temple~~ by the name of Zacharias was serving in the temple. During the days of David, he had divided the priests and Levites up into 24 courses. Each of these courses served ~~two weeks per year~~ for a week at a time twice in the year. ~~And on~~ ~~three different~~ During the three festivals or feasts, all of the priests served ~~during~~ at one time. So the priests actually only worked about five weeks per year. Nice work if you can get it.

Zacharias was a member of the 8th course, which had been assigned by David to a priest named Abijah. ~~Priests who loved their work looked forward to~~ ~~their week of service and since there were so many priests the work they were~~
~~to perform was divided by casting lots so that each course there were just a~~ ~~little less than one thousand priests so we can see the necessity for the~~ ~~casting of lots~~

Priests were ~~tax~~ free to marry a woman from any of the tribes, but it was considered very worthwhile to marry a girl who was a descendant of Aaron and this is what Zacharias had done. Luke tells us in verse 6, that "they were both righteous in the sight of God, walking blamelessly in all the commandments and requirements of the Lord." This doesn't mean they were sinless, just that in God's sight they were righteous people trying to live as God's people. But their lives were not particularly happy. First, they were elderly and they had no children. To a good Jew, most of whom did not believe in eternal life, it was incumbent upon them to have children. It was through children they believed that they had eternal life. They would be remembered through their heirs in succeeding generations.

Zacharias was serving his week in the temple as Luke tells us in the 8th and 9th verses, (read these). Since there were approximately 20,000 priests, there were a little less than one-thousand serving at one time during that week. In order to have a semblance of order without squabbling, it was devised that lots were cast for the specific jobs they were to perform. Three priests were chosen for the task. One removed the ashes from the previous service, one was to bring in a pan of hot burning coals taken from the altar of the burnt offering and place those coals on the golden altar; and the third one was to sprinkle incense on those live coals. It fell to Zacharias to place the incense on the live coals. This was considered an honor because of its significance. Many priests served a lifetime and never had this honor. While the smoke of the incense ~~ascended~~ ascended, the priest made intercession for the people. Luke tells us in verse 10, (read this). This hour of the incense was observed twice a day, along with the morning and evening sacrifice at the third and the ninth hours of the day. The sacrifice for the morning was burning on the altar of burnt offering and live coals taken from that altar were sprinkled with incense symbolizing the acceptableness of that offering, and the acceptableness of the people as living sacrifices to God. Do you see the symbolism in this? Jesus died on the cross as a living sacrifice for all mankind and it took place between the third and the ninth hours, or 9:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M.

So it was that as Zacharias was performing this sacred and solemn rite, "An angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing to the right of the altar of incense." verse 11.

And what did Zacharias do? "And Zacharias was troubled, when he saw him, and fear gripped him," verse 12.

Who wouldn't be troubled? But Zacharias' ~~name~~ very name should have been a clue that something like this would take place. His name meant, "The Lord remembers." God had not forgotten he and his wife even though many years had passed and their childlessness was a source of embarrassment to them. God remembered as He always does. Gabriel gives him the message that he would be the father of a special son. He ended his prophecy with the words, (read verses 16 & 17). This was a quotation from the prophecy of Malachi. In the 11th chapter of Matthew, we read how the disciples of John the Baptist came to Jesus asking on behalf of John if Jesus was the Messiah. Reading from the 4th verse on we read, (read verses 4-14). The quotations from Malachi are from 3:1 and 4:5-6. Jesus was saying that John was the messenger spoken of here and he would have been like Elijah in the flesh if he had been permitted to complete his ministry.

Zacharias is not only surprised by the angel, but he questions him and Luke tells us, (read verse 18).

At this, Gabriel pulls his rank and we read, (read verses 19 & 20). It was almost as if, "Who are you to question me?" Zacharias was not punished for being unbelieving at this point. It was a sign that something had happened when he was ministering at the incense offering and all who ~~now~~ came in contact with him after this knew that he had experienced something special. Zacharias probably had trouble believing this because of his age.

(Illustration of 90 year old man, doctor and his knee)

A man in his nineties went to his family doctor complaining of a knee problem. The doctor asked, "At your age what do you expect?" The man replied, "I expect you to fix ~~my~~ this knee. My other knee's the same age and it works fine."

Age should never be a barrier where God is concerned. God has proven many times that He can and does use the elderly to perform His work. Abraham, Moses, Joshua, and Zacharias are only a few ~~ex~~amples. Therefore, we should never stand back and say, "I'm too old."

When Zacharias came out to the rail between the two courts in which the people were, it was to be his privilege to give the people the priestly blessing. But he couldn't speak and because of this the people knew that something had happened. First, the lack of speech gave it away. And secondly he was late in coming forth from his priestly duties. Both of these things were signs to the people that something out of the ordinary had happened. But the point is the people waited. Zacharias was late, the temple service went longer than it should have but the people waited. Luke doesn't tell us they were looking at their sundials, or checking their sand glass timers. They waited. Our time with God should never be ~~re~~predicated upon a time element. We cannot always fit our worship into a nice little neat package of exactly one hour. Sometimes God scraps the schedule and we may run into overtime. We can't conveniently organize God and put Him on our timetable.

~~The prophecy of Malachi ended the revelation from God. Darkness had settled on the scene and the period of time seemed endless. Then mysteriously, God appeared to an unknown priest to tell him of the child. God interrupted the worship being rendered to Him to give what only He could give. And that was a much wanted gift.~~

In a church in Virginia a director of Christian education named Betty Jo Kendall conducted a Christmas pageant. She had all of the children lined up to be angels and she asked each one of them to think of a gift they would present to the baby Jesus at the Christmas program. Everyone thought of toys and stuffed animals, but one little girl named Sally Baldwin didn't give her an answer. She asked Sally what she would give Jesus. Sally said that she was embarrassed and couldn't tell. Betty Jo asked her to whisper it in her ear and ~~the~~ Sally did. "Why that's a wonderful gift," she told Sally. "You give Jesus that gift at the program," she told her. The night of the program all of the little angels with their wings and halo's on, came to the crib set and gave Jesus His presents of toys and stuffed animals. Sally's turn came, and she bent down over the manger and gave Baby Jesus a kiss.

Sally gave the gift she thought Jesus wanted most, her love. Sally knew the secret of giving. The important thing in the giving of a gift is to give something that matters. The prophet Malachi had ended the revelation of God to mankind. Darkness had settled on the scene and time seemed to go on endlessly with no hope. Then mysteriously, God appeared to an unknown priest to tell him of the baby boy he and his wife would be blessed with. But God also imparted to him that this boy would be the forerunner of the One everyone had been ~~looking for~~ anticipating for countless centuries. God interrupted the worship of the people and the service of the priest which was being rendered to Him, to give what only God could give, and that was an appropriate gift. At the time it may have seemed to be only a blessing to an obscure priest and his wife, but later years proved God's deep love for mankind.

"Twas the year before Christmas and all through the ~~land~~ nation,
A spark had been lit, which would bring the world salvation."

"Twas The Year Before Christmas: Scene Two"

Scripture: Luke 1:26-38

"Twas The Year Before Christmas," and six months had gone by since the priest Zacharias had been visited by the angel Gabriel. When the people came to the Temple some of them from time to time would ask the question, "I wonder how Zacharias is doing. Has anyone heard about him and his wife Elizabeth?" But all they knew from the grapevine was that mysteriously, and miraculously, she was going to have a baby.

So it is that we read in Luke's Gospel, (read verse 26). The scene has shifted from a very public place, the temple, to a small, non-descript town of little or no importance. Gabriel was sent we are told, (read verse 27). We don't know too much about Mary except that she was descended from the royal Davidic line and at this point in time she was a virgin. After Gabriel gives her the message that she was going to become a mother of the Son of God, Mary questioned Gabriel and we read in the 34th verse, (read this verse). I don't know about you, but when I read the remarks of modern day commentators of the Bible, many of them say that you have a choice in this matter. The choice is to either believe that Jesus was virgin born, or He was not, and it doesn't make any difference which you believe. But I deny that statement and I believe that you should too. If Jesus was not Virgin born, or ~~born~~ conceived and born in a special way, then pray tell, what makes Him any different from any one of us? If God wanted to enter the world in exactly the same way as anyone else, then there was no need to seek out a virgin to ~~have~~ give birth to Jesus. The secret of what God did is told by Gabriel in the 35th through the 37th verses, (read these verses). First, the Holy Spirit was going to impregnate Mary, not Joseph or some other man. Second, as proof that God is in the impossible business, Elizabeth who had been unable to have children, and was now past the age of child-bearing was going to have a baby. God opened her womb and made that possible. And if God could do that, why couldn't He impregnate Mary without ~~benefit~~ a human male? Gabriel summed it up well when he said, "For nothing is impossible with God." We need to stand on this as one of the main doctrines of our faith. And if we don't, then Jesus was and is nothing more than another man. If someone were to ask you what you believe about Jesus, your immediate reply should be, "that He was born of the Virgin Mary."

When Mary was told by Gabriel, "Hail, favored one! The Lord is with thee," Luke tells us, "But she was greatly troubled by at this statement, and kept pondering what kind of salutation this might be."

We know that following the resurrection and ascension of Jesus, Luke and John spent a lot of time in each other's company. Mary lived with John if you will recall that when Jesus hung on the cross He placed Mary in John's care and we are told that from that hour John took her into his household. So it was that Luke had the opportunity to hear from Mary's own lips all that transpired in her life. And being a doctor, Luke took the opportunity to tell that Jesus was Virgin born. If he didn't believe that, and know the facts, we can well imagine that he would have refuted this event as so much rubbish. But he of all the Gospel writers tells the infinite details concerning these events. Mary, being a simple peasant girl was dumfounded that she would be called, "The favored one and she asked for an explanation.

Gabriel supplies that explanation and in doing so predicts five things about this Son she would bear.

He begins by saying, "'Do not be afraid, Mary; for you have found favor with God.'" Verse 30B.

How can anyone be afraid when they have found favor with God? Paul says, "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

No man, in fact nothing in this world can ever stand up to God. When God has given you His blessing, life takes on an altogether different dimensions.

Gabriel explains, "And behold, you will conceive in your womb, and bear a son, and you shall name Him Jesus." verse 31.

The very name that Mary was to give this Son, was an indication that He was out of the ordinary. The name, "Jesus" simply means, "Yahweh, or Jehovah saves." His name spoke of salvation and any good Jew would have recognized this immediately, because most Jews gave their children names which had a special meaning.

Then in the 32nd and 33rd verses, Gabriel spells out what Jesus would be.

First, He said, "He will be great." This term was indicative of the life of Jesus in many ways. In ~~Hebrew~~ ^{GREEK} the word meant, ~~alone, or only one, lonely,~~ ^{EXCEEDINGLY GRT. HIGH LRG} ~~only child or son, solitary,~~ ^{HIGH ALONE} and "the life, as not to be replaced." Jesus was the fulfillment of all of this. The 12th verse of the 53rd chapter of Isaiah spells this out.

Next Gabriel tells Mary, "And He will be called the Son of the Most High." Mary being Jewish knew the complete significance of this phrase. She understood from the very beginning, before Jesus was conceived in her that this Son would be on an equality with God. In Semitic thought a son was a carbon copy of his father, and the phrase "son of" was often used to refer to one who possessed his father's qualities. It was something like, "a chip off the old block" as we would say. Scripture points us to this in many places and uses phrases like, "son of wickedness," meaning of an evil father and like him, or "son of man," meaning a son of a man like Adam, etc.

Then Gabriel says, "And the Lord ~~will~~ God will give Him the throne of His Father David."

Mary knew from this that He would one day assume the throne of her ancestor David. She didn't know that this take place when Jesus returned to earth to begin His 1000 year reign, because that hadn't been spelled out yet according to her understanding. But she knew that her Son was slated to reign as king.

Mary is then told, "And He will reign over the house of Jacob forever." Mary understood this since she was a descendant of King David. She probably knew from Scripture that God had made a promise to David and it was found in the prophetic writings of Samuel the prophet. From the 7th chapter of 2nd Samuel God spoke through Nathan to David in the 12th ~~verses~~, and 13th verses, (read these). The reign of Jesus ~~will~~~~begin~~ over the nation of Israel will begin in the millenium, or 1000 years reign, and will continue into eternity. And finally, Gabriel tells Mary, "And His kingdom will have no end." God spoke this prophecy again in 2 Samuel 7:19, where we read, (read this). Mary understood that the prophecy of the Messiah had been given to King David as recorded here.

After all of this had been told to Mary, her final response at this point is recorded in the 38th verse where we read, "And Mary said, 'Behold, the bondslave of the Lord; be it done to me according to your word.'"

The word for "bondslave," or "handmaid" as the King James Version reads, is simply, "a female slave." Mary accepts what has been told by simple faith. Like a slave who must be content with the treatment dished out, so Mary awaits what God will do to her and through her.

(Illustration of Vivian and her rejected banner at school)

God has always used childlike faith to show us His love. He could have picked someone who was better off in the way of material goods. Instead, He chose to come from a peasant girl whose heart was right with Him.

We don't need to have the world's goods in order to experience God. In fact, Jesus said that it was harder for a person of means to enter the kingdom of heaven, than it was for a beggar. Have you experienced the love of God as coming forth in the common and ordinary of life? A stable, a manger, a peasant girl for a mother, and animals ~~for~~ in the nursery composed the birthplace of the Savior of the world. Come to that humble beginning. Kneel before this King and experience His love, His salvation just for you.

"Twas the Year Before Christmas, and all through the gloom,

Not a place for the Savior was found, there just wasn't room."

Has He found a place in your heart and life?

"Twas The Year Before Christmas: Scene Three"

Scripture: Luke 1:24-25, 39-45, 57-60

"Twas The Year Before Christmas," actually, it was the Year Before, the Year Before Christmas. A Jewish Christian by the name of Alfred Edersheim relates that it was in October of the year that the priest Zacharias was serving in the temple when he was confronted by the angel Gabriel and told that he and his wife Elizabeth would become the parents of a son. ~~then his time~~ ~~of service was extended~~ We read of him in the first chapter of Luke, verse 23, "And it came about, when the days of his priestly service were ended, that he went back home."

"Back home" for him was in the hill country of Judah. And so it is we read, (read verses 25 & 26). Elizabeth stayed in the background for five months. Her remark in the 25th verse has to do with how infertility was looked upon in that day and age. It was expected of married couples to have children. Especially priests. When children were not forthcoming, it was believed that perhaps God was punishing that couple and they were looked down upon by the other priests and their wives. So Elizabeth relaxed in her pregnancy and relished the idea that she was at last going to bear a son. We are not told that she knew all the details of her husband's visitation by the angel, but we can assume that Zacharias told his wife all that transpired by writing it down, since he couldn't speak.

So it was that we read, "Now in the 6th month," the angel Gabriel was sent to Nazareth to tell Mary that she was going to bear the Saviour Jesus. This would have been around March of the "Year Before Christmas," and Luke tells us, "Now at this time Mary arose and went with haste to the hill country, to a city of Judah. And entered the house of Zacharias and greeted Elizabeth." verses 39 & 40.

Mary had been told that her cousin was six months pregnant and in all probability she wanted to see her and tell her the good news which had been given to her. But as she entered the house a strange thing took place. We read, "And it came about that when Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the baby leaped in her womb; and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit." verse 41

We may wonder why Luke would include this bit of information in the text. But if we think through what is actually being said, we can see the importance of this verse. Elizabeth had been told that she was going to have a son ~~and give son~~ and that son was going to fulfill prophecy spoken by ~~both~~ the prophets Isaiah and Malachi. But both Zacharias and Elizabeth knew full well that this child of theirs according to those prophecies was to be the forerunner of the promised Messiah. Luke is telling us that Elizabeth received special inspiration at this point. He uses the term, "And Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit."

This means that she possessed something supernatural at this point. Luke then goes on to point out what this filling of the Holy Spirit meant by telling us, (read verses 42-44).

Since Elizabeth knew that her son was to be the forerunner of the Messiah, she knew that the ~~Messiah~~ time of the Advent of that Messiah was near. But she didn't know of whom, or when that Messiah would be born. A similar situation is said to have taken place when the Israelites came out of Egypt and were gathered ~~at the Red Sea~~ on the other side of the Red Sea and there sang the song of thanksgiving for being delivered. Jewish tradition says that the unborn infants in their mother's wombs responded with an Amen by leaping within their mothers. Elizabeth was confronted by her cousin Mary and did not know that Mary had been in recent conversation with the angel Gabriel. Therefore, when Elizabeth addresses her cousin with the unusual greeting of,

she is speaking through the power of the Holy Spirit. God's Holy Spirit had given her first the revelation of this by the sign of her son stirring very vividly within her. And secondly, the Holy Spirit was speaking through her giving her the revelation that Mary was the chosen one to bear the Messiah. Elizabeth is startled by these events and asks the question, "And how has it happened to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?"

~~She could not understand that she knew that the Messiah would be born of her~~
knew all this by saying, "For behold, when the sound of your greeting reached my ears, the baby leaped in my womb for joy."

Back in those days those who lived close to the Lord were always ready to receive a sign from the Lord concerning something He was going to do. There wasn't any doubt in Elizabeth's mind that the movement of the child within her was a definite sign from God that Mary was to ~~have~~ bear the Messiah without Mary ever telling her that.

It is then that Elizabeth tells Mary, (read verse 45).

She is saying that Mary was "Happy" because she believed what God had told her. You may remember that each of the Beatitudes begins with the word, "Blessed," and when we studied those we learned the word "blessed" really means, "Happy." Happy is to be the one who was to give birth to the Messiah, and has believed what God said He would do through her, is what Elizabeth is telling Mary. Mary came to see Elizabeth to tell her the Good News, and together they are sharing their special joy.

(Illustration of no joy in Presbyterian church in Omaha)

Bruce Larson tells of being in a large Presbyterian church in Omaha, Nebraska for what was called a renewal conference. As the people came into the church they were each given a helium filled balloon. They were told to release it sometime during the service when they felt like expressing joy in their hearts - during the anthem, the hymns, the prayers, or the sermon. Letting go of the balloon would signify their praise going up to God. All through the service, colorful balloons were released to bounce off the ceiling and to praise the Lord. But strangely enough at the end of the service, about a third of the balloons had not been released. Those people either felt no joy in the service, or were unwilling, or unable to bring themselves to express it.

And aren't there many people like that in the church today? Some people can never find joy in church. To them it is just a drag, something that must be endured. But God desires for us to find joy in Him and as we fellowship together in His house.

A barber tells of cutting a man's hair while his young son waited for him. While daddy was getting his hair cut his son was fascinated by the Christmas tree the barber had in the shop. He looked at all the lights and ornaments and then asked his father, "Daddy, why don't we have a Christmas tree in our house?" The father very gently said, "Jewish houses do not have Christmas trees." The little boy thought for a moment, and then with a frown on his face replied, "Daddy, why did we have to buy a Jewish house?"

Jewish homes may not have Christmas trees -- and Christian homes do not have to have one in order to possess the true spirit of Christmas, because Christmas trees do not ~~make~~ a Christmas make. The true spirit of Christmas is the presence of Jesus in our homes and in our hearts. Mary and Elizabeth both experienced that presence even before that Messiah Jesus Christ was born. The last thing we learn about Elizabeth in this passage is that she named him John when he was brought him to be circumcised. The name meant, "God is gracious." God proved this by permitting an older couple to have children in their old age. And God proved it to the world in this manner.

(Illustration Moss Hart, Father at Christmas when he was 10)

Moss Hart tells of the time when he was 10 years old, he went with his father to 149th & Westchester Avenues in New York where the pushcarts were lined along the street selling toys. The bright lights dazzled him and as they walked past the push carts he would comment to his dad, "Look at that chemistry set," or, "there's a stamp album," or, "Look at the printing press!" Each time his father would ask the vendor how much it cost and without a word they would move on to the next pushcart. From time to time his father would pick up a toy and look at Moss as though it might be what he wanted, but he had his heart set on a chemistry set or a printing press. They were on each pushcart, but the price was always the same. At last they reached the last pushcart and at this point he heard his father juggle some coins in his pocket. It was then he knew that his father had gotten about seventy-five cents together wanting to buy Moss a Christmas present. But he didn't say so because he feared there was nothing he could buy for that price.

Moss said, he looked up at his father and saw in his eyes the look of disappointment and despair that brought him closer to his dad than he had ever been. As they started back home silently, he said he didn't even take his Dad's hand because they were not on that intimate basis. Nor did he ever tell his Dad that he wanted to reach out and hold him tight and tell him that he understood and that this was better than any printing press or chemistry set, and tell him "I love you."

He said that for a little while the concrete wall between father and son had crumbled away and there were two lonely people struggling to reach out to each other.

This is precisely what God did in that Year Before Christmas. He reached out to a world that wasn't on a friendly basis with Him. He put His arms around mankind and said in the persons of John the Baptist and Jesus of Nazareth, "I Love You."

"Twas the year before Christmas, and in a world of little or no joys,
God stepped into that world, in the births of two boys."

One was the preparer for the other. And the other was the long awaited and expected Deliverer. I invite each of you to take what God has offered so freely in what we celebrate as Christmas. He wants you to have His Love through the gift of His Son Jesus Christ.

The Perfect Gift"

Scripture: Luke 2:11

Our story begins in of all places, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. It was there a family named Smith lived. There was just the three of them. The father, who worked as an accountant for a branch office of a firm which was located in Pittsburgh; the mother, and their seven-year-old daughter Suzie. Actually there were four of them because they had an orange tiger striped cat which Suzie had named Morris, after the cat on the TV commercials. Morris had come to their house one day when Suzie was three and had simply adopted them. He was Suzie's constant companion. He was around her all day, and at night he slept at the foot of her bed. When she went to school he saw her off and he was waiting at the front door long before she arrived home.

It was early September and Suzie had just started school again in the second grade when Mr. Smith received word that he was being promoted, which meant he had to relocate to the office in Pittsburgh. He had to report on the 1st of October and so it meant they had to seal their house and get read immediately. This was quite a blow to Suzie because she had made many friends and didn't want to leave them. But move they must and the plans were set in motion to bring about the move.

Moving day came the end of September and everyone pitched in to do their share including Suzie. But sometime during the moving process, Morris had disappeared. He was nowhere to be found. It almost seemed as though he knew he had to leave his familiar surroundings and didn't like it, and so he disappeared to show his disapproval. In any event, he was not to be found.

As the last piece of furniture was loaded into the moving van, and the door was closed, Mr. Smith suggested that perhaps they should take one last look to find Morris. The family went through all of the empty house again, and looked around the outside behind all the shrubs and bushes, but Morris had simply dropped out of sight. So reluctantly, and with heavy hearts, Mr. & Mrs. Smith bundled Suzie into the back seat of the car and began their westward journey across Pennsylvania.

They were able to find a nice house in a suburb of the city and spent the first night there sleeping on the floor until the furniture arrived the next day. That next day kept all of them busy unpacking and putting things in place. Little Suzie was a big help and doing what she could kept her mind occupied ~~xxx~~ so that she didn't think of the absence of Morris. But when they were settled in and the day drew to a close, as Suzie was being tucked into her bed in her new home she said, "Daddy, I miss Morris. Do you think maybe our neighbors will find him and send him to us?" Sadly, Mr. ~~Kerr~~ Smith answered, "It's possible Suzie, but don't get your hopes up. For some reason Morris didn't seem to want to move. Maybe we can get another cat like him." But Suzie protested she didn't want another cat, she wanted Morris. And so she dropped off to sleep that first night, thinking of an orange tiger striped cat named Morris.

As the days slipped by they each got into their new routines and became acquainted with their new surroundings. Mr. Smith enjoyed his new assignment, Mrs. Smith really liked their new home, and Suzie began to make new friends in the school and neighborhood. Right next door to them lived an older couple named Jones. They had never had children of their own, but they opened their house to all the neighborhood children and were loved by them. Mr. Jones was retired and was like a lot of men his age. On the surface he appeared to be mean and ill-tempered. But actually he was just a little gruff and proved to be a real pushover for the bubbly little blond ~~xxxxxx~~ blue eyed bombshell named Suzie. Suzie spent a lot of time at the Jones house. Mr. Jones had heard dozens of times about the cat named Morris. She followed him around as he raked his leaves, took down the screens and got the house ready for winter.

On Halloween when Suzie rang the doorbell of the Jones house, Mr. Jones pretended he didn't know the "Tweety Bird" on his front porch was Suzie. Finally, when she pulled her mask up over her head, he acted really surprised.

For Thanksgiving, the ~~year~~ Mr. & Mrs. Jones invited the Smith's over for dinner since they would be spending Thanksgiving alone. And this is the way the friendship grew as the months slipped by.

Now it was getting close to Christmas. Each time Mr. Jones would ask Suzie what she wanted for Christmas she would tell him that the only thing she really wanted was her old cat Morris. But Mr. Jones knew that was impossible and that she wouldn't accept a replacement. So he began to think of what he could get her. The gift had to be just right. An ordinary doll or something like that just wouldn't do. It had to be something special. But what could he get her?

The days sped by rapidly and now it was Christmas Eve, and still Mr. Jones had not decided on what to get. His wife had bought a nice cute doll and tried to convince him that Suzie would love it and it would be the "Perfect Gift." But somehow, he just wasn't convinced. The day slipped rapidly away and rather than just go out and buy something on impulse, Mr. Jones did nothing and thus he had no special gift for Suzie. When evening came and they had eaten their supper, Mrs. Jones coaxed him to go to the church service that night. She told him that ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ they had been invited by the Smith's to go with them and it would do him good to go. But Mr. Jones was not a religious man and rarely if ever, went to church. It wasn't that he didn't believe in God, he just had never got into that habit as he called it.

So reluctantly, Mrs. Jones dressed and went next door to go to church with the Smith's. She knew that her husband was brooding about not getting something special for Suzie, so as she left she tried to cheer him up by saying, "Now George, just get everything ready for when we come back. The Smith's are coming over ~~to~~ for a cup of eggnog and we can give Suzie the doll, and I just know that she will love it. I'll see you in an hour or so." George watched out the window as the car pulled out of the driveway and half-wished he had gone with them. "Oh well," he thought, "it's too late now. I'll just start a fire in the fireplace, put the things on the dining room table and maybe have a little time to read the newspaper to take my mind off ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ what I wasn't able to get for Suzie.

He went outside to the pile of wood by the garage, ~~and as he stopped~~ ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ ~~xxxxxxxxxxxx~~ It had started to snow and the ground was covered in a short time. "At least it will be a White Christmas," George thought to himself as he stooped to pick up an armload of wood. While doing so, he thought he saw something move out of the corner of his eye. "I must be seeing things," he thought. But as he picked up another piece of wood, he saw movement again, and this time he knew he was not imagining it. Quietly dropping the wood, he started to slowly walk across the Smith's lawn. As he neared the front door he saw that something had crawled under the ~~bush~~ bush nearest the door. As he approached very slowly, whatever it was cringed in fright. So he began to speak very softly, "It's all right, I won't hurt you." And as he stopped down he saw that it was a cat. The cat was exhausted he could tell because there was no attempt made to get away. As he reached down, the cat merely cringed further from his hand, but didn't resist as he gently put his hands on it and picked it up. He cradled the cat in his arms and carried him to the ~~xxxxxx~~ garage. "Fortunately, I had the presence of mind to open the door and come out that way," he muttered to himself and the cat. "Now I've got to get this cat warm and dry before the folks get back from church," he thought. He carried the cat into the garage and pulled the door down. He took some rags from the ragbox and began to dry the cat off. It was then that he began to take inventory of this stray animal. He knew the cat was completely exhausted because it made no attempt to get away from him and he knew this was strange indeed. Then he noticed that its paws were cut and sore and bleeding as though it had been walking over some rough roads. It was then that he saw the cat was ~~orange~~ an orange tiger striped animal and he asked, "Could this be Morris, Suzie's cat?" He continued to rub the animal down to dry him and he saw how dirty he was. "Maybe you need a good bath," he said to the cat, as he took him into the laundry and placed him in the laundry tub. But strangely he thought, the animal held perfectly still while he adjusted the water and began to give him a bath. When he was finished bathing him, he stood him on the drier and began to towel him dry. "What would my old cronies think now if they could see George tending to a stray cat," he thought. "Oh well, maybe this is Suzie's cat after all." He tried to put the cat by the fire to keep warm, but he walked over to the door going out into the garage. Each time George would bring him back to the living room the cat would walk over to that door. "Well, if you want to stay out in the garage, you can do that," he said to the cat. He went into the garage and found a cardboard box, placed some rags in it like a bed, and placed the cat in it. The cat immediately curled up and dropped off to sleep. "Just in case he gets hungry," George thought, "I'll get him a saucer of milk." This he did and closed the door and went back to his armchair to read. But he couldn't concentrate on his reading and so he simply waited until the folks got back from church.

In a short period of time he heard a car pull up in the Smith's driveway. He looked out the window and was surprised to see how much it had snowed since he had come back into the house.

As the folks came in his wife said, "George, you left the light on in the garage again." "I know," he said, "But there is a reason for it." And then he said, "Let's turn on some Christmas music, have a cookie or something and share Christmas Eve together."

After they had settled themselves into chairs in the living room, Mrs. Jones said, "Suzie, this is for you from us," and she handed her the box all wrapped up with a bow. Suzie took the box, thanked them and ~~then~~ tore off the paper and opened the box. She liked the doll and thanked Mr. & Mrs. Jones politely. But Mr. Jones knew that this Christmas for Suzie would not be the most happy one for her.

With a twinkle in his eye, and the fervent hope in his heart that he was right in what he thought had happened, he said, "Suzie, why don't you come out to the garage with me." At this, everyone was aware that Mr. Jones had a surprise out there. "But what could it be?" each of them was thinking. So together they all went to the door going out to the garage. Mr. Jones let Suzie lead the way and as they all stepped into the garage he said, "Look in that box in the corner Suzie." Suzie ran to the box, took one look, and gathered the cat in her arms, "Morris, you came home she exclaimed." All of them were excited and talking at once about how this cat had traveled 300 miles and came to the right house. They all questioned Mr. Jones for the details. But as he stood there looking at a little girl holding a scrawny, helpless animal close, his mind thought to what Christmas was all about. He thought how it must have been when two tired and weary, and exhausted people had come into that town of Bethlehem looking for a place to stay. And worse yet, the woman was ready to give birth. When they had finally settled into the stable in back of the inn, the labor pains began and the woman gave birth to a baby boy. And there she was, a young woman, holding a helpless baby in her arms. George then understood for the first time what Christmas was all about. He was able to be involved in "The Perfect Gift" for Suzie. And what a comparison. A little girl holding close to her a helpless animal, and a young woman holding a helpless baby. But George knew that only God could give "The Perfect Gift" which He did on that first Christmas and George bowed his head and thanked God for that gift.

Confession (In Unison) Father, as once again we come to the end of yet another year, we know that were it not for your love we could not now stand before you. We come to you for grace, and yet we have not been gracious to our brothers. In the world we have pur-will for man. Forgive us, O Lord, and help us to amend our ways in the year to come; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Scripture: Psalm 104:1-24

(Illustration of April following Christmas)

On the fifth day of April, my true love gave to me - five packs of seed, four bags of peaty three bags of fertilizer, two bottles of insect spray, and a pruning knife for the pear tree.

(Illustration of girl from charm school, and old friend of means)

A young woman met a wealthy girlfriend of hers that she had gone to school with. The girl asked Mrs. Means, what she had been doing since they had gotten out of school a few years ago. Mrs. Means answered that she had married the son of the President of Harvard. The young woman answered, "Fantastic." Mrs. Means went on, that her husband had been made vice-president of IBM. The woman answered, "Fantastic." Mrs. Means said that they had recently bought a large yacht which was docked at the yacht club in Boston. The young woman answered, "Fantastic." This went on for some time and every time Mrs. Means told of some large achievement, the young woman answered, "Fantastic." Finally, Mrs. Means said, "I notice that each time I have told you something, you have answered 'fantastic.' You don't seem to have much of a vocabulary. Just what have you been doing since we left school?" The woman answered, "I recently completed charm school and one thing they did was to correct one of my bad habits. I had the habit of using a certain phrase over and over and my instructors taught me to substitute a more suitable word." And Mrs. Means asked, "Is that why you use the word fantastic?" And the other woman answered, "yes, it is." Mrs. Means ~~asked~~ said, "I'm curious, what was the other phrase you would have used when I was telling you of my good fortune?" The other woman said, "Each time you ~~told me of your exploits~~ bragged about one of your wealthy exploits, I would have answered, 'Aw baloney.'"

All of this leads us to the fact that those who write for the public, or speak publicly, are admonished by the experts not to use superlatives too often. But in God's Word we find superlatives quite often. Just briefly we read in Isaiah, "God's pardon is abundant."; in Ephesians "His love passeth knowledge"; in Corinthians "His gift of salvation is 'unspeakable'"; and in John, "His life is more abundant," and those are only a few of many more. When man ponders the majesty and providence of God he has always been confronted with God's greatness. How do you explain it? Just when, "Was God AT His Best?" The writer of the 104th Psalm tries to explain the greatness of God by looking at His creation. Actually this Psalm is mostly looking at God and making the comparison of Genesis 1. It is there we read, (read Gen. 1:1-5). Then follows all of the magnificent things which God did in the creation of the world, the universe and all that is in it. The world for us is this wonderful land in which we live. We think of the United States of America stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific. We think of the rocky shores of Maine and the sunny land of California. Was God at His very best when He stretched out His hands and formed the mountains of our nation; and shaped the oceans to beat upon the Eastern and the Western shores; or when He caused the Grand Canyon to be scooped out of the earth, leaving a large breathtaking hole to marvel at; or when He placed the Great Lakes; or when He formed any of the other wonders of our nation? Was this when God was at His very best?

Me thinks not.

We read in God's Word how a group of people who started with Abraham gradually increased until there were too many of them according to the thinking of a nation called Egypt. We read how these people were persecuted and enslaved. We read ~~how they were~~ how means were applied to reduce their ranks by abortion. And then we read of how God raised up one man to lead these people from those dark days of slavery to a masterful triumph over this most powerful nation in the then known world. We read how God miraculously led those people out of that land of Egypt and opened the Red Sea for them to cross on dry land and how He destroyed the Egyptians as they sought to follow, and how this deliverance set these people on the path of independence and freedom. Was this when God was at His very best? Me thinks not.

Was God at His best when He called forth the second King of Israel to lead the people and to make them into ~~a mighty nation~~ the mightiest nation in the world? They defeated all of their enemies and had peace. Was God At His Best then? Me thinks not.

Was God at His best when the son of this mighty King David built one of the most beautiful structures for the worship of God in Jerusalem? Was God at His Best when for the first time there was a tangible place in which man could come and offer his sacrifices and receive the forgiveness of his sins? Me thinks not.

Was God At His Best when He told of what would take place down through the years? We read of the prophecies of Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Malachi, and are given the confident assurance that God would intervene in history to give man the means whereby he could once again have the relationship with God that he had lost in the Garden of Eden. Was God At His Best then? Me thinks not.

Or was God At His Best when for about 400 years He was silent and there was no further revelation coming from Him? Man had the opportunity to seek and search for answers and sort life out for himself. Was God At His Best then? Me thinks not.

Or was God at His Best when He broke His silence and imparted the words of the fulfillment of His prophecies to Zacharias, Elizabeth and Mary. We read how those prophecies were fulfilled in the coming of John the Baptists to lead the way for the Messiah Jesus Christ. We read how Jesus was miraculously born; how He began to minister and perform works of miracles among men; we read how He was hated by the religious leaders and we read how this engendered ~~their wrath~~ to the point that they put Him to death. We learn how this death was the sacrifice for all mankind making it possible for man to have the forgiveness of his sins. Was this when God Was At His Best? Me thinks not. We read how Jesus was buried and how on the third day He arose from the grave. Is This when God was At His Best? Me thinks not.

We read how Jesus appeared to the disciples after His resurrection and how He appeared to over 500 other people as well. From His resurrection we learn that man can not only be forgiven of all of his sins through Him, but can now ~~live~~ eternally with God because the power of death has been broken. Is this when God Was At His Best? Me thinks not.

We read how Jesus ascended to the Father in heaven and how one day He will return for His Church and following a time of tribulation and strife on this earth will return to reign as King of Peace for 1000 years. We read how at the end of that time He ~~will~~ with God will perform the final judgement of mankind and those who have rejected Him will be cast into the Lake of Fire to live separated from God eternally, and how those who have been believers in and followers of Jesus Christ will live and reign with Him forever. Is then when God was At His Best. Me thinks not.

Just when was God At His Best? Is there an answer? Yes there is. And I believe that God was ~~at His Best~~ at His greatest in all of these events which have brought us down to this present time and age and in which we live. But I don't think God was at His best in all of that. I believe that God Was At His Best when He revealed Himself to a young man of no consequence. How He showed that young man that although he had a wife and children, a job, and the necessary things of life, he had a deeper need. God showed that young man that his life was incomplete and that he needed a Saviour to make the relationship complete which he could have with God. I believe God Was At His Best when he so convicted that young man of this need, that the young man prostrated himself before God and claimed Jesus Christ as his Lord and Saviour. I believe that God was at His Best when He came into my life.

Can you say the same thing this morning. For each of you here, "When Was God At His Best?" Can you say in the past tense, "God was at His best when He came into my heart?" Or is that not yet a reality for you?

You can change that today. And you need to consider that seriously before we enter a New Year. Don't let another day go past without that knowledge. I invite you to accept Jesus Christ as your Saviour and Lord of your life, today. I invite you to come forward and make that commitment if you never have. We are told in Scripture that if we are ashamed to confess Jesus publicly He will not confess us before His Father. Don't let anything or anyone stop you from coming to Him. If His Holy Spirit is speaking to you this morning and you have never responded, make this the day that you answer His summons. Let this be the day when you can honestly say when God Was At His Best.

PERSONAL TESTIMONY

Ralph C. Link

I am the youngest of five children. I was born just prior to the onset of the Depression. Our family was very poor. My father was an alcoholic and my mother was a very religious person who was searching for the Lord. During my childhood she did her best to teach me the things of the Lord. Later in life she came to a personal relationship with Him.

I grew up in the Evangelical and Reformed Church where salvation by grace alone was not preached nor taught. I knew all about Jesus, what He did, how He lived, His miracles, His death and resurrection, but I didn't know Him personally.

My life had many ups and downs and all the while I was attending church and striving with my good works to please God. At a very low point in my life when we were deeply in debt and my wife and three children were all ill, I came to the crossroads. I watched a Billy Graham Crusade on television from some distant city and the message he preached seemed to be directed right at me. I wrestled with making that commitment to Christ, but didn't. The next afternoon and evening at work on the 4 to 12 shift I came to the conclusion that I needed to make that commitment to Christ. It seemed like there was no other choice if life was to have any meaning. That night when I came home from work at 1:00 A.M., I laid face down on the living room floor and told God that I couldn't live my life in my own strength and I accepted the gift of salvation from my Savior Jesus Christ. My life has never been the same.

Through several meaningful circumstances I was called by God to serve Him in the Christian Ministry and to help spread that wonderful message of salvation through the shed blood of Jesus Christ. What a wonderful and rewarding time it has been and I give Him all the praise for my salvation and the opportunity to serve Him.

STATEMENT OF FAITH

Ralph C. Link

I believe the Bible, both the Old and New Testaments to be the inspired inerrant Word of God. I believe the Bible is the complete revelation of His will for the salvation of men and it is the final authority for the Christian faith and life.

I believe in one God, who is eternally existent in three persons: Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

I believe in the Deity of the Lord Jesus Christ that He is true God and true man. I believe that He was born of the Virgin Mary, that He lived in sinless life, that He performed the miracles recorded in Scripture, that He died on the cross as a sacrifice for our sins, that He bodily arose from the dead, that He ascended on high where He is at the right hand of Almighty God as our intercessor.

I believe in the Holy Spirit and that He comes and indwells each believer at the time of conversion. I believe that He lives in each believer to lead, to instruct, and to convict so that a believer may live a more godly life.

I believe that through the shed blood of Jesus Christ and through His resurrection, this is the only ground for justification and salvation for all who receive Him. A Lord and Savior and to such as receive Him, they are born of the Holy Spirit and become children of God.

I believe water baptism and the Lord's Supper are ordinances of the Church but are not means of salvation.

I believe in the personal and premillennial and imminent coming of the Lord Jesus Christ.

I believe in the resurrection of the dead, for the believer to resurrection of life and joy with the Lord, for the unbeliever to resurrection of judgement and everlasting punishment.
